Share Your Jellies and Jams with Less Fortunate Is Plea

At the August meeting of the Division chairmen for the Chicago Plant, Flower and Fruit guild, which was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph E. Callender in St. Charles, reports were made by each division chairman of contributions made by her clubs, of flowers, fruits, plants and jellies.

Among those present were Mrs. George Plamondon, president of the Garden Club of Illinois, and Mrs. Stanley D. Grace, division chairman for Lake Forest, Lake Bluff, Highland Park, Ravinia and Glencoe.

Every Tuesday is "Share Your Flowers Day." Those wishing to have their blossoms picked up, should phone to those in charge on Monday. Otherwise contributions must be at the Northwestern depots of either Ravinia or Highland Park before 8:45 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The guild chairmen for Highland Park and Ravinia are as follows: Mrs. C. W. Calkins, 1520; Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, 3173; Mrs. K. E. Phil C. Barber, Mrs. Lynn Lloyd, Wagner, 3113.

Glencoe guild chairmen: Mrs. Mrs. A. J. Massey.

Lake Forest guild chairman, Mrs. Edward Hasler.

Lake Bluff guild chairman, Mrs. W. M. C. Foster.

Some of the institutions served by this division are: Chicago Commons, Emerson House, Onward Neighborhood House, Northwestern University Settlement, Laird Community House, Visiting Nurse association, De Paul Settlement and Day Nursery, and St. Juliana Day Nursery.

An excerpt from two of the many unsolicited letters of thanks follows: Chicago Commons — "Each Tuesday, as the flowers are given out to the eager friends who come in for them, we wish that those thoughtful friends in the suburbs who share their beautiful gardens in this way, could see the eagerness with which the flowers are received, the delight and joy in the faces of our neighbors as they carry the flowers away. They would feel more than repaid for their trouble."

St. Juliana Day Nursery — "How can we possibly thank you for the gift of yesterday. Words fail us when we tell you that your gracious donations to us have been larger and lovelier than any other gifts we have ever received, you can then realize how indebted we are to you. Thank you again."

At the meeting of the division chairmen it was determined that the week ending September 24th would be jam and jelly week, which is the closing week of the season. All friends of the guild are urged to share with those less fortunate at least one glass of jam or jelly, to help brighten the lives of the underprivileged and under-nourished during the long winter months. Jellies should be taken to the station or asked to be called for in the same manner as the flowers on Monday or Tuesday September 19 and 20.

"White Banners" at Deerpath Theatre

"White Banners," "Woman Against Woman," "Cowboy from Brooklyn," and "Having a Wonderful Time" coming to the Deerpath theatre this week.

White Banners—the film version of the latest Lloyd C. Douglas novel—is scheduled to play Friday of this week at the Deerpath. Claude Rains, Fay Bainter, Kay Johnson, Bonita Granville and Jackie Cooper head the cast. In the picture, as in the novel, the dominant character is that of Hannah Parmalee, the toil worn peddler who comes into the household of Paul Ward, the small-town school teacher, at a troublous time and devotes herself unselfishly to the service of the Ward family. The part of Hannah is played by Fay Bainter, long famous on the stage but only recently a recruit to motion pictures. Claude Rains is Paul Ward, his wife is played by Kay Johnson. Other important roles are filled by Jackie Cooper, Bonita Granville, Henry O'Neill and James Stephenson.

Timely in its theme, entertaining in its presentation, refreshing in its adult characterization, Woman Against Woman, playing the Deerpath theatre Saturday and starring Herbert Marshall, Virginia Bruce and Mary Astor, offers both telling and amusing sidelights on the perennial divorce problem. Marshall turns in a convincing and appealing portrait of the husband in the picture of Margaret Culkin Bannings' story "Enemy Territory," dealing with a second wife who fights against public censure in her husband's home town. Miss Bruce and Miss Astor, who plays the unsympathetic first wife, present a vivid contrast in appearance and types of beauty, at the same time contributing compelling characterizations of exacting roles. Others in the cast include Janet Beecher, Marjorie Rambeau and Juanita Quigley.

Cowboy from Brooklyn, with Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien and Priscilla Lane in the leading roles will be presented Sunday and Monday. It's the story of hilarious adventures—and misadventures of a Brooklyn crooner who goes West in order to make good in the East. Blended with the amusing story are charming melodic interludes in which Powell, Miss Lane and several other members of the large cast sing the five new songs written for this production. Others in the cast include Dick Foran, Ann Sheridan, Johnnie Davis, and Ronald Reagan.

Heading a cast of more than fifty players, Ginger Rogers and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., enact the romantic team in Having a Wonderful Time, which will be presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at the Deerpath. The Broadway hit written by Arthur Kober, which won salvos of praise from critics and fans alike, retains in its film adaptation its original effects of comedy and sentiment, while characterization, dialogue and action are greatly enhanced by the elaborate scope of the camera. In addition to the two superb performances of the stars, there are more than fifty supporting roles played by such favorites as Peggy Conklin, Lucile Ball, Richard "Red" Skelton, Lee Bowman, Ann Miller, Donald Meek and many others.

Activities Under Way at Deerfield Grammar School

The first week of classes at the Deerfield Grammar School finds a wide and varied program being offered. Extra space in the building this year has made it possible to give the children special activities, which otherwise would not have been possible.

Several new books have been introduced in the school system this year, and it is planned that during the course of the year a wide range of experimental material will be offered. The Rugg Social Studies series is being used in the seventh and eighth grades for the first time. This series is considered the most up-to-date of any at this level, and is widely used in grammar schools all over the country. Along with the book, the teachers are developing a series of activities tended to build a thorough understanding of good government within the community and wider governmental groups. In this connection the older children in the school are making first steps toward setting up a student government which will give them an opportunity to practice the principles of good government within the limits of the school.

The assembly program for this year has been started and is being offered in two groups. One is for the older children in the school, and one for the younger. The school plans by this means to have assembly programs adapted to the age level and interests of the two groups. These programs will be sponsored by the various rooms and are being planned to a large extent by the children themselves.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are being offered a club program on several different afternoons of the week. The clubs are set up so as to meet the interests of the boys and girls at these grade levels and to give them a chance to work out those problems in which they are particularly interested. At present the following clubs have been set up: (1) a dramatic club, divided into two sections—stage, crafts and dramatics; (2) a hobby club, in which children will be given opportunities to work and develop their own hobbies; (3) an art club, in which children will be given the various art mediums with which to experiment and practice; a study period is offered another group at this time so that they may use their time on further study on class work. The school hopes during the next few weeks to broaden its club program somewhat.
