backed up by its various excursions to neighboring communities, that the incinerator would prove no liability to the neighborhood in which it was located, the committee has run into concerted and in some cases, militant opposition wherever it turned.

In spite of the best intentions in the world it takes no mind reader to see that the committee for the moment has reached an impasse. As Commissioner Sharp in a recent interview promised a conclusive report by the committee within 30 days and as he has stated on every occasion both on and off the record that the committee would lean over backwards in protecting property rights of the citizens of ALL parts of the city from harm, real or imaginary, it also takes no Houdini to make a pretty fair guess on the site to be selected.

Unless the ear we have had to the ground in recent weeks has become a bit deaf, we can safely say here that when the incinerator committee makes its report there will be no storming of the City Hall council meeting room, and if perchance there may be some of us who believe that the committee should have taken the bull by the horns and rendered a verdict strictly on the merits of the case, it will help to remember that the job was an exceedingly delicate one at best, and if we were "out up against the gun," so to speak, could we honestly say we would have done otherwise.

Upside Down Cake Is Tops

This appeal of an upside down cake is its surprise attributes, for it may offer a different fruit flavor every time or a combination of flavors. Both pineapple and apricot are favorites, but have you tried sliced canned peaches? These add delicacy to the cake illustrated above.

Cooked dried fruits make excellent and inexpensive toppings, using one or two or a miscellany of apricots, prunes or figs, pears, nectarines and apple rings. A delicious combination is achieved by using halves of canned pears filled with halves of canned figs, filling the spaces between the pears with figs cut in a side to fit.

Most recipes for upside down cake stress a moderate or slow oven, which means either 350 or 300 degrees, the lower temperature naturally requiring a longer period. When a modern gas range does the baking, its heat control maintains such an accurate even temperature that the cake bakes perfectly without watching or turning in the oven.

Offer Six Chicago Premieres in First Week of Ballet Russe

Six Chicago premieres are included in the very unusual schedule of programs the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo is offering in the first week of its Chicago engagement, which opens at the Auditorium theatre on Tuesday evening, December 26th for two weeks. The engagement will end on January 4th.

Most outstanding of the new ballets added to the repertoire this year is the all-American collaboration—"Ghost Town"—with choreography by American-born Marc Platoff, new star of the company; music by Richard Rodgers, well-known writer of musical scores for Broadway and Hollywood; and costumes and settings by Raoul Pene du Bois a native New Yorker. Leading roles in "Ghost Town," which is the story of Virginia City, Nevada—one of America's most fabulous hard-fighting, hard-drinking, high-spending gold rush communities — are danced by Mia Slavenska, Yugoslavian ballerine, and a young Englishman, Frederick Franklin. Roland Guerdard from North Carolina, and Nini Theilade, born in Java of Danish parents; complete the cosmopolitan roster of leading dancers in this ballet.

"Devil's Holiday," the amusing story of Satanic interference in the lives of Venetian citizens on the devil's "night-off," had its world premiere in Philadelphia, and will be seen for the first time in Chicago on December 27. On the same evening "Capriccio Espagnol," a Spanish ballet choreographed by Massine and Argentinia, and "Igrouchka," simple tale of a farmer lad's unrequited love for a goose-girl, will be given. Another Massine ballet, "Rouge et Noir," danced to the First Symphony of Dmitri Shostakovich, will be presented in its Chicago premiere on Thursday, Dec. 28.

Concluding the list of "first" performances for Chicago will be "Bacchanale," sensational surrealist ballet by Salvador Dali on Friday, Dec. 29.

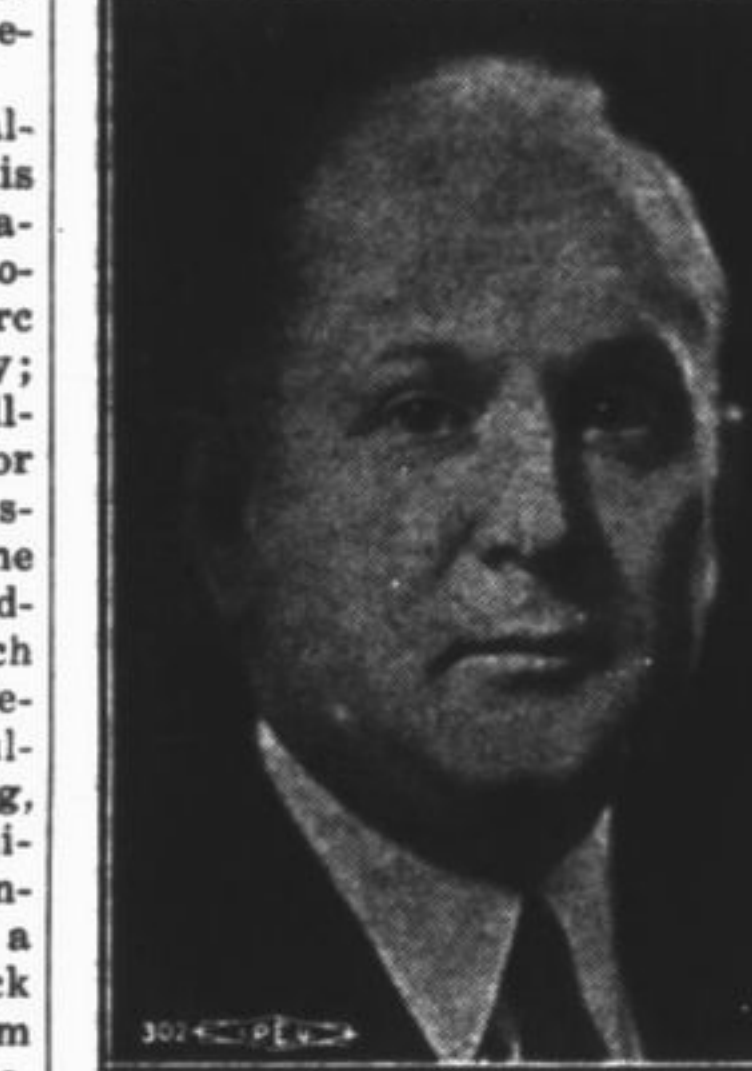

Complete schedule for the first week's performances is as follows: Tuesday, Dec. 26, "Scheherazade," "Ghost Town," "Le Spectre de la Rose," "Gaité Parisienne"; Wednesday matinee, Dec. 27, "Les Sylphides," "Petrouchka," "Prince Igor"; Wednesday, Dec. 27, "Les Sylphides," "Devil's Holiday," "Igrouchka," "Capriccio Espagnol"; Thursday, Dec. 28, "Swan Lake," "Rouge et Noir," "Blue Bird," and "Ghost Town." Friday, Dec. 29, "Devil's Holiday," "Bacchanale," "Igrouchka," and "Le Beau Danube"; Saturday matinee, Dec. 30, "Fantastic Doll Shop," "Scheherazade," "Spectre de la Rose," "Capriccio Espagnol"; Saturday, Dec. 30, "Ghost Town," "Bacchanale," "Spectre de la Rose," "Gaité Parisienne."

Several Activities Planned This Week at Glencoe Church

A college-homecoming dance is being planned by the active Alumni club for Saturday night, Dec. 30, at North Shore Congregation Israel. On December 27 the Sisterhood will have its annual mothers' and daughters' party at which a pageant written by Mrs. Avis Shulman and entitled "Down Through the Ages," will be presented. Not to be outdone by the Sisterhood, the Men's club is planning its annual fathers' and sons' night banquet for Thursday, Dec. 28, and promises among other things, movies, souvenirs, an opportunity to meet the football heroes of the day, and an "Information Please" program with prize awards.

Factor in Education Says Supt. Wieland

The newspaper, long an important source of information for the public, is given recognition as a great factor in education by John A. Wieland, Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the December issue of the Educational Press Bulletin.

JOHN A. WIELAND

Superintendent Wieland says, "Ninety per cent of adults do read their newspapers, even in times of peace. Some skim the headlines and glance at the comic strips, others read thoroughly. If our schools intend to keep close connection with living youngsters they will recognize the newspaper as a potent factor in education, adult and otherwise, and accordingly make use of it to widen horizons."

Shrine Winter Circus to Feature Proske and His Wild Tigers

Leading American stars of the "big top" will be augmented by talent from war infested Europe in the presentation of the third annual Shrine Winter Circus to be held Dec. 30 to Jan. 14 at the International Amphitheater, Chicago.

Officers of Medinah temple, sponsors of the charity event, announce that not only the headline acts but a complete menagerie and a side-show of outstanding freaks have been recruited from the large outdoor tent organizations for their third annual offering.

The net proceeds will go to the Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children. Joseph G. Rowley, illustrious Potentate of the sponsoring organization, reports a heavy advance sale of seats and anticipates the record attendance of more than 250,000 at last year's circus will be materially increased.

The all-star program is to be headed by Captain Roman Proske and his cage of wild Bengal tigers, an act that thrilled visitors at the New York World's Fair and a new offering for Chicagoans; the Flying Solts and their brilliantly colorful aerial ballet; the Great Wallendas, direct from the Black Pool Towers, London, Eng., who will perform death-defying stunts near the roof of the arena on a tight wire with no protection of a net below; the Loyal Repensky's in daring and skillful bareback riding feats; the Flying Harolds, the aerial Voices, Rudy Rudynoff and his educated Liberty horses and the noted Davenport-Hodgini equestrian troupe.

To be seen for the first time in the sawdust arena in America will be the famous Pichiani acrobatic troupe of Europeans who perform sensational, breath-taking feats; the Six Abdauhals and the Rieffenachs.

There will be no dearth of fun-makers with a congress of sixty clowns headed by the inimitable Otto Griebling and "Shorty" Flemm. A herd of 15 performing elephants and other animal actors from the jungles will add zest to the program.

Lee Powell, the original talking picture "Lone Ranger," with his wonder horse and his own company of rip-roaring buckaroos, will appear in person and perform many of the thrilling stunts that have made him famous as America's No. 1 cowboy star.

Among other feature acts will be the Jung Trio, Don Francisco, the Karolis, the La Pearl Trio, Naida and Perez, the Six Antaleks, the Lary Sisters, Roland Hibler's trained seals, the Cutshall Sisters, the Doro Duo, Diane Lovett, the beautiful elephant trainer; Barnett's dog and the Loyal Troupe.

Mr. Rowley anticipates that a substantial fund will be realized for the Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children, located at 2211 North Oak Park Ave. He reports that thousands of crippled children of all denominations and color have been treated over a period of years at the hospital.

The executive committee in charge of the circus is composed of Norman J. Kissick, chairman; Arthur M. Gullickson and John B. Morgan. Orrin Davenport, veteran circus executive, is production manager.

"Chicago's spontaneous and enthusiastic acceptance of the Shrine Winter Circus has placed upon the sponsor the responsibility of producing each year the highest class entertainment of this highly specialized type without regard for expense," said Mr. Rowley.

Reserved seats are now on sale at Medinah Temple, 14 East Ohio street and the Hotel Sherman.

LIBRARY

Christmas here, Merry old Christmas, Gift bearing, heart-touching, joy-bringing Christmas, Day of grand memories, king of the year!

—Washington Irving.

I have always thought of Christmas time as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely —

And therefore, though it has never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I believe that it has done me good, and will do me good; and I say, God bless it!

— Charles Dickens.

The beautiful wreaths over the fireplaces in the library are the gift of the Highland Park Garden guild. The library will be closed on Christmas day.
