Variety Key to Girl Scout Interest

Today's Girl Scout is interested chiefly in homemaking, health, and arts and crafts, according to proficiency badges awarded last year by national headquarters in New York City.

Miss Girl Scout is a young lady of diversified interest. She wants to know how to cook, and how to buy foods, but most of all, how to be a gracious hostess. She is interested in good health, particularly in first aid, child care, and home nursing. She is thoroughly creative, spending much leisure time on needlecraft, design and interior decoration.

Her community and its needs are important to her. She is becoming more and more interested in the out-of-doors. She would like to do her part towards the promotion of international friendship. She's healthy, happy and eager to work, apparently making easily the adjustment from the childhood role or recipient to the adult role of contributor.

In reporting on the proficiency badges, Mrs. Arthur Page of New York City, chairman of the program committee, said that the four most popular in the homemaking field were: Hostess, cook, clothing, and foods.

"Needlecraft led in the field of arts and crafts, with design a close second," she said. "Interior decorating, drawing and painting came next. Badges in literature and dramatics showed an increase of 486 per cent, outdoor activities an increase of 225 per cent, and arts and crafts 176 per cent. In times like these it is especially gratifying to note that the badges in international friendship increased 126 per cent and in community life 118 per cent. When we consider the activity range indicated by the 1939 awards, we find that our Girl Scouts have well distributed interests that show a convincing adjustment of life."

H.S. Golfers Will Attend State Meet In Peoria May 11th

Beating a field of 56 players from 13 districts and eight schools, the Highland Park team won the opportunity to compete in the state meet next Friday with a score of 336, but lost the district plaque by one point.

The team, consisting of the four low score men, had a score of 336 and beat New Trier by 11 points and Waukegan by 12 points, but in the individual contest Waukegan took a first and a third, while Manuel de la Torre of Highland Park placed second. Upon computing the score it was found that Highland Park and Waukegan had tied, and according to the complex point system these two teams were re-scored giving Waukegan a final tally of 17 and Highland Park 16. The low score Highland Park foursome, however, will represent the district in the state meet next Friday at Peoria.

Those on the team are Manuel de la Torre, who will also compete in the individual contest, Herbert Chambers, David Horenberger, and William Wolak.
