The blaze started in the basement, burning through the floor joists and causing considerable damage. The Smiths live in the former William Steffes house on Osterman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Anderson were hosts at dinner on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Savage of Exeland, Wis.

IRA GARDNER DIES; BURIAL IN DEERFIELD
Ira Gardner passed away on Thursday, December 1, at his home on Deerfield road, Deerfield, following an illness since 1932. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church and burial was in the Deerfield cemetery with Dr. W. F. Weir officiating. Mr. Gardner was born February 6, 1875, in Summerville, Mo., where he lived until he was seventeen years of age. He attended Carbondale Normal school in Illinois and after a short time in Chicago returned to a farm in Missouri. He was married on Feb. 24, 1912, to Miss Katherine Hole of Deerfield and had lived here since that time. He was rural mail carrier in 1917 and later was assistant cashier in the Deerfield State Bank, leaving there in 1935.

He is survived by his widow, four brothers and one sister, and a foster son, David Easton Gardner, a nephew of his wife's whom they have reared since infancy and who now is 19 years of age and is a student at Elmhurst college.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Dwight Merrell, James Grant Russell, Lloyd Vinyard, Theodore J. Knaak, Mr. Owens and Andrew Decker.

"In Old Chicago" at Deerpath Theatre

"In Old Chicago." The Great American motion picture! The spectacular drama of the booming, brawling, wide-open Chicago that vanished forever in the great fire... and the story of its people... typical Americans like the O'Learys, whose lives and loves, heartbreak and happiness, struggles and triumphs meant the making of a great nation! Heading the star-scintillating cast are Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche which also includes Alice Brady, Andy Devine, Brian Donlevy, Phyllis Brooks, Tom Brown and Sidney Blackmer. Playing at the Deerpath Friday and Saturday.

"Valley of the Giants," produced in beautiful technicolor, with Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor heading a brilliant cast is scheduled to play Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Deerpath. Based upon the famous Peter B. Kyne novel of the same name, the picture tells a story typical of the valiant fight waged some 30-odd years ago to prevent the utter despoliation of California's noted redwood forests by ruthlessly selfish lumber interests. Supporting the two stars is one of the most notable casts ever assembled for such production, including Charles Bickford, Frank McHugh, Alan Hale, Jack LaRue, Donald Crisp, John Littel and Dick Purcell.

Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Rosalind Russell and Patric Knowles share starring honors in the new Warner Brothers comedy, "Four's a Crowd," which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Deerpath theatre. The four persons with whose fortune it is mainly concerned are: A bright and fascinating newspaperman, played by Errol Flynn; a spoiled but charming heiress, played by Olivia de Havilland; a clever smoothie of a girl reporter, played by Rosalind Russell; and a rich playboy, played by Patric Knowles, who inherits a newspaper. The supporting cast includes Walter Connolly, Hugh Herbert, Melville Cooper and Herman Bing.

Another Delightful Program Given At Great Lakes Hospital

As has been their custom for some time, Mrs. Erastus R. Phelps and Mrs. Richard Mansell sponsored a delightful program last Friday afternoon for patients at Great Lakes hospital. Mrs. Lyle Hawley and her Musart Chorus, and Stewart Smith, young accordionist, visited the hospital and gave one of the most delightful musical entertainments heard in many a day. Beautifully rendered were several old time favorites. The Musart Chorus program included the following numbers: "On the Road to Mandalay," "The Big Brown Bear," "Philosophy," "The Italian Street Song," and "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." It was interesting to note that all during this program and especially during the rendition of the final number the men showed a marked interest even to the extent of joining in the singing.

In a very informal manner, which delighted the men and caused them to crowd closely around the musician, Stewart Smith delightfully played "A Bicycle Built for Two," "Sidewalks of New York," "The Merry Widow Waltz" and several other numbers.

It is indeed a rare privilege to see the real pleasure that is gained by these informal entertainers. It brings so much happiness to these unfortunate victims of the World War, and helps to brighten this monotonous grind, caused by a "living death."

"Y" Clubs Combine for Annual Xmas Party, December 15

The annual Christmas party celebrated by the Friendship club, Y's, Pi Delta's and the Emanon League will be held at the YWCA on Thursday evening, December 15. There will be a buffet supper at 6:30 and games during the evening. An invitation has been extended to Mr. S. Claus to make use of the chimney.

A special committee representative of all the clubs has planned a nice dinner, and they hope all members will remember to make reservations by Tuesday night.

Benefit Program For Chicago Opera To Be Held Dec. 11

A gala benefit performance to help the Chicago City Opera company maintain its prestige and assure continuance, will be held Sunday evening, Dec. 11, at 8:30 p.m. in the Civic Opera House. Andre Burdino, George Czapliski, Elen Dossia, Jean Pardulli, Annunziata Garrotto,

Helen Jepson, Margery Mayer, James Melton, Constance Merrell, Carol Morelli, Hilde Peggiani, Armand Tokatyian, Eva Turner and Virginia Wallace. "The Dance of the Hours" from La Gioconda will be presented by the Littlefield Ballet.

The Chicago City Opera is not receiving the patronage it should and is not accepted with as great enthusiasm as has been shown in other cities throughout the country. In order to prevent a deficit and the possible loss of opera to Chicago, this benefit performance has been planned. The patronage of North Shore citizens is solicited.

I CAN'T BE EVERYWHERE AT ONCE!

BUT YOU CAN BE MANY PLACES . . . IN A FEW MINUTES . . . BY TELEPHONE!

WHEN your itinerary jams, you can catch up—without sacrificing a single contact—by making telephone visits. A morning—or an hour—will swing you half-way around your territory, take you personally into a dozen offices (without afternoon waits, without travel time-out). A telephone call gives you credit for a visit—and extra time for several others. Planned telephoning should be a regular part of every business day. It costs little, produces much, saves time and money.
