

Free Economics Class Opens Monday At High School

Fundamental economics and social philosophy will be the subject of an extension class of the Henry George School of Social Science offered free to the public in Shields hall, Highland Park High school, Vine avenue, this winter.

The class will meet one evening each week for ten weeks beginning Monday, January 15, 7:30 o'clock.

"No one can take this course," Henry P. T. Tideman instructor, said today, "without getting a clearer understanding of why millions are unemployed, why poverty persists with plenty, why depressions recur, what nations go to war, why labor and capital fight, and a host of similar questions of vital interest to every thinking person." Mr. Tideman, a resident of Lake Forest, is a Chicago architect and a graduate of the University of Illinois.

In his teaching Mr. Tideman will follow the class discussion method throughout with practical application of economic principles to current topics. He promised that there would be no written work nor examinations.

The textbook of the course, "Progress and Poverty" by Henry George, Mr. Tideman pointed out, has been acclaimed by such leaders as Nicholas Murray Butler, Newton D. Baker, Louis D. Brandeis, Albert Einstein and Clarence Darrow. He recalled Darrow's conviction that "Henry George wrote a profound book, the first book on political economy that people may read; the first and perhaps the last that was readable to plain ordinary men."

The student may bring his own copy of the textbook or purchase it at class for one dollar. In an introduction to the book, Professor John Dewey of Columbia university, honorary president of the Henry George school, said, "No man has a right to regard himself as an educated man in social thought unless he has some first-hand acquaintance with the theoretical contribution of this great American thinker—Henry George."

President of the Chicago Board of Trustees of the school is Hiram B. Loomis, retired principal of Hyde Park High school.

"Since receiving its charter from the University of the State of New York in 1932," said Mr. Tideman, "the Henry George school has grown from an enrollment of 84 students the first year to a total of more than 30,000 today. Extension classes are conducted in over 100 cities of the United States and in as many more cities of other countries throughout the world. In New York City the school occupies a five-story headquarters building accommodating 6,000 students a term."

"The school is a non-profit institution with no charge for tuition. It is supported by the voluntary contributions of its friends. Its teachers are business and professional men who serve without financial remuneration. They give their services because they believe that only in a more widespread study of economic principles is there hope for the ultimate solution of our economic problem."

Everyone interested in getting a better working knowledge of fundamental economics is invited to take this course.

Students may enroll by attending the opening session of the class, by writing the Henry George School of Social Science, 139 N. Clark street, Chicago, or by telephoning Dearborn 0684.

"The Seeing Eye" Committees Plan Enrollment Drive

Plans for the coming membership enrollment of "The Seeing Eye," famous school in Morristown, N. J., which "educates" guide dogs for blind men and women, was discussed in detail Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Wood, 162 Laurel avenue.

Two committees attending were headed by Mrs. A. Reginald Mead, 431 North Linden, and by Mrs. Roger S. Vail, 225 Laurel avenue. Mrs. Wood served as honorary chairman of the meeting, and Mrs. Frederick A. Preston of Lake Forest, general chairman of the 1940 Enrollment, attended.

These committees of volunteer workers heard the story of The Seeing Eye and saw a colored moving picture of activities at the school in order that they may pass along to others information about the aims and principles of the philanthropic organization. In this way new members of the Seeing Eye are obtained and they make possible the work of the school. Since the amount paid by a blind person is but a fractional part of the total cost of preparing a dog for guide work and for preparing the blind persons for such a companion, public financial support in the form of annual memberships in order that the work may continue.

Names of members of Mrs. Vail's committee are: Mrs. William J. Alexander, Valley Road, Bannockburn; Mrs. Joseph B. Card, 235 Central avenue; Mrs. Van G. Kirk, 116 Dale avenue; Mrs. Harold M. Marks, 434 Egandale road; Mrs. Donald E. Nichols, 1849 Rice street; Mrs. Edward A. Smith, 426 N. Linden avenue; Mrs. Olga B. Taylor, 171 Laurel avenue; Mrs. Edward S. Weil, 303 Cedar avenue.

Urge Support of Campaign Against Infantile Paralysis

An Open Letter to All Citizens of Lake County, Illinois, Urging Your Support for Another Campaign to Raise Money for the Foundation Against Infantile Paralysis.

Of all scourges of mankind, disease is the worst. Because of these scourges, many great movements have been successful in combating dreaded disease. The Red Cross was formed less than a century ago to render aid to sick and wounded soldiers on battle fields and in military hospitals in time of war. So efficient did this organization become that it is no longer just a war time aid. In peace time it exercised humanitarian impulses in relieving distress due to calamities such as earthquakes, floods, and fire, so today it is known as one of the greatest humanitarian societies. The President of our country is its head.

Among the more private enterprises is the Salvation Army. First serving the needy and destitute both in body and spirit. Greatly recognized for their relief work and the maintaining of numerous orphanages. Its organization spread and became a vital factor in the front line trenches during the World War, bringing aid and comfort to those who needed care. Its service to the doughboys is a glorious page in its history.

Today we have another battle against the ever present forces of disease. We have a fight against disease that is merciless in its toll, a disease that maims, cripples—kills—the dreaded Infantile Paralysis. No community is immune and none know when it will strike. To combat this plague, the President of our country sponsored the Warm Springs Foundation of Georgia.

Since its organization, the Foundation has made grants to 13 colleges and medical schools, to 16 hospitals, and 14 other organizations. The work done by scientists as a result of Foundation support already has yielded clues to the nature of the virus causing the disease.

In order to keep pressing forward to some day eradicate this disease, and bring it under control, we need the moral and financial support of every one in our county. The money raised through various efforts in our county activities will be divided 50-50 between county and national organizations. On this issue, we all line up with the President.

It is not a question of partisan politics, this has never entered into the picture and never should. The purpose is a worthy one regardless of faith, politics, or personal feeling. As Good Americans, we all wish to help those suffering from this dread disease.

As Chairman of the Lake County Chapter, I am appealing to you this year to join with our local organization to make this one of the most successful drives that has ever been made in Lake county to raise funds to combat Infantile Paralysis. Let us organize, and fight the common enemy—the disease—Infantile Paralysis.

B. RAUSE, Chairman
Lake County Chapter.

Chicago Choir to Give Program at Highwood Church

The choir of the Bethany Methodist church, Chicago, under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Widman, will give a program of sacred song at the Highwood Methodist church, Highwood avenue and Evert place, Saturday evening, January 13, at 8:15 p.m. Mr. Ejner Kranz, an exceptionally fine young pianist, who has created much enthusiasm for his playing at previous occasions, will play the piano. Rev. David K. Englund, pastor of the Bethany church, will bring a brief message.

All are invited to come. Coffee and refreshments will be served. You are welcome.
