Park Ridge School for Girls to Benefit by Lecture Course

The series of lectures by Mrs. Brazelton which will shortly begin at the Y.W.C.A. is for a worthy cause indeed. "The Park Ridge School for Girls" is not sufficiently endowed to carry on its fine work. It is being run on the very minimum and has cut its expenditures so closely it is in danger of losing its fine standards. It needs $40 a month for maintenance and education of each girl.

Some of these expenses are paid by individuals and some by the state. The school stands to pay half for each girl that is sent by the courts. It will take dependent girls from any county and give them an education equal to that of any public high school. A graduate is qualified to enter the state university, and while living there has had a home life with a background of care and culture.

How much better to send these dependent girls to such a home before they become delinquent.

To those who can and will carry on the work of the school, there is both the satisfaction from money well expended and that happiness which comes from the gratitude of those who cannot help themselves.

So the committee which is now conducting a campaign of selling tickets feels that those who subscribe to the course will not only be hearing an unusually full series of lectures of vital current events, but will also be supporting a charity that merits our interest and support.

Of all the purposes to which money may be put, none should be more appealing to men and women of means than the needs of young girls, helpless and often friendless.

Almost without exception, girls leaving the school are capable of making their own way. Members of the Alumnae Association return from time to time with the same feeling that more fortunate girls return to their own homes. There is nothing of which the school is more proud than the fine record of its graduates. A record of human achievement. Your contribution and support is an investment in the ideals of American girlhood and womanhood.

Board of Women Voters League Plans for Years Program

Plans for a year of hard work were enthusiastically discussed at the first board meeting of the Highland Park League of Women Voters held at the home of its president, Mrs. Sigurd Johnson, 699 Yale lane, on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Philip Ringer, program chairman, announced tentative plans for programs during the year and a novel feature which will open each meeting and which is designed to acquaint members with the work of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Ringer announced that Mrs. Clifton Utley, state chairman of the department of government and international relations and wife of the director of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, will be the speaker for the opening meeting October 17. Mr. and Mrs. Utley have spent the summer in Europe interviewing key people in control in Europe and making their own observations of conditions in troubled areas. Mrs. Utley is an informal and delightful speaker and the Highland Park League feels fortunate in being able to secure her so soon after her arrival home and knows that she will have an exciting story to tell.

Plans were also discussed for forming study groups in the six departments of the League's work and for participating in a non-partisan way in the November election.

Mrs. Johnson announced the appointment of two new members of the Board since spring. Mrs. Frank Venning is chairman of the Department of Government and the Legal Status of Women and Mrs. I. M. Greenberg is chairman of the Committee on Communications. The latter office has been newly created to facilitate the sending of letters to state and national representatives and senators.

Old Age Insurance Claim Payments Pass 200,000 Mark

With its procedure for handling old-age insurance claims now fully developed, the Social Security Board announced today that it has authorized more than 200,000 single cash payments to wage earners who have reached age 65 and to the heirs or estates of those who have died.

Illinois Is Fourth Heading the list of states, New York, 23,634; Pennsylvania, 22,148; Ohio, 14,201; Illinois, 13,452 certified claims.

According to Albert S. Lewis, manager, Social Security Board field office in Waukegan, more than 300 lump-sum claims have been handled for residents of Lake and McHenry counties.

Lewis stressed the importance of temporary as well as regularly employed persons to be sure and furnish their social security numbers to their employers, to enable the employers to complete tax forms properly.

Every employer of one or more who is engaged in commerce or industry is required by the Social Security Act to pay taxes under the old-age insurance plan. This tax consists of one per cent of the covered wages of workers and a contribution of a like amount from the wages of those who are employed.

When a person buys out or takes over the business of another, the new owner must have his own security identification number and is not permitted to continue to use the old number. Contributions and taxes under this plan, for the current quarter, are due not later than the last day of October and are payable to the United States Collector of Internal Revenue, at Chicago.

Employers, employees and claimants for lump-sum benefits located in Lake and McHenry Counties may obtain the necessary forms, information and assistance free of charge from our field office located in the Post Office building in Waukegan, Mr. Lewis asserted.
