Good Features at Deerpath Theatre

What happens when a backwoods miss meets a number of forward misters from Broadway is the subject of Paramount's light comedy offering, "The Farmer's Daughter," playing at the Deerpath Thursday and Friday, June 20 and 21. Martha Raye and Charlie Ruggles share top billing, with Miss Raye in a singing, dancing comedy role.

Watch Jack Benny tame a wall-eyed bucking broncho! See him perform amazing tricks of dexterity with a rawhide lariat! Gape while single-handed he manhandles a gang of cattle-rustlers! Open your eyes at his superhuman performance at the chuck-wagon! You have seen him on the screen, and you've heard him over the air, but never before under a ten-gallon hat. It's stupendous, folks; it's fantastic, and all yours for the price of admission at Buck Benny's Wild West Show, otherwise known as the Paramount production, "Buck Benny Rides Again," playing at the Deerpath Saturday,

Sunday and Monday, June 22, 23 and 24.

A diabolical, half-crazed scientist who builds a machine which can convert human beings into minuscule creatures one-fifth their normal size is the weird central figure of Paramount's new super fantasy—in Technicolor—"Dr. Cyclops!" "Dr. Cyclops," which will be shown at the Deerpath theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 25, 26 and 27, tells the screen's supreme thrill story.

"The Second Man" First Production Of Lake Zurich Players

The feverish activity at the Lake Zurich Playhouse is the first unmistakable sign of approaching summer.

For the past six weeks members of the company have been busy with such jobs as carpentry, electrical engineering, landscaping and plumbing. The building has been much enlarged by moving the stage into one of the two-story wings of the building, and the theatre floor has been put on eight different levels. Folding chairs have been replaced by regulation theatre seats and very one of the 170 seats will provide a full view of the entire stage at all times.

For the opening bill the company has selected a brilliant comedy—"The Second Man"—by S. N. Behrman, and the cast will be headed by Sidney Breese. Others who will be remembered from last summer are Jane Sala and Don Hamner. Nan Mac Farland will make her Lake Zurich debut and will prove a valuable addition to the acting company by virtue of her Goodman theatre experience where she most recently appeared in the title role of "Elizabeth the Queen" and as Mary in "Family Portrait."

The current season will begin on Friday, June 28, and the first bill will run through Sunday night. The curtain is announced for 8:45 Day-light time, and reservations made by phoning Lake Zurich 2521 will be held until thirty minutes before curtain time.
