WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN by Raymond Pitcairn

Again the American people celebrate this February, the anniversaries of our two greatest Presidents.
 Again we refresh the national spirit of freedom, unity and patriotism by honoring the memory of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

For these are the men whose lives did most to create and preserve our Nation. These are the men who gave lasting reality to the conviction that all men are created equal and that government of the people, by the people and for the people should not perish from the earth.
 These are the men who could thrust aside offers of longer terms or greater power in their determination that democracy should endure; who could live as well as speak the noble ideal of government administered "with malice toward none; with charity for all."

These are the men who urged: "To the support of the Constitution let every American pledge his life, his property and his sacred honor," and insisted: "Let there be no change by usurpation."

These are men to whom strength was a commitment to straightforwardness; to whom patriotism transcended both party and ambition; whose demand was "a standard to which the wise and honest can repair."

These are men who believed that the preservation of liberty and the destiny of our government should be "entrusted to the hands of the American people, and who could fling the challenges "Is there any better or equal hope in the world?"

America at this time can welcome a re-baptism in the clear springs of patriotic memory that rise from these two anniversaries. Our objective, as a people, has not changed with the years. It is still to preserve individual liberty, to strengthen national unity, to reject all attempts that would array group against group, and to work, instead, in effective concord, for the greater happiness and increased well-being of our Nation and all her people.

And by the steps and the spirit with which our leaders, as well as our people, approach that objective, may be judged the sincerity of the tribute offered our two Great National Heroes.

Deerfield Township Board Members Enter Race For Re-election

Supervisor William W. Steele and two assistant supervisors will be candidates to succeed themselves in Deerfield Township in the April 4 township election.

According to Clerk Albert Larson, Steele and Assistant Supervisor Emmet Moroney and William Witten are the only candidates to have filed their nomination petitions thus far. The three incumbents, all of whom have just rounded out their first four-year term, compose "Citizen's Ticket," and will appear on the ballot under that designation.

Terms of the supervisor and the two assistant supervisors are the only Deerfield township positions to be filed in the April election.

Other candidates for those three positions are expected to file their nomination petition during the present period, which ends February 28.

N.U. Football Coach To Speak Feb. 17 At Father-Son Dinner

The Men's Club of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church announces the appearance of Lynn Waldorf as their guest speaker Friday night, February 17. This is the annual dinner of the club when boys are invited to attend as guests of their fathers, and it is always a big night for both.

This should be particularly so this time, in view of the prominence of Mr. Waldorf, one of the country's most outstanding football coaches, whose remarks on the game of football, its heroes, etc., will thrill father and son alike.

One boy in attendance that night will be particularly fortunate. He will draw a lucky number from a hat and when he does he will receive a brand new regulation college size football autographed by members of the Northwestern University 1938 football team.

Dinner is at 6:30 p. m. Please send or phone reservations promptly to the church office.
