(Continued from page 1) Mr. Swanson announced that several of the property owners on Central avenue had agreed to pay for new sidewalks and asked that Engineer Cole be allowed to make a cross-section of the sidewalks on Central avenue from Greenbay road up the question of the dangerous hazard of the catch-basin manholes on various streets in Highland inally on the parkways ,but because Mr. Wolterding is the son of Mr. streets and a number of cars have of Highland Park, now of Elgin. struck these hazards causing dam-

The council decided that the only real time of congestion and Mrs. Robert Clarkson spent 5:10 arrives and that while there attending the Coe college homecomis congestion, it is not dangerous, therefore "no parking" signs are not needed.

Commissioner Bowes reported that he arranged a meeting with the Northwestern railroad officials regarding the parking lot between their tracks and the North Shore tracks, just north of Central avenue. The railroad officials informed him that this section had been rented by the city as a park and were sympathetic toward the parking situation. However, they wanted to inspect plans before final arrangements are made and be sure that the parking lot is protected by fences on both sides. Mr. Bowes stated that it is estimated that 114 cars could be accommodated at that place and the minimum cost would be $5,000. The matter was tabled until further plans could be drawn up. Commissioner Gourley felt at this time that it would be well, as a safety measure, to try and get the Northwestern R.R. to yield sufficient property at this point in order to allow the North Shore to build a station on the west side of the tracks. It was pointed out by Mr. Bowes, that even if the Northwestern would be willing, probably the North Shore couldn't do anything because of financial difficulties.

The council passed the two ordinances providing for the retirement of firemen and policemen at age 65. The ordinance authorizing the sale and advertising of the old City hall was placed on file for one week for public inspection. At this point the council was adjourned for one week.

As is the custom, the meeting was opened for public discussion and suggestions. Mr. Sharp asked the ccuncil for suggestions to help finance the Highland Park Merchants football team, (which is not supported by the merchants). It was brought out that they play twice a week at Sunset park and no admission fee is charged; and that they sold season tickets for two dollars to provide for expenses. While many suggestions were made, at least a concrete result was accomplished, for both Mayor Ronan and Commissioner Bowes agreed to buy season tickets.

Commissioner Swanson announced that he is concerned about Hallowe-'en and feels that there is need to do something to prevent harmful action by the "kids." This concern started another long discussion, which ended in the council deciding that kids can not be prevented from committing pranks and that the city has not had a too serious problem in Hallowe'en destruction.
