For "something borrowed" she wore a diamond bracelet belonging to her mother, Mrs. Van A. Lacy, and for "something old" she wore an heirloom necklace of matched pearls. There were no attendants.

Finds $100 Bills in Customer's Pocket; Proves Her Honesty

Is honesty the best policy? Irene Ugolini, an employee of the Unique Cleaners, proved that it is, by turning over two crisp $100 bills which she found in a customer's pocket, to her employer, Raymond Molendi, last Tuesday morning. Engaged in her usual routine, Miss Ugolini was examining the clothing which comes into the establishment to see that no valuables are left in pockets or elsewhere, when she discovered what she thought was a slip of paper in a coat pocket. Removing it, she glanced to see what it was and discovered the two bills, which she at first thought were "phony." When convinced that they were real she became stunned, for she said she had never before seen so many figures on a piece of money.

Mr. Molendi was elated over the honesty of his employee and called his customer, E. A. Brown, Sr., of Evanston, to notify him that his employee had found the bills.

The honesty of this young lady is truly commendable and deserving of recognition.

Guardian Consents to Youth's Marriage

Walter Reppolz, 20, a former Highland Park resident, was married Saturday evening in Chicago to Dorothy Karlson, 19, of the same city, in the presence of his legal guardian, his sister.

Because both of his parents are dead, and he had not yet become of age, it was necessary under state law for his guardian to give consent for his marriage. Letters of guardianship were granted his sister, Ann Elizabeth Reppolz, 22, of 840 Taylor avenue, last week, and Friday she went to the county clerk's office and gave her consent to the marriage.

Attendants at the wedding were Everett Swanson of this city and the bride's sister, Mildred Karlson. The young couple are residing at 2044 Orleans avenue, Chicago.
