

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO
by GEORGE RECTOR

Among the inevitable incidents of life, death and taxes may loom large, but to the housewife, the use of left-overs is equally inescapable. You might be surprised to learn that even the smartest of restaurants have to meet and conquer the same problem. Today therefore, I am giving you a menu, most of whose cast are staging a "return engagement" at the family dinner table.

Splendid Program Given Sunday by H. S. Orchestra

An enthusiastic audience greeted the High School orchestra last Sunday afternoon, when it rendered three attractive numbers in a readily professional manner, under the dynamic leadership of its Director, Helen Mayer Mannings. The guest harpist, Mary Ann MacFadden, helped greatly to enhance the beauty of the performance.

In the second part of the program, James Krohn and Morton Raff did excellent work on their violins, Louise Lyman on the viola and Audrey Lyndie on the flute played attractively, Arthur Dubin at the piano played very artistically, the High School Quintet played charmingly, while Gloria Linari, an attractive young miss, with a glorious soprano voice, aroused much enthusiasm by her beautiful singing. Mrs. Sincere, Marion Sanford and Andy Jacobs were splendid accompanists on this thoroughly delightful program.

The second of the Spring concerts of the High School Music Department will take place Friday evening, May 12th, at the school at 8:15 in the evening. Under the

POSITIVELY LAST APPEARANCE

Even the successful career of one of those incredibly toothsome Wilson's Tender Made Hams must come to an end sometime and I know of no better way of staging a last appearance than in golden brown croquettes, combined with cold lamb or chicken if you have them on hand. Here is a suggested menu:

Menu

- HAM CROQUETTES
- POTATOES AU GRATIN
- NEW PEAS
- TOMATO ASPIC SALAD
- MIXED FRUIT CUP
- WAFERS

Ham Croquettes

Chop fine 1 cup of ham cut from the shank of a Certified Tender Made Ham. Combine with 1 cup cold lamb or chicken, also chopped fine. Season with salt, cayenne, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon minced onion and 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley. Bind together with 1 cup thick white sauce and shape into croquettes. Dip in dried bread crumbs, then in beaten egg and again in crumbs.

Deep fat fry in Wilson's New Certified Pure Lard heated to 365° F. or until a one-inch cube of day-old bread will brown in just 50 seconds. (Quick, Watson, the stop-watch!)

DEEP FAT FRYING

With Wilson's Certified Pure Lard

Even if you are not familiar with deep fat frying, you can approach it boldly when using this new Certified Pure Lard. (It's digestible and nutritive.) Put about 2 pounds of it in a 3-quart kettle, allowing plenty of space for its cheerful bubbling. If kept under refrigeration good lard can be used over and over again, with no absorption of food flavors.

To conclude our menu, potatoes left from the day before will do well for the potatoes au gratin. For the dessert, combine any canned fruits that may be opened, such as peaches, peaches or cherries, with fresh fruits such as oranges, bananas and apples. Serve chilled.

BRING HOME THE BACON!

In olden times, on Fair day, a man would climb a greased pole in order to "bring home the bacon" placed on top of it. Today, he would simply send his wife to the nearest dealer for Wilson's Certified Bacon. For breakfast, in entrees, sandwiches or appetizers it is simply delicious—try it!

WILSON & CO.

Chorus will render beautiful music, while Daniel Cobb, Jr., a young baritone, whose powerful voice, maturity of rendition, dramatic capability, and poise of manner, have already made him a musical favorite in local circles, will sing some solos. The entire program will be published in subsequent issues of this paper, but this early announcement is given so that interested members of the community can save the evening for a most delightful entertainment. There is a small charge to provide money for the Music Fund, and the same tickets which were used for admission to the orchestra concert will admit the bearers to the concert on the twelfth of May.
