

Fritz Siegel, Brilliant Violinist Soloist In Wilmette Program

Fritz Siegel, brilliant young violinist and concert master of the federal music project's Illinois Symphony Orchestra, will be featured as soloist when the orchestra plays the next program in the series of free outdoor concerts in Washington Park amphitheatre in Wilmette Wednesday evening, August 9, at 8:15 o'clock. Albert Goldberg will conduct the orchestra.

Siegel, considered one of the country's outstanding young artists, will be heard in Wieniawski's Concerto for violin and orchestra. He is a Chicago boy, 21 years old, and one of the youngest concert masters of any orchestra of major rank in the United States. For three years he has held this position with the Illinois Symphony Orchestra. He had previously been concert master of the Chicago Civic Orchestra.

An audience as large or larger than the record-breaking throngs which have attended recent concerts is expected to hear this program. Conductor Goldberg will present the following numbers: Suite from "The Betrothal" by Eric DeLamarter, Dream Fantomime, from "Hansel and Gretel" by Rumperdinck, and the overture to "Der Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss.

Receiver Sprague Says Shore Line Will Fight Ruling

Faced with a reversal of an Interstate Commerce commission ruling, the North Shore Line will continue to operate on a status quo basis for the next two or three years without worries of a shut-down.

This was seen by legal authorities on the statement of Col. A. A. Sprague, company receiver, who stated that the line's management is forced to fight the ruling for future financial existence.

It was learned that the ruling of the ICC was not unanimous in reversing its former stand that the North Shore Line was an interurban and not subject to the railroad labor act and the carriers' taxing act.

By the ruling last week, the ICC classified the electric line as a railroad, placing it under the various acts. It not only reversed itself but the ICC even went contrary to a ruling of the United States supreme court rendered on the same question a few years ago.

According to Col. Sprague, the passenger traffic of the North Shore Line now is a little better than it was before the strike (last August) and their freight business is about the same. "Give us even a little better business conditions and I'll be able to put the North Shore back in the black. This has been made possible largely through cooperation of our employees."

Sprague indicated that failure to fight against the reversed ruling would make the electric line another labor battleground, since the expenses entailed in the various acts would bring a financial burden.

Unless the road is returned to its status of an interurban by the courts, Sprague was of the opinion that the financial burden would be so increased that the North Shore Line will be unable to meet them.

He added that the company is preparing an appeal to the United States supreme court. Attorneys said that between two and three years will pass before the supreme court decision will be made, judging on similar cases before the high bench, allowing the line to continue as an interurban until that time at least.

Be alert at all times and give some of these stupid drivers an opportunity to get out of your way. Do not let them cause you any embarrassment or involve you in an accident.
