

HERE & THERE

First, a tribute to an outstanding Highland Parker: His successful accomplishments have been an integral part in the development of our community. He has performed innumerable services which, in turn, have been indispensable in the life of our lovely town. He is a leader. He is a gentleman. He is Mr. Earl W. Geell. Congratulations to you, Mr. Geell, and may you continue your fine work.

Thoughts at Random Department: Are all Mr. Bowden's children good looking or am I seeing the same one each time? . . . Wonder why Highland Park cannot afford a stop light. The other exclusive small communities have them—Glencoe, Lake Forest, and Hubbard Woods, for instance . . . I like Johnnie Austin's column entitled "By the Way." It appears daily in the Waukegan News Sun . . . The Sunday New York Times is an education in itself . . . Understand that Harold (Bud) Pfister has been elected rush captain of his fraternity (Sigma Nu). This is a distinct honor, and this column hopes that Bud may continue his commendable work at Northwestern. This Pfister family is one and inseparable. Their boundless enthusiasm and love for their own kind is unrivaled. White orchids to the Pfisters! . . . Saw Norman Durnent the other day; Norm has picked up weight and looks well. Do hope that his college plans materialize . . . The Panther Room is looking forward to having Jimmy Lunceford, Benny Goodman, and Glenn Miller for your summer dancing pleasure. A very different crowd seems to find this famed match-box-sized dance rendezvous to their liking . . . Saw Libby Clarke step gracefully from the Northwestern "400" the other evening . . . Roberta (Bobbie) Bosworth, according to all rumors, is one of the top beauty queens of the eastern schools . . .

Wonder why guests seldom use guest towels . . . Observed Doug Brown saying, mournfully, goodbye to his lovely co-ed friend, Miss Marilyn Cook . . . Hasn't "Wiggle" a winsome smile? . . . Like Paul Haskins new convertible. His crew hair cut, too, is very becoming . . . Steve Aubrey is larger than his tremendous brother, Jim. They will be playing together on Princeton's varsity football team in the fall. These lads will, no doubt, carry on their splendid work at Princeton . . . A wit suggested the other evening, someone ought to write a book, entitled "How to Read 'How to Read a Book'"; incidentally, Mr. Adler's book is well worth your time . . . Walter Hoving's new book, "Your Career in Business" is enjoyable and instructive. Suggested reading for you college graduates who plan to enter into the business world . . . Lord Byron had a good description of war. He called it "the feast of vultures and the waste of life."

The Graduation Department: At Lincoln school: Miss Bredin's humorous and delightful acceptance speech to the graduates was thoroughly enjoyed by this column . . . Elm Place, as usual, had a most pleasant graduation . . . Top honors, however, go to Miss Buzard and her efficient staff who so beautifully planned and carried out the exercises at the high school. These graduations improve every year. Never have I seen such precision. And what a highly pleasing program it was. The speakers were faultless; their subjects were extremely interesting, very instructive, and most informative. John Butler, well deserving of all the high and enviable honors he received, epitomized, in an interesting and well spoken manner, the usefulness of our high school . . . There are not words in my vocabulary to describe the excellence of Mr. Carroll Binder's address—"This, Our World." It was beautifully presented. It summarized, in a picturesque and realistic fashion, the present situation. A congratulatory message to you, Mr. Binder, on your fine communication to us . . . The invocation and benediction, given by Reverend Christoph Keller, were lovely . . . Mr. George T. Rogers, president of the board of education, gave us thoughts which point to an old adage—"Know thy work and do it." "Do it diligently," added Mr. Rogers . . . The class marshalls, Miss Betty Murray and Ralph DeSha, did a fine piece of work. Their voices were so clear and their voice quality so pleasant . . . Frank Templeton's introductory speech, too, blended in well with this program. The graduation could not have been better. Most beautiful thought of the week department . . . "I shall pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do, or and kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again." Author unknown . . . Though this is time worn, it bears repetition, for it truly is a beautiful thought. See you next week. —Whitt N. Schultz.

Those girls who wish to go riding please notify Nancy Santi. There will be seven new additional members attending the meeting.

Briergate Group Celebrates Tenth Anniversary Tuesday

The Briergate Community Club celebrated its tenth anniversary with a dinner at Blackheath Country Club on Tuesday evening, June 18. In addition to the chicken dinner other items on the program included swimming, baseball, dancing and bridge. The club starts off its new year with the following officers, who promise to live up to the fine example set in the past by previous administrations: Herbert A. Alexander, president; Calvin Davis, vice president; Mrs. James Roberts, secretary; Avery Jones, treasurer.
