

Boy Scout Annual Camporal Will take Place May 18 - 19

The final announcement regarding the North Shore Area council annual Camporal has just been sent to all scoutmasters of troops in this area. The Camporal will be held at Turnbull Woods as in previous years and will take place on May 18 and 19.

The Camporal is the event which tests a troops outdoor program including all the conditions which a normal patrol would meet on an overnight hike. In addition it is planned to have exhibitions and demonstrations in special subjects by experts. The entire Camporal is run on a competitive basis between patrols working for an "A," "B," or "C" rating.

The tentative program starts out Saturday morning with registrations and the pitching of the camp sites by the various patrols. At the time of entry each patrol will also be judged on the basis of the neatness of their packs as they enter the camp grounds. All luggage and equipment must be carried on their backs.

In the afternoon the formal program will start with various scouting games and contests. Included in these are tent peg whitening, tent peg relay, fire laying, string burning, water boiling, and flap jack cooking. In the evening as the climax to the campfire program the Order of the Arrow will put on a special ceremony at which time they will take in some new honorary members and several men will be taken into the Brotherhood Honor.

The Sunday program includes church and more exhibitions and scouting games such as judging, signalling, flint and steel. Following Sunday lunch the patrols will again be judged and the closing event will be the awarding of the ratings of all the patrols present. Applications for entry in this must be received in the council headquarters by May 9.

"What a Life" to Be Presented at Helen Beach Studio

Henry Aldrich is here! Helen Beach Studio Theater will present "What a Life," a comedy by Clifford Goldsmith at the Ravinia Village House Friday afternoon, June 14, and Saturday evening, June 15. This play had a long run on Broadway with Ezra Stone as Henry Aldrich and was later made into a movie. The rights to produce the play have just been given to amateur groups and will be given by a Highland Park high school group of "last year's eighth graders."

Harold Schimmelfeng, as Henry Aldrich, takes his audience through the complications of life in the office of the high school principal, Mr. Bradley, acted by Jerry Casey, George Bigelow, or Bill Mann, a boy the school can be proud of, upsets the hopes and "sinking fund" with which to send Henry to college, and gives an opportunity for art to be added to the traditions of the Aldrich family. Mrs. Aldrich is played by Peggy White. Mr. Nelson an understanding educator, played by Jimmy Thompson, reveals a new set of educational values not only to Henry Aldrich but to his sweetheart, Miss Shea, secretary to Mr. Bradley. Miss Shea, or Bobby Foster, helps Barbara Pearson, or Phyllis Chandler, sweetheart of Henry and George, over the trials of a first dance. Miss Wheeler, the Glee club teacher, played by Betty Ann Wible, is in a dither because the band has been stolen, and Mr. Ferguson, the dashing detective, Jimmy Nickols, whisks her around in one exciting adventure after another. No school is complete without a Miss Eggleston, Peggy Ham, whose "heating system won't work," and Miss Pike, Patricia Goodreds, "the fish!" and Miss Johnson Dody Evans, who continually bursts forth with her happy "good morning" right in the middle of the most thrilling love scenes. Gertie, played by Ann Arenberg, discovers that a girl is worth sixty cents to Henry Aldrich. Mr. Viccitti, played by Malcolm McPhee, can't locate his daughter Mary—after all in a large high school there are so many Marys.

Mr. Patterson, Skippy Mann, a teacher who has been with the school a long time, would like nothing better than to give a certain student by the name of Henry Aldrich a big zero, for his mark in the fate deciding Roman History exam of Henry Aldrich viz. George Bigelow.

Two new parts have been written into the play: An Englishman, a visiting educator, played by Gerald Stonehill, late of England, and Henry's pal, Homer, played by Steve Meyer.

Student directors are Harold Schimmelfeng and Jimmy Nickols, assisted by Joan Holt and Bobby Foster.

Business manager is Bill Mann assisted by Peggy White.

A chorus made up from the various eighth grades will sing in Miss Wheeler's Glee club as accompaniment to Mr. Nelson, who sings frequently to Miss Shay, with the help from the visiting educator from England.

Publicity chairmen are Ying Jones and Hap Murphy, who with a group of ten other freshmen are preparing another play—"Galadiah Jones." "Bob Bock" and his orchestra will take the part of the band in the last act and continuing playing for a dance at the conclusion of the play.

Tickets may be purchased for the play only or for the play and the dance. The stage setting will be especially designed by Eleanor Erskine. Arrangements are being made for an unusually interesting and different set than has ever been used in the production of this play.

Mary Anita Jans Gives Interpretation At Graduate Recital

Mary Anita Jans, senior dramatic major will present "Herself: Mrs. Patrick Crowley" by Doran Hurley for her graduate recital to be given Saturday, May 4 in the Clarke College auditorium. The recital will be the grand climax of Miss Jans' dramatic career since her entrance as a freshman into the Clarke College Players of which she is now president. Miss Florence Kelly, harpist, will provide musical interludes of Irish selections between the acts.

"Herself: Mrs. Patrick Crowley" is a romantic tale by Doran Hurley, author of the "Old Parish," and is characterized by the friendly and kindly humor which always flavors Mr. Hurley's works. That humor is the prominent quality of Mary Anita's dramatic monologue version of the book, a version which has won not only Mr. Hurley's approbation but also his enthusiastic praise. Miss Jans' version, like the book itself, begins when the indomitable Mrs. Crowley wins the Irish sweepstakes and goes to New York. Her adventures there during the memorable three weeks include the incident of a crazed communist a venture into Cafe Society and almost everything imaginable. As such it is a worthy vehicle for a dramatic student whose roles have ranged in age from child to octogenarian, in character from a charming fancee to a nervous would-be suitor, and in nature from hilarious humor to stark tragedy.

Miss Jans, who portrayed the part of the mother in the recent production, "Out of the Shadows, has been an outstanding member of the dramatic department for the past four years, not only in her acting but also as playwright and director as well. As a playwright she has written several radio scripts including "Dreams Have a Way" and "Peace of Heart." Miss Jans has directed many productions staged by members of the Clarke College Players;

among them, "The Lady Loses Her Hoop," "None But the Lonely Heart" and "The Neighbors."

In addition to her office as president of the Clarke College Players, Mary Anita holds the position of prefect of the Sodality. As a junior she was vice-president of the Sodality and secretary of the Clarke College Players; as a sophomore she was secretary of her class as well as secretary of the Sodality; as a freshman she was vice-president of her class; and she has been a consistent honor student during her four years at Clarke. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter N. Jans of Evanston.

Mr. Jans is active in our local Kiwanis affairs from a district viewpoint. He is a past Lt.-Gov. of Division 1 of Kiwanis International on the Illinois Eastern Iowa district.

Seek More Workers In Red Cross Unit

"The more the American people endeavor to relieve the suffering caused by the war in Europe, the less desire there will be to get into war and inflict more suffering." So said Mr. Norman H. Davis, chairman of the Central Committee, American National Red Cross, in his address to the annual meeting in Chicago on April 10. Suffering among Polish refugees in German-occupied Poland, Rumania, Latvia, Hungary and Yugoslavia is intense and increasing. "In modern war," he added, "civilian casualties and suffering exceed those of the military forces."

The Highland Park unit of the American Red Cross will meet on Friday, May 3 from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. There will be work on surgical dressings, refugee garments and knitting. Please come and help!
