way 41, a spot map of accidents in Highland Park, the adoption of the card system of accidents in the city, the continuance of strict traffic enforcement, that the Recodification committee consult with this body in the preparation of the traffic code and numerous other suggestions. Due to the numerous suggestions made by this committee, Commissioner Gourley moved that the matter be referred to the Mayor and Commissioner Swanson for further consideration. The motion carried.

The matter of "no parking" on Central avenue, between the Alcyon theatre and Linden avenue came up for discussion. Attorney Armin Kusswurm, who originally presented a petition signed by the residents of this section, very ably argued for this restriction, stating that the residents were willing to abstain and have their friends abstain from parking in this zone and are not asking that merely patrons of the theatre be restrained from parking, that the matter had been up before the council for months without action being taken and that there is plenty of parking space at the North Western station. Various objections were raised concerning the restriction of this section, but Mr. Kusswurm, who is no longer a resident of this section, stood by his guns and eventually Commissioner Gourley moved that this zone be made a no parking zone. The council thereupon ordered the Chief of Police to post signs of "no parking" along the street and provide sufficient policing to enforce the rule. He was advised, however, to be lenient the first few days to first offenders.

Mayor Roman stated that in view of several recent inquiries regarding the sale of the Old City Hall, that an appraisal committee had been appointed to determine a fair value for this property. He further stated that it would be necessary to advertise the sale for 30 days, before a sale could be made. Commissioner Swanson made a motion that an ordinance be drawn authorizing the advertising for the sale of the old city hall. The motion was seconded and carried.

Commissioner Sharp, in making his report for accounts and finances, announced that a committee of five had been named to study and investigate the problem of the location of the new Garbage Incinerator. He also announced that plans were getting under way for the collection of the $100,000 in delinquent taxes due the city and he hopes to obtain the co-operation of the other taxing bodies in this matter.

Mr. Swanson brought out that he has received many complaints from the residents of the Sunnyside avenue section regarding the poor drainage and that this will be a future problem for the city. The section is low and nothing can be done until such time as a proper drainage system is installed. City Engineer Cole was called upon for his advice—he stated that nothing could be done at this time and that the people who built in this section had been previously warned by the building inspector and himself regarding the condition, but they went ahead and built.

Athletic Policies Explained

The students of the Highland Park high school are given an opportunity to participate in interscholastic athletics because the administrators believe that such activities, if properly conducted, constitute an important part of school life and contribute greatly to the development of the participants.

To be a legitimate part of the educational program athletics should be so conducted that they conform with the aims of general education. Highland Park high school accomplishes this objective through interscholastic athletics that are run primarily for the good of the student, the program being regulated to meet the needs of growing youths. It is the policy of the school not to conduct athletics as a commercial enterprise and no attempt is made to gain fame for the institution or the city through the medium of athletic teams.

Eleven teams compete in seven different sports, thus offering students a variety of activities.

To prevent over-participation, a boy may take part in only two of the four most strenuous sports (football, basketball, swimming, and track), but may, in addition, take part in field events in track, baseball, tennis and golf. In order to more nearly conform to expert opinion on the developmental needs of growing boys, the playing seasons have been shortened and (over a period of years) the number of games played per season have been reduced.

It is generally agreed that to realize the most benefits from athletic competition teams should be fairly equal in strength. Two of the schools with the strongest football teams in the Suburban league have been dropped from its schedule so that we may play games with teams more nearly our size. It is difficult, however, to schedule all games with teams that are our strength because most schools belong to some league and do not have open dates.

The health of players is given every consideration. Before going out for any sport each boy is given a thorough physical examination. A doctor attends every football game, first home and away, to administer first aid. He has authority over coaches to decide whether or not a boy is in condition to play. Officials are instructed to stop games any time they see a boy in distress regardless of the penalty to be inflicted on the team.

In order to protect the players from injuries, the best equipment from the standpoint of safety is used. However, extravagant items such as silk football pants and elaborate uniforms, are not purchased. The football coaches attend a yearly clinic to keep up to date on football techniques and methods of preventing injuries.

The school is prohibited by the state school law from paying for athletic injuries other than first aid. Medical services and hospitalization for boys of families who, upon investigation, cannot afford this extra burden, will be provided for by the county. At the present time there are insurance policies available to parents covering athletic injuries to players. The premiums are as low as $2.50 per player for all sports during the school year. As the school does not exert pressure to get boys out for interscholastic athletics, and does not profit financially from the athletic program, it is felt that the policy of having parents meet the costs of medical treatment and hospitalization is just.

The parents' permission must be secured in writing before a boy is allowed to participate in interscholastic football. Coaches take all reasonable precautions to prevent the occurrence of injuries, yet, in spite of such precautions, injuries are liable to occur in games of body contact such as football.

Our coaches are concerned not only with the performance of a boy on the athletic field, but also with his general development and his attitudes towards other phases of school and community life.

It cannot be said that interscholastic activities are conducted in the Highland Park high school for the favored few, as approximately 400 of the 600 boys in school take part in some form of interscholastic athletics during the school year. While our athletic squads are not limited to boys of superior athletic ability, it is not recommended that all boys should attempt to participate in this type of activity. Boys who are below average ability in athletics or those who are handicapped by size will probably meet their needs better by participating in the extensive intramural sports program offered by the high school.

H. S. Football Teams Win Second Twin Victory Saturday

Again on their home gridiron the speedy football teams of the Highland Park High school chalked up a twin victory. The frosh-soph team defeated Amundsen high school of Chicago 13 to 7, while the varsity triumphed to the tune of 26 to 7.

Starting an entirely new line-up the frosh-soph scored in the first quarter when Piper who relieved A. Baracani scored on a short plunge through the middle of the line. Flint ran off tackle for the extra point. In the second quarter Carrier ran around end and travelled 25 yards for the second touchdown. The try for extra point was missed and the local boys lead by the score of 13 to 0.

In the third quarter a bad pass from the Highland Park center rolled into the end-zone where an Amundsen player fell on it for their lone touchdown. They placed kicked the extra point. This concluded the scoring for the day and when the final whistle was blown the score stood, Highland Park 13, Amundsen 7. Murphy who did most of the booting for the home team did an excellent job of kicking off and punting. Schlabowske a freshman who played right half back looked good. He ran and blocked like a veteran. Tilby Johnson and Sesso tackles; and Tazioli, Weary, Olson and Weber guards all did an outstanding job on the defensive.

Swanson and Wonnell played good ball at center and Pertz and Wolters show promise of developing into a fine pair of ends. The starting line-up was: Wolters and Pertz, ends; Sesso and Johnson, tackles; Olson and Tazioli, guards; Swanson, center; Abernathy, quarterback; Schlabowske and Murphy, halfbacks and Al. Baracani, fullback. In the varsity game the Little Giants scored the first time they got the ball. However, because of a penalty the marker was not allowed. Not to be denied they scored again before the game was five minutes under way. A 26-yard pass from Flint to Summers who raced ten yards for the first six points gave them the first official score. Nelson kicked the extra point. In the second quarter Ray Johnson playing his first game at the fullback position scored the second touchdown after making two nice runs. The try for point failed. Again in the second period the local boys scored when McDonald standing in the end-zone caught a 15-yard pass that was thrown by Picchiotti. Again Nelson kicked the extra point. A few minutes later versatile Picchiotti ran thirty-five yards for another touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

Henry the outstanding player for Lake Geneva scored the Wisconsin's team only touchdown late in the second quarter when he ran around end for ten yards. He also threw a pass to his left end that was good for the extra point. The score at the half was Highland Park 26, Lake Geneva 7.

Every player on the local squad got into the game in the second half. Rather than try for any more touchdowns the boys were content to try out new plays and experiment with players in new positions. As a result there was no scoring in the second half.

The varsity line-up was — Summers and Bolini, ends; Lyon and Nelson, tackles; Earhart and Miller, guards; B. Johnson, center; Flint, quarterback; Heath and Menduno, halfbacks; and Joseph fullback. This Saturday both local teams play Waukegan for the annual homecoming game. As both Waukegan teams are among the best in the Suburban league fans are assured of an exciting afternoon.

Certified Bowlers Party Big Success

Last Tuesday evening following the regular weekly matches, the Certified Grocers Bowling League entertained over a hundred guests at their Ladies' Nite party.

A buffet luncheon was served under the direction of Frank Waber and his staff of assistants.

Entertainment was directed by Dick Williams, who presented the Garden City quartette.

Music was furnished by the Woodland Music Masters and the evening's program closed with dancing, all in attendance reporting a good time.

Ten Teams to Roll

Due to the fact that the league has entered its fifth week and to make additions now would work a hardship on the bowlers, the Shefford Cheese team and the Ionia Soap Company team will not be included in this season's schedule. These two teams will continue to roll on alleys eleven and twelve and will join in on the fellowship parties, etc.
