Deerfield C. of C. Appoint Committees For Model House

The Deerfield Chamber of Commerce met Thursday evening at Shugrue's restaurant for their monthly supper meeting. President Clarence Wilson announced the following committees for the model house to be sold this summer to boost Deerfield:

Finance: Marshall Pottenger, Clarence Wilson, Charles Turner.

Executive: Clarence Wilson, Raymond Meyer, Edward H. Selig, Christ M. Willman, Edward B. Crush, Jirah D. Cole.

Legal: B. B. McRoy.

There were six guests present for the evening and four new applications for membership. Clarence Schmidt, secretary, announces that the Chamber of Commerce will join the Civic association's endeavor to encourage the citizenship program for June 14, Flag Day.

Movies by Hines Lumber Co. showing home construction in New York City were especially interesting that evening because of the discussions and plans for Deerfield's model house, now being erected on Warrington road.

Irwin Flagg returned home Saturday from a several months stay in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Deerfield School Asks Registration Of New Pupils

The Deerfield Grammar school has asked that parents of children eligible for Kindergarten or first grade next fall register at the school office during May.

The request for early registration is made to help the school better plan its fall program. Children will be eligible for first grade if they will be 6 years old by Jan. 1, 1941. Children will be eligible for Kindergarten if they will be 5 years old by Jan. 1, 1941. No exceptions to these rules can be made. Parents registering children during the month of May are asked to present their birth certificates in accordance with county regulations.

The decision to register children in the spring instead of the fall months alone is being carried out to aid the school in making adequate study and preparations for the children who are entering the Deerfield school. The cooperation of all parents will be appreciated in making these registrations. The school office is open every day from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Further information on registration can be obtained by calling the Grammar school office.

Deerfield's Tavern Question Settled

For the past two months there has been disagreement on the Deerfield Village Board over the tavern ordinance. Five years ago the board drew up an ordinance limiting the number of taverns to two. Before the final publishing of the ordinance to make it legal, another man applied for and received a license, making three taverns in the village and a week later the liquor ordinance became a law. A verbal agreement existed at that time allowing the three to operate, but when one of the three went out of business, then only two could operate.

When revisions were being made in the liquor ordinance this spring the committee decided to act according to the laws and to allow only two taverns to obtain licenses. At the April meeting of the board, Mayor C. M. Willman vetoed the amendments and as the trustees voted 3 to 2 in its favor (one trustee was absent) it could not pass, for it requires a 4 to 2 vote over the veto. It was put off until the next meeting which is May 14 and in the meantime May 1 was the day for obtaining the new liquor licenses. Fate stepped in the day before the liquor licenses expired and death took one of the tavern owners, Richard Easton.

This eliminated one tavern and the other two, Cassius Easton and Richard Kress, both made application for the renewal of their licenses. No official word has been given, but it is rumored that the board accepted fees for the renewal of the taverns of the two remaining men.

Republican and Democratic committeemen met last week in Waukegan and organized in preparation for the fall presidential election. Elmer L. Clavey is again the treasurer of the Republican group when all last year's officers were re-named. Clarence Pedersen, Republican, of precinct one, succeeds Ben Miller of Libertyville on the executive committee.

100 Women Attend Annual Session Of Deerfield Group

Nearly a hundred members of the Deerfield Woman's club gathered for their annual luncheon and meeting last Tuesday at the Open House Tea Room, Deerfield.

Mrs. C. W. Boyle, president, was in charge. Those who read committee reports of 1939-1940 were Mrs. Leslie Brand, program; Mrs. Harry Baum, membership; Mrs. E. C. Becker, press and publicity; Mrs. E. F. Nelson, hospitality; Mrs. Bert Mastro, art and literature; Mrs. Kenneth Weir, book reviews; Mrs. E. A. Wood, home and education; Mrs. Charles Turner, civic and social service; Mrs. Ray Dobbins, gardens; and Mrs. Frank Altman, Red Cross and local relief aid.

Since the club's season opened last October, programs of book reviews, plays, food demonstrations and a harvest home dinner dance have been given. A musicale was given in October.

Other officers are Mrs. Brand, first vice president; Mrs. Baum, second vice president; Mrs. Paul Dietz, recording secretary; Mrs. A. J. Mercurio, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Carl E. Frich, treasurer. Directors are Mrs. Carl L. Bates, Mrs. Turner, and Mrs. Weir.

New officers elected at yesterday's meeting included Mrs. W. D. George, second vice president; Mrs. Eugene Becker, recording secretary, and Mrs. Donald Easton, director.

Deerfield Clean-up Week Starts May 7

Home G. Casel, village trustee, announces that Deerfield Clean-up week will begin on Tuesday, May 7, and all junk must be placed in strong containers on the parkways, easily accessible for the truck. No cardboard boxes should be used. Barrels and wooden boxes and baskets will be emptied and left on the parkways by the pick-up man.

The schedule is as follows: Tuesday, May 7, North of Deerfield road and east of the Milwaukee railroad.

Wednesday, May 8, South of Deerfield road and east of the tracks.

Thursday, May 9, South of Deerfield road and west of the tracks.

Friday, May 10, North of Deerfield road and west of the tracks.

Saturday, May 11, Woodland Park subdivision.

Richard Easton Is Buried Wednesday

Richard A. Easton, age 35, passed away on Monday following a year's illness, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Walter Page, Osterman Ave., Deerfield. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the Funeral Chapel at 1900 Shermer Ave., Northbrook, and burial was in the Deerfield cemetery. Rev. F. G. Piepenbrok of St. Paul's church officiated.

Born January 28, 1905, the son of Albert and the late Jessie Hole Easton, he has lived his entire life in Deerfield. His mother's and father's parents were early settlers of the village. He is survived by his father, Albert Easton of Deerfield; a daughter Joan of Frankfort, Ind.; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Protine (Susan) of Elmhurst, and Mrs. Walter Page (Gladys) of Deerfield, and two brothers, Cassius and David of Deerfield.
