TO HER every call is important is important A Chicago woman had to make an emergency call to a friend in another town. She could not give the telephone operator the number or the exact address, yet in a very few minutes she was talking with her friend! "The operator did not know the urgency of the call because I did not tell her," she wrote later. "So the thing that has impressed me was the fact that to her, every call is important. She was most courteous and patient through it all." More than six million calls a day are made over Illinois Bell telephones; and every call is important to the men and women of your telephone company. They have a sincere desire to give you service that is courteous, dependable, and cheap in price... not just once in a while, but day after day and year after year, whenever you call. That is one of the reasons why, of all the things and services you buy, few mean so much or cost so little as your telephone. ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
