

Community Chest Campaign Is $6,000 Short of Goal Set

Still $6,000 short of their goal of $45,000 following the fourth scheduled report meeting Tuesday night, November 7, the 350 volunteer workers in the Fifth Annual Community Chest Campaign are making every effort to finish their work by this weekend, November 11, having been set as the official closing date for the campaign.

President Herman A. Zischke stated last night that the progress made in this year's campaign had set a record to date. "The splendid organization of volunteer workers which Mason G. Armstrong, chairman of the General Campaign Committee, has in the field, and the fine Special Gifts Committee organized by William T. Jones, Special Gifts chairman, have been doing a wonderful job of campaigning and we are hopeful of bringing the campaign to a successful close at an early date. We would like to do so by the end of this week."

President Zischke pointed out that the citizens of Highland Park who have turned over their subscriptions to the volunteer worker who has called upon them could help immensely in achieving the campaign goal quickly if they would cooperate by immediately turning in their subscriptions to the volunteer workers.

The workers on the general city-wide solicitation had turned in a total of $15,272.35 at the close of Tuesday night's report meeting and the Special Gifts Committee a total of $17,211 in subscriptions of more than $100 and $6,517.50 in smaller subscriptions and credited to the district campaign.

Two districts have turned in more than 100% of their quota to date. The first to go over was District 11 headed by Clarence H. Witt, chairman, and J. J. Berube, co-chairman. They reached 100% at last Friday's report meeting. At Tuesday night's report meeting District 14, headed by Philip N. Gould and Mrs. Willard B. Dunham, topped their quota.

High School Dads Organize to Further School Activities

As a result of the growing interest in the progress of the Highland Park high school and the desire of many of the fathers to take a greater interest in the school activities of their sons, a group of Dads recently met in the auditorium of the library and appointed a temporary chairman and committee to consider possible ways and means of best accomplishing this.

H. B. Aiston, who was appointed temporary chairman of the group, announces that the thought which inspired this movement was prompted not only by the growing pride in the High school but a desire on the part of a number of fathers to promote companionship through better understanding of their sons' interests, and to contribute to the general welfare of High school youth.

David Levinson was appointed chairman of a committee to consider a possible means of organization, and Kent W. Wonnell was appointed secretary. Both are prominent Chicago attorneys and Mr. Levinson, as a member of an administrative board of the University of Chicago, has had valuable experience in similar relationships. He and his committee consulted with a number of eminent authorities, including Hon. J. A. O. Preus, former governor of Minnesota, and a member of the Board of Regents, University of Minnesota; Lt. Comdr. Geo. D. Lyon, U. S. Navy, expert in training youth and had the benefit of much valuable information compiled by Oliver Turner, an active leader in youth programs.

The consensus of the final report made by Mr. Levinson's committee, according to Mr. Aiston, stresses the many advantages, and the great desirability of having the high school fathers take an active interest in the school activities of their sons, closer relationship with the faculty, and a promotion of programs devoted to fellowship, better understanding, and welfare of their boys.

Mr. Aiston states that in considering any organized effort to accomplish this, due consideration was given the impracticability of trespassing on the school life of the boys, or giving them the impression that it was, in a sense of the word—an effort to chaperone them. Likewise the fact that school social and athletic activities are administered by a highly trained professional staff and that over organization was apt to conflict with the High School P.T.A. which is extremely well organized and highly capable.

In conclusion therefore, he states it was the final opinion of the committee that the purposes could best be accomplished through avoiding over-organization, and that it would be best to conduct an informal series of program which, while they might vary in their nature, would all be conceived and worked out in consultation with the school administration, and would all be directed toward the main general purposes.

With this thought in mind, he adds an effort will be made to secure the active interest of all High school fathers, who will not only be asked to assist but assume a leadership in conceiving and conducting various programs which will best promote fellowship, finer sportsmanship, and the general health, welfare, and safety of all high school boys.

Highwood Residence Damaged by Fire

The rapid response of the Highwood fire department saved a three story building from complete destruction by fire yesterday morning (Wednesday).

The building was owned by Cero Gibbertini, 427 Funston avenue. No one was at home at the time of the fire, which was discovered by a roomer who was returning to his residence. He turned in the alarm when he saw the roof in flames. The fire was confined to the attic and roof. Damage was estimated at about $3,500. It is believed the fire was caused by sparks from the chimney igniting a wood shingle roof.

The Highwood firemen were ably assisted by the Highland Park department headed by Chief E. C. Hoskins and Lt. Ray Mann.

Local Resident to Share in Estate

The will of the late George W. Crampton, wealthy and prominent Moline resident, father of Mrs. Louise C. Briggs of Highland Park, who died Oct. 21, has been presented for probate at Rock Island. The value of the estate is not given but it is large, as the will specified cash bequests amounting to over $200,000.

Each of his four children is given $20,000 and also share the residue of the estate. The widow is given a life estate. Seven $20,000 trusts are set up for each grandchild who is to get the income and the principal when he is 25. The widow gets $20,000 and the income from a trust consisting of one-third of the estate after deducting $100,000 cash bequests. His son, City Judge Albert Crampton, of Rock Island, is made executor and trustee.
