Big Sporting Event To Be Held Dec. 6 At Waukegan High

A gigantic professional wrestling program, studded with championships and near champions of national prominence, and topped by a double main event is the attraction that is expected to fill the beautiful Waukegan high school gymnasium to capacity Tuesday night, Dec. 6, when the City Club of Waukegan presents what threatens to be the biggest local sporting event of the winter season.

Headlining the card are two matches of real significance. Ralph "Ruffy" Silverstein, generally acclaimed as the uncrowned champion of the world will risk his Illinois state heavyweight championship, in a match with the giant German sensation, Friedrich von Schacht, in one of the twin features, while "Big" Jim McMillen, high ranking world title contender, tries to stop the new Mexican heavyweight champion, Ignascio Martinez, 245 pound strongman, in the other feature.

Von Schacht, who stands 6 feet 6 inches in height and tips the scale at something over 250 pounds, is one of the biggest and strongest of present day heavyweights, and holds the distinction of being the only man in the sport ever to hold Ruffy Silverstein to a draw. Since their draw match the pair met again at the University of Illinois in a charity program and little Ruffy caught the towering Teuton unawares and broke his arm in a crash to the canvas. Since that time Schacht has come out of his four month forced retirement and hot in pursuit of another match with Ruffy to get even for the broken arm. He will get that chance Tuesday.

The McMillen-Martinez go should be a real natural for this pair has met before in one of the hottest bouts on the records but the outcome was so undecided that they have been rematched at Waukegan.

The semi-windup introduces the latest wrestling sensation, Bert Rubi, who will do battle with the Chicago gas-house kid, rough Rudy Kay. Kay is well known in these parts as the man who held McMillen to a couple of draws and should give Rubi a tough time. The other match on the card features the return of the Joe Louis of wrestling, Jack Claybourn, the Black Panther of the Northwest. Claybourn too was a heavy favorite out at the lake arenas several seasons ago, and he is being brought in to tame tough-guy Jack Conley, the Boston Sluggo.

Tickets at 60c and $1.10 are still on sale at Curlee's Drug store in Waukegan and the Waukegan Y. W. C. A.

Esther Ludwig Lauds N.B.C. Job After Ten Years Service

November 15, 1928, was a momentous day for Miss Esther Ludwig, 708 West Central avenue, in more ways than one. Not only was it her birthday, but it also was the day she was engaged as secretary in the Program department of the National Broadcasting company, which only a year before had opened offices in Chicago. She has worked in the Program department ever since, and her present job is seeing that continuities are at the right place at the right time.

Miss Ludwig, being interested in dramatic work, tried for a script show, Keystone Chronicle, in 1929 and got the part of the ingenue in the serial drama. She was a big success and played the part for a year and a half until the show went off the air. Though she has given up radio acting she is still continuing her vocal studies which began when she was still in high school. She was one of the outstanding participants in the Tenth Anniversary Chicago Talent show.

Miss Ludwig's favorite sport is golf, at which she excels—in fact, she won the low gross prize at the recent NBC outing. Asked what she would do given the chance to back ten years and start all over again, Miss Ludwig replied, "I'd try to get a job at NBC if I could, as the ten years I have worked here have been interesting, exciting and happy ones."

Directional Signs To Aid Emergency Cases To Hospital

Erection of directional signs is contemplated by the Highland Park Hospital Foundation board of managers to assist emergency cases in reaching the Highland Park hospital without the dangerous delays which strangers not infrequently experience in finding the institution.

It is proposed that signs be located at the intersection of Skokie boulevard and Deerfield road, at Green Bay road and Central avenue, Green Bay road and Homewood avenue, and Green Bay road at Glenview avenue.

To save the time of motorists who transport emergency cases it has been suggested that all signs on Green Bay road should designate the emergency entrance of the hospital as being on Glenview avenue. To often patients must be carried a half block from the parking space at the visitors entrance on Homewood because of unfamiliarity with the hospital in general and the location of the emergency entrance in particular.

Thus far in 1938 upwards of 350 emergency cases have been treated at the Highland Park hospital. In addition, 1,414 men, women, and children have comprised the admitted cases.

H. Earl Hoover, Glencoe, vice president of the Highland Park Hospital Foundation, recently pointed out that of the admitted cases 788 were not residents of Highland Park. "The use of the hospital is most general," he observed. "Just how general can best be illustrated by the geographical records maintained by Miss Marjorie Ibsen, the hospital superintendent. For instance, during the last fiscal year, patients from 59 communities were hospitalized here. There were 626 from Highland Park; 188 from Highwood; 141 from Glencoe; 139 from Deerfield, and 57 from Chicago. From Winnetka and Hubbard Woods came 43 patients, and 30 each from Lake Forest and Northbrook. Wheeling ranks next with 15 and Prairie View 13. 11 patients came from Kenilworth, Evanston and Waukegan and Lake Bluff each provided 8 patients while 6 cases, each, were from Arlington Heights, Glenview, and Oak Park, while from Morton Grove, Nile Center, Des Plaines, and Libertyville came 4 each. New York City, Green Bay and Milwaukee, Wisconsin provided two patients each, while Phoenix, Arizona, Scarsdale, New York, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Shaker Heights, Ohio, are other cities from which patients have been admitted this year.

According to reports received by Mr. Kennedy, other southern hotel operators are also predicting an excellent winter season. This is indicated by the steady volume of requests for early reservations. Adv.
