

Local Artist Will Be Honored Sunday At Twilight Tea

When a woman's club decides to honor a local artist and invites another local artist to assist in the honoring, the whole thing may sound a bit inbred, but it also sounds more than a little as though the setting might be Ravinia and that the general public might be due for an excellent time. As a matter of fact, the two latter assumptions are correct. The setting, to be specific, is to be the Ravinia Village House, the time five-thirty on Sunday, Feb. 18, and everyone in the community is cordially invited. The occasion will be the second of the series of twilight teas planned by the arts committee of the Ravinia Woman's club to pay tribute to local artists, and the guest of honor will be Rudolph Ingerle, one of Highland Park's best known residents.

Mr. Ingerle, in spite of having been born in Vienna, or perhaps with the objective appreciation less common in a native son, is above all, an American artist. He received his formal training in this country at the Smith academy and the Chicago Art Institute, and found his favorite painting field in the mountains of North Carolina and eastern Tennessee. Galleries throughout the country have exhibited the landscapes and character studies that he has painted in this section, and they are to be found in many prominent collections, including that of the Art Institute in Chicago. Among the many awards given his pictures, perhaps the Logan Prize for Sanity in Art Exhibit best characterizes his work which presents rich beauty through careful craftsmanship.

Assisting the arts committee in honoring Mr. Ingerle, will be Mary Virginia Felske, distinguished pianist formerly of Evanston and points more southerly, who for several years has made her home in Ravinia. A pupil of Madame Rosina Lhevinne Mrs. Felske was later a member of the faculty of the Columbia School of Music. She has had the honor of appearing as soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra and was for some time associated in concert work with Arthur Kraft, now of the Eastman School of Music. Her program on Sunday will consist of:

- Fantasia in D Minor.....Mozart
- Impromptu.....Schubert
- Intermezzo.....Brahms
- Tango.....Turina
- Sphärenmusik.....Dohanyi
- Rhapsody.....Dohanyi

Open House Sunday at Helen Beach Studio

An open house on family gatherings—that's what Helen Beach Studio Gallery will offer on Sunday, February 25, and the star will be Rowena Bennett, presenting a program of readings of her own verse with special selections for grownups and for the children.

Afternoon tea is included in the party arrangements in addition to poetry games for the children, concoctions especially planned by Mrs. Bennett for the occasion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fontaine and Harriet Jochem will pour and Miss Helen Beach is preparing for a full house for the affair scheduled to start at 4:30 o'clock. At that time the public may also view the new stage installed in the studio at 1532 Judson avenue, as well as the novel lighting effects perfected by Miss Beach.

Two Local Men to Receive Awards As Modern Pioneers

Climaxing a study that began last July, a group of eminent scientists announced through their Chicago regional committee that Mr. Carl Pfanstiel, 614 Wood Path, Highland Park, Ill., Vice-President, Director of Research, Pfanstiel Chemical Company, 104 Lake View avenue, Waukegan, and Mr. Ernest H. Volwiler, 4722 North Deere Park drive, Highland Park, Vice President, Director of Research, Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Ill., are two of a group of one hundred and fifty prominent men from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin who have been nominated to receive awards as "Modern Pioneers." These men are among more than 1,000 who have been nominated throughout the United States to receive this singular honor because of their contributions to the nation's progress through inventions and discoveries, according to Mr. James D. Cunningham, chairman of the Chicago regional sponsoring committee, President of Republic Flow Meters Co., and chairman of the board of trustees of Armour Institute of Chicago.

The Chicago Regional Committee which is making arrangements for the Chicago dinner to be held in the Palmer House Tuesday evening, February 20, to honor the Modern Pioneers in this area, is composed of over 60 prominent civic and industrial leaders.

The achievement of the nominees noted above are now being judged by a committee of six scientists headed by Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Those whom the Awards committee believe have contributed to the American standard of living and to the creation of jobs through their inventions and discoveries will be designated as Modern Pioneers and so honored at the dinner meeting in Chicago on February 20.

Junior Programs Presents "Reward of Sun God" Feb. 23

Life among the Hopi Indians will be authentically portrayed when Junior Programs' play, "Reward of the Sun God" is presented at the Highland Park High school auditorium on Friday, February 23, at 4 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by the 11 P.-T.A.'s of Highland Park, Ravinia, Deerfield and Braeside, this is the second on this season's series of three Junior Programs productions. The play was adapted from the book, "Rhythm for Rain" by John Louw Nelson, noted Indian authority.

"Reward of the Sun God," which relates the adventures of a Hopi Indian boy and girl, presents a true picture of life among the Indians of the Southwest. Mr. Nelson lived in this part of the country for eight years, learning the tribal history and customs of the Hopis. He owns a fine collection of Indian masks, costumes and properties, many of which are used in this play of which he personally supervised production.

Tickets for the evening performance are available at the Highland Park High school office and at Gsell's Drug store.

Three Cars Collide On Central Avenue

Three cars were badly damaged Tuesday evening about 5:30 o'clock at the intersection of Central avenue and Greenbay road.

A Chevrolet sedan owned by Reuben Olson, 38, 245 Prairie avenue, Highwood, headed north on Greenbay road, collided with the rear end of a Packard driven east on Central avenue by E. Tenney of 2605 Meadow lane. The Packard car turned completely around on the street, striking a car driven by Herman Meier, 50, 611 Deerfield avenue, who was driving west. No one was injured but all three cars were badly damaged.

Barbara Lynn Wins First Class Badge

The First Girl Scout to win her First Class badge this year was Barbara Lynn of Troop 3 of the Braeside school. The leaders of this troop are Mrs. George Straub and Miss Mary Lou Keaster.

To become a scout of first class rank one must choose one "major" program field in which to concentrate. Four to seven badges must be earned in this field. Ten badges are required for first class rank, so the remainder may be selected from two or three other program fields. Barbara's major was in nature field, arts and crafts, health and safety, music and dancing, dramatics and literature, and home-making were other fields in which she has earned awards.

Besides all this Barbara has earned two gold stars for two years of perfect attendance.

Last Thursday Troop 5 of the Braeside school led by Mrs. Jens Eriksen and Mrs. M. J. Scheemecker invested the following Girl Scouts: Javerne Bulmer, Nancy Bowker, Dorothy Dickinson, Mary Jane Eriksen, Nancy Howe, Phyllis Kieback, Patsy Lynn, Naomi Madison, Mitzi Newman, Ann Ottenheimer, June Pattou, Marjorie Pfister, Margie Wolf.

Some of these girls had been Brownies and others are new to Girl Scouting. A girl must be 10 years of age to become a Girl Scout.

After the candle lighting service in which each girl pledged herself to scouting with the Girl Scout promise, tea was served to the mothers and friends of the new scouts.

R. F. Himmelhock to Speak at Feb. 22d Legion Meeting

Through the efforts of Edmund Eitel, program chairman of Dumaresq Spencer post of the American Legion, Mr. R. F. Himmelhock, well known attorney and outspoken foe of organized crime has been secured as speaker for Thursday evening, February 22nd.

Mr. Himmelhock as a member of the Chicago law firm of Sidley, McPherson, Austin and Burgess, gained recent prominence through his activity in the famous Hvid case. Among many other nationally famous cases he is known for his fearless investigation. His assistance as Indiana States attorney resulted in the final capture of Hamilton and Dillenger.

His vast experience in criminal investigation and his many thrilling experiences make him one of the most interesting speakers yet presented at a Legion meeting.

Mr. Himmelhock has assumed a leadership in the crusade against organized rackets and is rated as one of the best informed in this part of the country on what he says has become a serious national menace.

All members of the post are invited to attend. There will be no charge, and a buffet lunch will be served following the meeting.
