

Theatre Guild Opens Chicago Season Nov. 7 With "Dame Nature"

The Theatre guild will inaugurate its Chicago season on Monday evening (Nov. 7) at the Erlanger theatre with André Birabeau's comedy, "Dame Nature," which has been adapted from the French by Patricia Collinge. Worthington Miner has directed the play and the settings have been designed by Norris Houghton.

Freedom from inhibited thinking about adolescence, tolerance, and good nature are the distinguishing characteristics of this fresh, Gallic comedy which offers novelty in situation and characters that are new to the theatre. Leonie Perrot, a motherless girl of fifteen, who has been conducting a little stationery store near a boys school, learns that she is to have a child. The worthy doctor is surprised and indignant. He would like to see the man responsible for her condition. A family man, thinks the doctor. To his astonishment, Leonie introduces Andre, also a neglected youth, whose vain mother has kept him in short pants to conceal her own age. Andre when told the news out-surprises the surprised doctor and his joy is inexpressible. Other boys at the school now and then boast of a mistress, but not one of them is a father! Soon, however, the cares of fatherhood overwhelm him. Fearing that his parents may make him board at the school, in which case he would rarely see his little wife, he must keep his parenthood a secret. But his mother eventually learns about the situation and at first thinks her husband is the culprit. Eventually both parents discover the truth and they both realize that in spite of their maturity and cautiousness they have failed lamentably as parents and, at the conclusion, they leave Leonie and Andre in a tolerant mood, which augurs well for the young parents.

The cast of "Dame Nature" includes Jessie Royce Landis, Onslow Stevens, Lois Hall, Montgomery Cliff, Morgan James, Kathryn Grill, Forrest Orr, Harry Irvine, Eric Roberts, Hale Norcross, Charles Bellin, Frederick Bradlee, John M. O'Connor, Edwin Cooper, Grace Mathews, Lauren Gilbert and several others. It is coming to Chicago direct from the Booth theatre in New York City.

A local justice announced that he would hear only one side of a certain case.

"If I listen to both of you," he asked, "how can I make a decision?"

H. P. High School Splits Wins With New Trier High

Johnnie Heath's 50 yard run for a touchdown in the first quarter of the Homecoming game here Saturday with New Trier thrilled the largest high school football crowd in Highland Park's history but the downshore aggregation finally won 13-7. Over 2,000 people watched Highland Park lead New Trier till late in the third quarter when lack of reserve power began to tell on the locals and Dewey, New Trier fullback, smashed over for a touchdown and tied the score with a line drive. Miller scored again late in the game to win for New Trier.

Twelve regulars played their last game for Highland Park. Bill Bangs, John Boone, Chas. Dean, Clyde Dorr, Al Frost, John Hoie, Bill Jones, Neil & Bill Lorimer, Bill Peters, Larry Wygal, and Captain Gene Juhrend will graduate in June. Frost and Peters watched most of the game from the sidelines because of injuries.

Chuck Lauer, formerly a New Trier student, watched his Fresh-soph team outplay the New Trier underclassmen. A classy passing and running attack paced by Flint, Detmer, Menduno, Zook, Bracken, and Picchietti won for Highland Park 12-0. The last two scored the touchdowns.

Invite Residents To Visit Deerfield School Nov. 6-12

To the Residents of District No. 109: The week of November 6 to 12 will be observed all over the nation as American Education Week. It is during this week that we all try to evaluate our schools.

America has a school system that is unique in the world. As our schools have expanded, as we have come to have more responsibilities, we have none the less retained the control of schools in the hands of the communities. Today, as in the beginning, the schools of any village, city, or town may be said to mirror the wishes of the citizens.

Each year our schools find themselves faced with graver responsibilities. Not only must we teach the children the skills, but we must also create an environment that will help them build the kind of characters that present-day life demands.

Schools are changing. The changes come as the problems of life, which the child must understand, become more complex. When schools change, it is to some new development that has been tried and tested. Our teachers are constantly striving to improve in skill and understanding of your children.

Cooperation between schools and parents is an ever more important factor in the success of education. Every agency in our community plays its important part in Education is not limited to the molding the characters of our boys and girls. Thus it is vital that there be close cooperation between the home, the school, and the community.

We want you to feel free to ask questions and evaluate the work that your school is doing. We want you to visit us and talk over with us our common problem of education.

Sincerely,
Board of Education,
District No. 109, by
LESTER B. BALL,
Supt. Deerfield School.
