ROBBIE LOU SCHNEIDER IN A CAPELLA CHOIR

Robbie Lou Schneider, 990 N. Green Bay road, Highland Park, was among the 67 students at Northwestern university who have been accepted as members of the university's A. Cappella choir, an organization with a national reputation for its rendition of unaccompanied music both classical and modern.

The choir will sing with the Chicago Symphony orchestra on its first Lenten program, February 23 and 24, performing the Vaughan Williams "Mass in G Minor" and a setting by Dr. Albert Noels, head of Northwestern's musical theory department, of the "Night Song" from Friedrich Nietzsche's "Thus Spake Zarathustra."

At the annual Northwestern University Music Festival in May the choir will again join with the Chicago Symphony in a performance of the chorales from the "St. Matthew Passion" of Johann Sebastian Bach. The group is directed by Max Krone. Miss Schneider, a graduate of Highland Park high school, and a former student at Wellesley college, is enrolled in Northwestern university's graduate school.

SHEAHAN-LOESCH WEDDING SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sheahan of N. Greenbay road announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Eileen, to Theodore James Loesch, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Loesch of Glencoe avenue, which will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Patrick's church in West Lake Forest. Father Daley will read the ceremony. Miss Genevieve Sheahan, sister of the bride, will act as maid of honor and her other two sisters, Margaret and Jane, will be bridesmaids. Charles Sheahan will serve the groom as best man and John and Edward Dugan of Lake Forest, cousins of Mr. Loesch, will be ushers.

A reception will be held at the Sheahan home, 164 N. Greenbay road, in the evening. After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Loesch will make their home in the Udell building.

GUESTS OF MARK FISHER

Kenneth Niebuhr and Norman Freberg of Highland Park were the dinner guests at the Royal Follies Sunday evening, January 22, with one of Chicago's famous band leaders, Mark Fisher.

Those also at the dinner were the three Reis brothers, who have just come back from a two year stay in Europe, and Carl Jacob, first trumpet player, and happy Edward Poland, first saxophone player, two of Mark Fisher's play boys for years.

Kenneth Niebuhr is a personal friend of Mark Fisher and his band; for which he has known on different visits during years of friendship.

The voyage over was a very eventful one according to the local business man, for the storms at sea were terrific ones and the Queen Mary was forced into dry dock at the completion of the trip.

Mr. Bruce returned home on the Corinthia, but the voyage was worse than the one going over, with terrible gales and high seas. He landed in Boston on Friday and arrived in Chicago Sunday night. Dan is not only glad to be back in America, but is happy he is an American.

During the month of February Kenneth Niebuhr and Norman Freberg will be the guests of Mark Fisher and his family at their Round Lake home for another dinner engagement, where they will go ice boating. With them will be Mark Fisher's full band.

Anthony Armour, slide trombone player, and Roy Peaches, trumpet player, are no longer with the Mark Fisher band, but were guests at the dinner Jan. 22.

TO ATTEND COUNCIL JUNIOR WEEK

An air of gaiety will pervade the campus of Cornell university from February 9 to 12 with students and their guests celebrating the traditional three-day period between terms known as Junior Week, the social highlight of the winter season, acknowledged as one of America's foremost college functions.

A dance will be given by the Bellarmine Club tonight (Thursday) at the Oak Terrace school. Joe Fin-cutter's orchestra will furnish the music.

WAGNER-KLEIN WEDDING SATURDAY

At a small wedding Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Betty Wagner will be united in marriage to T. Henry Klein, Jr., at the St. James chapel in Highwood. Father Ward will read the nuptials, Miss Wagner's sister (Kathryn), Mrs. Hamilton Kunath, and Mr. Klein's brother, Robert, will be their only attendants. A reception will be held immediately following the ceremony at the bride's home, 621 Onwentsia avenue. After a month's honeymoon in Miami, Florida, the young couple will make their home on the near north side of Chicago.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Wagner and the late Frank Wagner of Onwentsia avenue, and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Henry Klein of Chicago.

KELLY-SCHWALBACH NUPTIALS

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelly of Omaha, Neb., announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Anne, to Donald James Schwalbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schwalbach of Central avenue. The wedding took place Monday morning at 9:30 with Rev. J. D. Ward reading the ceremony. The young couple's only attendants were Angelo Notagiacomo of Highwood and Josephine Kelly, sister of the bride, from Omaha. The groom's parents entertained at a wedding breakfast at their home at 600 Central avenue. The newlyweds have taken an apartment at 323 Vine avenue.

Among the students at home from college the past week, between semesters included: Mary Lu Sanborn and Dick Knobloch, from the University of Wisconsin, Sue Coale from the University of Illinois, and Patricia Reading from Clarke college.

Melvin "Bud" Moon and Joe Ugolini flew to Miami Beach, Florida, on Monday in Joe's airplane, for a month's vacation. Both young men are employed at the Highland Park post office.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Maiman of S. Central street are the proud parents of a son, Thomas Joseph Maiman, born Friday, February 3, at the Highland Park hospital.

Miss Rosemarie Kaumanns of Chicago spent the week end with Miss Phyllis Udell.

Miss Frances Wilson of Gary, Ind., was the week end guest of Miss Phyllis Durbahn.

Mrs. Frank Austin returned on Wednesday from New York where she visited her sister, Mrs. Charles Bergner, in Calicoon and her sister-in-law, Miss Nellie Austin, in Olean.

To Abraham Lincoln

Again we bare our heads and bow to thee;
We sing an anthem to thy life;
For thou hast kept our nation as a whole
Tho' torn with fearful, warring strife.
No longer do we pause to cast the blame
On those who wore the blue or gray;
We only know that through the four long years
You sought to find a brighter day.

Oh Lincoln, let a song be ever sung,
For thou shalt live in hearts of men.
Let bards and poets sing thy constant praise,
And let each author dip hi pen
And write to thee a glowing epitaph—
In praise of all that thou hast done.
You who have fought the fight of common folks
Deserve the praise of evry one.

Oh, noble soul, whose spirit never dies—
You, President of joy and mirth,
Who made your dimples but to catch your tears,
And yet of humor had no dearth;
A song is buried deep within my soul,
And 'tis a song that I would never sing—
About the glory of thy life and thy death
And happiness your splendid act did bring.

—Franklin Lee Stevenson.
