

Inklings from Neighboring Towns

At the meeting of the board of local improvements of Winnetka, the project engineer of the grade separation reported that work on the south end of the project has now reached the stage where it is expected that the operation of the North Shore electric line trains will be transferred to the permanent North Western railway tracks south of Willow road in approximately another week. This move will permit construction work to proceed on the Winnetka avenue, Indian Hill, subway construction and on the retaining walls north and south of Winnetka avenue.

In exactly 9 days the big traditional get-together for Libertyville High School alumni will be held. The date is Saturday, Oct. 21, the opponent in the Homecoming football game will be Niles Township, and last but not least, it will be Libertyville's Tenth Annual!

Out of respect for the many successful Homecomings of past years, the high school has already planted the seed of enthusiasm in the form of 1,000 invitations to the Alumni mailed out during the past few weeks.

Because of business pressure, Buckingham Chandler has resigned from the presidency of Deerpath Inn, and William J. Quigley of Lake Forest has assumed the office. This announcement was made early this week.

Harry P. Harrison, 307 Abbottsford road, president of the village of Kenilworth since 1933, resigned last week. The resignation was accepted with regret by the board of trustees.

Mr. Harrison, who is an official of the New York World's Fair, explained in a letter to the board that his duties would keep him away from Kenilworth for several months to come, and that he believed the interests of the community would be better served by a successor who would be closer in touch with village business. He has been unable to attend council meetings for most of the year.

Five Winnetka families reported cases of food poisoning within a short time about a fortnight ago, Dr. Howard A. Orvis, health commissioner, reported to the village council Tuesday night.

The health department, investigating the complaints, discovered that each of the families had had eclairs for dessert. In all cases these had been bought at the same local bakery it was learned.

It was announced this week that the proposal to erect a temporary bridge at Scott avenue, Glencoe, to be used during the grade separation work, has been rejected by the streets and drainage committee of the village council. Merchants in the Hubbard Woods district had petitioned for the bridge, but the committee turned down the suggestion on the grounds that available funds would not permit the construction. It was estimated that a temporary bridge for Scott avenue would cost $10,000.

Discovery and capture of a 42-inch alligator at Cedar lake near Lake Villa a week ago Sunday, has caused considerable excitement in that region, as well as speculations as to where the reptile came from.

The alligator was discovered by a Mrs. J. B. Mudd, who was in swimming at the north end of the lake. According to her excited story told to Al. B. Maier, the alligator threatened to attack her.

Maier and two other men captured the alligator when it clamped its jaws down on a heavy rope thrown to it. Clinging tightly to the rope, the alligator was dragged to shore and was taken into captivity. He was about seven years old.

Edgewater Beach Formal Season Opens with Bill Bardo

Announcement has been made that the Edgewater Beach hotel will open its formal season in the Marine room on Saturday, October 14. Bill Bardo and his orchestra has been selected as the musical host and a return engagement of the Lathrop Brothers and Virginia Lee, plus this fast stepping dance trio in the headline spot of the new Autumn Revue.

This will be Bardo's first engagement in Chicago. He brings with him sixteen musicians, each one over six feet tall, and claimed to be a singer, comedian or showman, besides a musician. The band is made up of four brasses, four rhythm instruments, four reeds and four violins. The music is definitely on the sweet swing side for that is just the kind of music that patrons of this North Side spot want and demand.

In the floor show which will be presented nightly in two swift moving acts as an Autumn Revue, will be found Virginia Hayes and Jean Turner, two youthful and pretty singers, the Fun-Lovin' Chorus, the Hill Billy Quartette, the Bardo Glee Club, Harriet Smith's Lovely Ladies and Tap Dancing Gone Park Avenue, the latter presented by Virginia Lee and the Lathrop Brothers, who have been voted the outstanding act appearing at the Beach in the past season.

On the opening of the Formal Season, which by the way is the eighteenth such opening in the hotel's history, an Orchid Corsage will be presented to every lady who attends. This Saturday and succeeding Saturdays will be formal in the Marine Room—informal in the adjoining North and South Rooms. Dancing time is extended until 2:30 Saturdays with Tea Dancing time on Sundays at 4:30.
