

Grubmier vs. Kay; King Kong Meets Van Schacht, Friday

A double main event will feature one of the final mat cards of the summer season at Peg's Grayslake Arena Friday night when King Kong, the famous bearded Abyssinian terror, returns to County mat wars to tackle Friedrich von Schacht, giant German champion, in a sensational return match, and Fred "Legs" Grubmier, great Iowa scissor king, matches grips with rowdy Rudy Kay, Chicago gas-house tough-guy.

King Kong and von Schacht are both gunning for a world title match in Chicago this fall and both have been trying to put Jim McMillen out of the running to get this chance at the champion. King Kong succeeded in holding the Antioch ace to an hour draw three weeks ago, while von Schacht was hoaxed out of a victory within his hands last Friday night against McMillen.

King Kong and von Schacht met at Grayslake two weeks ago and after one of the wildest matches on record the giant German kicked the King out of the ring and into submission disregarding all rules and regulations of the game. King Kong claimed a foul but his protests fell on deaf ears and Schacht was matched with McMillen. Now the King will get a chance for revenge against the big Teuton, and von Schacht will get a chance to boast himself into a position to demand a McMillen rematch.

Rough Rudy Kay and Freddy Grubmier wound up a thrilling scrap at Grayslake a month ago in an even thing, so by popular demand the promoters are rematching the pair as a part of the double main attraction Friday. Grubby specializes in his famous scissors to squeeze the opposition out of his rivals, while rough Rudy gains his wins with his bar-room-brawl style of wrestling. It should be a real test of science versus roughness.

The semi-windup pits lithe and handsome Bobby Bruns, blond heavy sensation in a thirty minute time limit bout against Jerry Meeker, Hawaiian star, and with a clean slate of wins for both men in an interesting contest can be expected.

The preliminary introduces the highly touted Brooklyn, N.Y. star George Becker, who will get his local test against Jack Conley, the Boston Slugger. A different referee will officiate this week. Tickets remain at 50c and $1 and ladies invited free in the ringside section. In the event of rain the bout will be held Saturday.

Deerfield Parochial School Opens Sept. 7

The Holy Cross Catholic school in Deerfield will begin its second year on Wednesday, September 7. The sisters will be at the school each Sunday morning until the opening of the sessions to register all the children and answer the parent's questions.

Last year there was an enrollment of fifty with three sisters as instructors. Special music lessons were given in the large living room of the J. C. Ender home, which is just north of the church property.

"Crime School" at Deerpath Theatre

Crime School, The Divorce of Lady X, The Toy Wife, and Gold Diggers in Paris coming to the Deerpath theatre next week.

Crime School— Sometimes amusing, sometimes tragic, always exciting, this Warner Brothers picture featuring the "Dead End" kids contains a powerful indictment of unthinkable, brutal, out-moded methods of dealing with juvenile crime, effectively utilizing the talents of the six boys, as well as such adult players as Humphrey Bogart and Gale Page, beautiful newcomer to the screen from radio. Playing Thursday and Friday at the Deerpath.

Merle Oberon, who in turn has donned the exotic and the tragic masks on the screen, drops both for comedy in The Divorce of Lady X, playing Saturday at the Deerpath. For the first time Merle will have a chance to laugh, to be gay and witty on the screen, after appearing in a series of pictures designed for tears. For the first time, too, she will be seen in color. Included in the cast are Laurence Olivier, Binnie Barnes, Ralph Richardson and Morton Selton.

Academy award winner Luise Rainer again proves her unequalled right to the title in a memorable picture of the Creole Aristocracy of Old New Orleans, The Toy Wife, which opens Sunday for a three day run. To her "Anna Held" and "O-Lan," the star now adds a third gem of characterization as "Froufrou" Brigard, frivolous and irresponsible younger daughter of a Louisiana French planter. And ranged right along side her in artistry are Melvyn Douglas as her husband, Robert Young as the romantic gambler with whom she elopes, and Barbara O'Neil as her older sister who sacrifices her own love for Douglas. Outstanding in a brilliant featured cast are H. B. Warner, Alma Kruger, Walter Kingsford and Leonard Penn.

Gold Diggers in Paris, the latest and most elaborate of the Warner Brothers musical, which is being presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, promises a new high in entertainment and brings back to the screen after a three years' absence, the one and only Rudy Vallee. Sharing the romantic and singing spotlight with Rudy is the luscious Rosemary Lane; doing the heavy dramatics is the brilliant Gloria Dickson, and contributing hilarious amusement is a group of star comedians which includes Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Mabel Todd, Melville Cooper, Ed Brophy, and the Schnickelfrits Band, a sensational crew of mad musicians.

Rounding Corners at High Speed Grinds Your Tires

No thinking motorist would deliberately take his tires and hold them against a whirling grindstone.

"Yet they do the exact equivalent when they round corners and sharp curves at high speed," Harold Treichel, head of the emergency road service department of the Chicago Motor club, pointed out today.

The tremendous friction caused by the tire whirling around over the concrete while in the process of turning heats the casing and causes a strain which may rupture any weakened parts, he explained.

The only difference between placing the tire against a grindstone and punishing it by turning at high speeds, is that the tire revolves and the pavement does the grinding.

"County Fair" at Allendale Farms As Opera Benefit

Discarding the top hats and formal attire usually connected with opera and its proceedings, North Shore sophisticates will don rustic clothes and a carnival attitude when they gather on the estate of John Denby Allen for a "County Fair." All for the benefit of the Chicago City Opera company, the crowd will assemble on Allendale farms, near Libertyville, Sunday afternoon, August 28, for a rousing good time under the direction of numerous LaSalle street stars.

A horse show under the management of Irving J. Florsheim will start the fun, and will be immediately followed by a cattle show, supervised, appropriately, by Thomas E. Wilson, the packing czar.

A carnival, which according to the invitations, will include "fun, foolishness and frivolity," with the customary side-shows and rides will be urged on by John F. Cuneo and Simms McGuire.

John Allen, himself, ordinarily president of the Brinks Express company, will be promoted for the day to the role of "Maitre D' Hotel" and will supervise the preparing and cooking of a grand barbecue and corn roast, complete with pink lemonade, coffee, iced tea, and the candy will be included on the menu.

Guests will be invited to "step right up and try their luck," at shell games and other novel contrivances, by Ralph Mills, president of the Mills Novelty company. John L. Kellogg, king of breakfast foods, and Louis E. McCauley, vice-president of Armour and company, will conduct a raffle and lottery, which will have as grand prize a season subscription to a Saturday night box at the opera.

Other valuable prizes will be raffled off, and the guests will have the assurance of the sponsors that there is a number on every ticket and a fair chance for everybody. Streamlined opera will be an added attraction to the full program. Arias and overtures will be directed by Jason F. Whitney, president of the Chicago City Opera company.

An archery contest, a croquet tournament, and a horseshoe throwing competition will engage attention, and many guests will attempt to win a "seegar" by ringing the bell in the strength testing machine. Among the games will be the old baseball hokum which gives you you three balls for a dime, and a chance at winning a cane with three good pitches at the darky's face.

John H. Hogan, vice-president of the Continental Illinois bank, has been appointed the "bouncer," and is in charge of the tickets. Invitations are being mailed to 3000 devotees of grand opera this week. Reservations may be sent to the Chicago City Opera company, 20 North Wacker drive.

Deerfield Woman Tells of Work of Association House

The Women's Association of the Deerfield Presbyterian church enjoyed an outing at "Association House" summer camp at Druce's Lake, Tuesday. A picnic dinner was followed by a tour through the grounds after which Miss Holt told the history of the camp.

The camp consists of a hostess house, dining room, swimming pool, craft house, nature house, hospital and dormitories and is under the capable direction of Mrs. Eleanor Eells.

Association House had its beginning in 1890 with Susan Paxon at its helm. It was her belief that a house should be created for individuals who were eager for culture and with that thought in mind many a less fortunate person was helped to develop his talents by this creation.

In 1916, the camp at Druce's Lake was started and is now financed by the Presbyterian church foundation Board and individual contribution. The object is to help a child meet the difficulties that an adult world thrusts upon it and to find a solution for the myriad problems that enter into it's life. A careful study of the home life of each child is made before it is taken to camp and a psychiatrist is called in to watch and assist the child.

Classes in art, sewing, gardening, swimming and manual training are taught.

As well as dramatics. In the dramatic group, the children write their own plays, coach it and make their own costumes.

Mr. M. O. Olson, the association president, has been most fortunate in engaging Mrs. Eells as a guest speaker for a fall meeting. The meeting will be one of the outstanding ones of the year as Mrs. Eells is a most interesting and charming person and who will bring a message of the great work "Association House" is doing.—(Contributed).
