Christmas Eve Over Here to Be "Night of Lights"

That Christmas Eve, be made America's "Night of Light," is being urged by Bernarr Macfadden, noted New York publisher.

Last Sunday morning Dr. Lewis W. Sherwin, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, asked the members of his congregation to join Mr. Macfadden in his campaign to have every window bright with light this Christmas Eve, America's "Night of Light."

The following telegram has been sent to prominent men, leaders in various walks of life, organizations and religious bodies:

"As America's answer to the Black-Out threatening the world — A Black-Out of freedom as well as light—will you proclaim Christmas Eve a "night of light," calling on citizens to keep every room of every home and building fully lighted with blinds wide open, from dusk to midnight? I believe this symbolic action, making this night brighter than any we have ever experienced would dramatically contrast America's freedom to the darkness which enshrouds not only Europe's cities but her democratic institutions, and would recharge our determination to keep America beyond the reach of dictatorship. As an American citizen I am sending this suggestion to every governor and to the mayor of every large city. I believe that citizens will spontaneously respond, and that America's "Night of Light" will be bigger, more significant news in nations where news can still be circulated than any black-out has been," Bernarr MacFadden.

Not in a spirit of boastfulness, but of thankfulness, let us have light in American—as never before—this Christmas Eve!

Let every citizen of Highland Park respond to this call. Let's make Christmas Eve a "Night of Light" in our community.

"Christmas Ghosts." Don't miss this delightful short story by Christine Jope-Slade, telling about the romance of four ultra modern young people who agreed to spend the yuletide in a phantom-ridden cottage to prove it wasn't haunted. You'll be surprised at the way it turns out. Read it in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald-American.
