investigate the matter with the hope that some solution could be found that would "lay" the taxicab ghost at least for the time being.

Commissioner Bowes reported that steps were being contemplated by the railroad to relieve the drainage difficulties experienced from time to time in the Highmoor subdivision.

The various reports of the city departments were read by City Clerk Musser and approved by the council. Shortly afterwards Mayor Ronan called for a motion of adjournment thus officially closing the council's first meeting of the New Year.

Tenth District of Women's Club Will Meet in Wilmette

The Mid-Winter meeting of the Tenth District Federation of Women's clubs will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 17, at the Woman's club of Wilmette. Following a 9:30 board meeting the regular meeting will open at 10 a.m. with greetings by Mrs. George B. Williams, president of the Woman's club of Wilmette. A response will be given by Mrs. James M. Massie, Tenth District president.

After the regular business and election of the nominating committee, the chairman of public health for the district, Mrs. Paul MacGuffin, will present Dr. John A. Wolfer, chairman, Illinois Cancer Control committee, whose subject will be "Cancer Research."

Mrs. Arthur Washo, chairman of the American Citizenship department, will then present Paul G. Armstrong, past department commander, American Legion, who will speak on "Let Us Keep American." A question box and roll call will follow and adjournment for luncheon will be at 12:30.

The afternoon session will convene again at 1:30 p.m. at which time the music chairman, Mrs. Paul LaRose, will introduce Dorothy Algie Black, soloist and monologist. The accompanist will be Cordelia Schellinger Pardee.

The remainder of the afternoon program will be in the hands of Mrs. Alexander M. Kerr, district radio chairman. She will present the director of radio, Northwestern university, Parker Wheatley, who will tell us about "Recent Trends in Radio."

Barrington Civic Program Offers Outstanding Speakers

A civic program which attracted widespread comment and interest, a year ago, when the Barrington Town-Warming was introduced in the town of Barrington, is again in progress, having begun a series of talks by nationally prominent persons Sunday evening. The series runs for ten consecutive nights, the first having been given Jan. 7, with Mr. Edgar DeWitt Jones as the speaker. Monday night Channing Pollock and Tuesday night, David Seabury were heard. Wednesday, Norman Thomas spoke.

The following is the program for the balance of the series:

- January 11—Leila Blomfield, "Democracy Rampant." January 12—Alvin M. Owsley, "America in 1940." January 13—John Temple Graves II, "Not Made to Die." January 14—John B. Kennedy. January 15—Slim Williams, "Blazing an International Trail by Motorcycle." January 16—Dr. Allan A. Stockdale, "Where Do We Go From Here."

Barrington Town-Warming was developed, according to Superintendent of Schools E. S. Smith, general committee chairman, for the purpose of centering the minds of American citizens to a new appreciation of religious values and true patriotism.

The Town-Warming series is open to the public and is free of charge. The meetings open at 7:30 with community singing and the main address follows.

LIBRARY

The National Broadcasting Company has been conducting over its blue network a series of short broadcasts on poetry. They take the form of pilgrimages to the homes of famous poets, giving the background and scenes which inspired the best known poems of the writers. The series began in October and the last broadcast will be May 26 with a pilgrimage to the home of John Howard Payne at Easthampton, Long Island. The January 7th broadcast concerned Sara Teasdale.

The programs are presented by Ted Malone who has had a long career in radio work. He conducts another popular program "Between the Bookends."

The Highland Park Public Library has a copy of the complete program for the remainder of the year. Ask to see it. If you wish to arm yourself with a copy of the poems of each author, the Library will be glad to help you find them. The following anthologies will be helpful in following the series: "LeGallienne Book of American Verse," edited by Richard Le Gallienne.

Highwood Highlights

LENA GLANDT, Representative Telephone H. P. 53

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crovetti are the proud parents of a baby girl born on Wednesday, January 3, at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest.

Mrs. Michael Pedrucci and her granddaughter, Mary, returned to Nokomis, Ill., where Mary will also visit her mother. She will return to Highwood in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Reilly were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hopf of Park Ridge on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peradotti moved last week and are now at home in their new apartment on Morgan place.

Announcement has been made by City Clerk Thomas E. Russell that applications for city licenses may now be made. The price of the passenger car licenses is $3, while truck licenses are from $5 to $15.

Miss Millie Lucchi will return in a few days from a short vacation trip.

ITALIAN WOMEN TO HOLD DANCE

Plans are now being completed for a dance to be given by the Italian Women's Prosperity Club on Saturday, January 27, for a needy family. It will be given at the Labor Temple at 8 o'clock and good music is assured. Refreshments will also be served.

Tickets will be distributed on Friday, and may be purchased from any member of the club. The support of the public in this worthy cause will be greatly appreciated.

G. Marconi Mutual Aid society held its regular meeting Wednesday, Jan. 3, when the installation of officers took place and committees were appointed. John Ugazette and Ets Lenzi were chosen to head the entertainment committee, while Ted Benvenuti will have charge of publicity. Three new members were initiated at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. William Quinn of Highwood are the proud parents of a son born Thursday, January 4, at the Highland Park hospital.

Mrs. Tony Casorio gave a party

"Oxford Book of American Verse," "Modern American Poetry," edited by Mark Van Doren. "Our Singing Strength," by Alfred Kreyenborg. "American Anthology," by E. C. Stedman.

The Library has on display some lovely photographs of Guatemala. They were taken by Otto Paul Goul, a New Yorker with a photographic hobby, on a recent trip to Central America, and are interesting to photographers as well as to travelers who have visited there.

Anne Birk Kuper Resumes Readings With Play Review

North Shore Congregation Sisterhood of Glencoe resumes its presentation of Anne Birk Kuper's monthly readings. Mrs. B. Leo Steif is chairman of this committee and announces that on Monday, Jan. 15, at 2:15 p.m. in the Temple lounge, Mrs. Kuper will present George Kaufman and Moss Hart's hilarious comedy, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." This play, which has doubled New York audiences over in their seats, refers to the well known humorist and satirist, Alexander Woolcott.

Everyone in the community is cordially invited to hear this reading and to join in the social hour following. There will be a slight entrance fee.
