"The Gorilla" Is Week-end Feature at Deerpath Theatre

Mystery goes merry when the Ritz Brothers, as three half-wit Hawkshaws, get on the trail of something big as an elephant and ten times as nasty in "The Gorilla", the 20th Century-Fox fun-and-fright film at the Deerpath theatre Friday and Saturday, August 25 and 26.

The fine hand of Wesley Ruggles' production and direction is clearly evident in the new Paramount drama, "Invitation to Happiness," which will be presented at the Deerpath theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 27, 28 and 29. As he did with "Sing You Sinners," Ruggles has taken a good human story and a fine cast of actors, and molded a motion picture with plenty of appeal in the region of the heart. Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray are co-starred, with Charlie Ruggles and William Collier, Sr.

The current musical vogue for "swinging" everything from a Bach fugue to "Home, Sweet Home," forms the merry theme of "Naughty But Nice," the new comedy playing at the Deerpath theatre Wednesday and Thursday, August 30 and 31.

Dick Powell plays a serious young composer who finds that he can sell his compositions only when they are set to swingtime. Competing for his romantic interest are Ann Sheridan and Gale Page. Others in the cast include Helen Broderick, Allen Jenkins, Ronald Reagan, Zasu Pitts, Maxie Rosenbloom and Jerry Colonna.
