SWIMMING BAKERS

Why do bakers like to swim? You had better ask Ernest Vierkoetter and George Michel about this, for they are the boys who left the big ovens of Germany and France to conquer the English Channel and astonish the good people who had been eating their Kaffee Kuchen and Petit Fours.

If these same customers could later have looked across the Atlantic to the Toronto waterfront, on the cold waters of Lake Ontario, they would have seen their two bakers lined up on the dock with a small army of swimmers, waiting for the gun that would start them on their 21 mile swim for $50,000 in prize money.

It was the end of summer in 1927, and as friends of the various contestants applied grease to the bodies of the swimmers, some of the more delicate ones shivered even then.

"Ach! Is kalt!" exclaimed Ernest as he plunged into the water. And George remarked, "Oui, tres froid!" The water churned and foamed as arms and legs beat fast and rhythmically, then slowed down to a steadier pace in that long struggle of endurance. As the swimmers began to traverse the triangular course which was to be covered three times before the finish, they began to string out. Even this early in the race class began to show.

George Young, winner of the Catalina Island swim championship, and the favorite in today's race, went to the front almost at once, but he was unable to put much distance between himself and the bakers. As he neared the 4 1/2 mile mark, Ernst and George began to close up on him. He was setting a good pace, but the powerful German was getting closer and closer, and not far behind him was the Frenchman.

Then, without warning, Young collapsed, was quickly rescued by his followers and taken into their boat. With Young out of the race, it narrowed down into a duel between Vierkoetter and Michel. Mile after mile the boy from the Rhine and the other from the Seine kept up their steady pace.

Day began to fade and most of the contestants had been forced out of the race by cold and exhaustion, but Ernst and George swam on.

It was after 8 o'clock in the evening when Ernest churned his way across the line, in 11 hours and 42 minutes, to win $30,000 in prize money. He held his hands out of the water to receive the congratulations of the waiting crowd.

Later in the evening George arrived at the finish line to take second prize money, $7,500, back to France with him.

What a pair of bakers! After that they were doubly in the dough!

Winnetka Artist Recital Series Will Open November 6th

Now that North Shore residents are commencing to return from trips and summer vacations, preparations are going forward rapidly for the 1939-40 season of the Winnetka Artist Recital series to be held in the New Trier high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the Winnetka Music club.

Subscribers and others may be interested to know what a busy summer season Lotte Lehmann, Metropolitan opera soprano, who is opening the Winnetka concert series, November 6, has had this year.

August 24, she was heard as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, under Otto Klemperer, at the Hollywood bowl. Just recently she returned from a tour of Australia where she gave thirty recitals. She also sang twelve times in New Zealand and Hawaii.

Her fall season opens October 17 with a recital in Town Hall in New York.

The Artist Recital series promises to be an unusually popular one, only a few tickets remaining to be sold. Those who have already expressed an interest in the series are urged to reserve tickets immediately by calling Mrs. Eloise Wortley, 544 Chestnut street, Winnetka, or Mrs. Audley E. Harnsberger, 1149 Cherry street, Winnetka. This should be done before final fall notices, to be mailed in the very near future, reach newcomers in the various villages.

Lotte Lehmann, world famed Austrian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, will open the series on Nov. 6th, while Zino Francescatti, young French violinist, who gained fame in Europe and South America, will appear Nov. 27th. On January 29th, Gregor Piatigorsky with whom the violoncello has come onto its own, has been secured for the third in the series. Jooss European Ballet is an innovation in the series, appearing on Feb. 12th. On March 18th, Robert Casadesu, French pianist, will present the final concert in the series.

Many Features at Deerpath Theatre

Bringing with them a "Tarzan, Junior," Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan come to the Deerpath theatre Thursday and Friday, September 7 and 8, in "Tarzan Finds a Son," fourth of the famous jungle adventure romances based on the Edgar Rice Burroughs characters. In the new story they find a wrecked plane in the jungle, and rear the baby which is the only survivor.

Jack Benny, the master laugh-getter of the air lanes, makes another safari to the screen in the lavish new comedy with music, "Man About Town." With glamorous Dorothy Lamour and jolly, rolynd Edward Arnold in co-starring roles, the most hilarious of Benny's screen offerings will be presented at the Deerpath theatre, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Sept. 10, 11 and 12. The fun-studded story by Morrie Ryskind, author of such screen hits as "My Man Godfrey" and "Stage Door," casts Jack as an American theatrical impresario about to present a show in London.

Starring Wayne Morris and Pat O'Brien, with Joan Blondell, May Robson and Jane Wyman in the leading feminine roles, Warner Bros. new comedy-romance "The Kid from Kokomo," will be presented at the Deerpath theatre on Wednesday, September 13. A fast-moving story of the prize ring and its behind-the-scenes angles, with plenty of romantic and hilarious touches.

"Mr. Moto Takes a Vacation," in the newest 20th Century-Fox thriller of that title, will be shown at the Deerpath theatre on Friday, September 15. The famous Saturday Evening Post sleuth, played by Peter Lorre, meets his most exciting adventures to date while providing safe escorts for the crown jewels of the Queen of Sheba.

Of the pictures to be revived "Mutiny on the Bounty," "The Charge of the Light Brigade" and "Pygmalion," have received the largest number of votes. These pictures will be shown: "Mutiny on the Bounty," starring Clark Gable, Charles Laughton and Franchot

Tone, Saturday, September 9: "Pygmalion," starring Leslie Howard and Wendy Hiller, Thursday, September 14: "The Charge of the Light Brigade," starring Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHavilland, Saturday, September 16. Next in line to be shown, because of the many votes received are "The Adventures of Robin Hood" and "Waikiki Wedding."

Ahem...

Did you know that Joan Dexter of Highland Park is teaching fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Lake Villa... that Mary Rohr works in a Lake Forest church... for the minister... that Eleanor Goldstead does private duty as a nurse in North Chicago these days...

Spikking of nurses... blonde Joan Christ, former Highland Parker, looks spiffy in a white uniform, too... seen in Lake Forest... Mrs. Christ at 7:15 a.m. hustling to work in the family bakery... which is no longer a fixture of our fair city... having made its exit some time ago...

Percy Lloyd must have fun entering our friends of the feathered tribe in bird races... Sam Toigo makes his own furniture... and really owns some enviable pieces... just like Grant Wood... another artist who's found that design ties in with comfort... Wallace Davis won the civilian members trophy in national rifle matches... not bad, what say...

Beware... of a man from the Philippines... who is selling water lilies... that wither... or so say five or six irate householders who've been duped on the proposition...

Two cents' worth on the war situation... William Shirer, C.B.S. representative in Berlin, broadcasting from Germany, did not know about the French declaration of war a minute after a United States radio news report gave out the squib... Shirer's wife, by the way, is Austrian... and a baby was born to her during the Czecho-Slovak crisis... while he had to cover Munich... he is a native Iowan... to be specific, he hales from Cedar Rapids, the home of the largest Quaker Oats plant in the world.

Northwestern R. R. Derives Dual Service from the Diesels

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Announcement has been made by Mr. R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the Chicago & North Western Railway, that effective last Saturday the North Western Limited, through train between Chicago and Minneapolis, will be operated daily with Diesel electric power, both north and southbound.

The Diesel locomotives used are the same that haul the "400" on its daily run between Chicago and Minneapolis. The schedule of the "400" and the North Western Limited are so synchronized as to permit of the transfer of the locomotive from the northbound "400" to the southbound North Western Limited shortly after the "400's" arrival in Minneapolis. The same holds true for the transfer of the power car from the southbound "400" to the northbound North Western Limited in Chicago.

By this arrangement, Mr. Williams pointed out, the North Western derives a dual service from the Diesels.
