Tavern Companions Accept Hospitality, Then Rob Their Host

Joseph E. Sowerwine, 40 years old, went to a Highwood tavern Monday night and there he met two soldiers. He invited them to his home at 2415 Valley road, Mrs. Sowerwine was on vacation. The party arrived about 2:30 a. m., and when Sowerwine awakened about an hour later he realized he had been slugged. A quick look around revealed a number of things missing, including two soldiers.

Officers Clyde Schoover and Harry Lehr of the local police force, found the two youths about 3:30 Tuesday morning, as they were getting into a cab on Central avenue. On their person were $8.73 in cash, three watches, a pen and pencil set, cufflinks, several neckties and handkerchiefs, three decks of playing cards and a gold bracelet.

The two enlisted men gave their names as Privates Russell R. Linne, 17, and Kenneth E. Embry, 20, both of Fort Sheridan. They were lodged in the city jail and their hearing will come up before Police Magistrate Harry Hansen, Friday.

Legion Baseball

Sunday, July 9, the Highland Park Merchants defeated the Highland Park Legion 3-2 in a game that was close all the way through. The Legion outfit composed mostly of young plyers outplayed and out-hit the older and larger outfit but succumbed again to them by a close score, the first game being 6-5 in favor of the more experienced Merchants. "Bubbles" Rogan pitched great ball for the Merchants but started to tire in the late innings and the "little fellers" scored their two markers. Rogan allowed 8 hits while his opponent "Bus" Olson held the Merchants to 5 hits. Poor judgment by the baserunners caused the Legion team's defeat. Next Sunday, July 16, the Highland Park Legion travels to Glenview to play Glenview's junior team. Here's hoping they have a large turnout from Highland Park.

Michigan Youths Who Ran Away to Wed, Seized Here

Donna Hornberg, 12 years old, and Leo Lembka, 17, who ran away from their homes in Battle Creek, Mich., a week ago, to get married, were arrested in Highland Park last Thursday. Tuesday the Hornberger girls' parents called for their daughter, and also took young Lembka back with them.

The young people had hitchhiked through Michigan, Indiana and Illinois. They told Policeman Bonamarte that they hadn't been married but were still planning on it. The youth claimed that he had not known the girl's real age until Thursday. She is a seventh grade student.

Blow Torch Ignites Tar Can on Roof of Pearl Theatre

A blow torch being used in repair work on the canopy of the Pearl theatre on S. First street yesterday afternoon ignited a tar can. According to Fire Chief E. C. Hoskins, the damage amounted to about $150.

On July 2nd a residence located at 1019 Fort Sheridan avenue, occupied by a Healey family was damaged by fire caused by sparks setting fire to the roof. The damage was estimated at $2,000.

Grass fires and a garbage truck fire also caused the local department to respond during the early part of the week.
