

Deerfield Board Gets Special Police; Hear Hospital Request

Questions of a new hospital for Deerfield, a discussion for a rifle range permit, the taverns and other business were brought up Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Village of Deerfield board of trustees.

Village president, C. M. Willman and clerk Chester Wessling and trustee E. M. Palmer were absent. Trustee Marshall Pottenger acted as chairman and village treasurer C. J. Turner, as clerk. Trustees Homer Cazal, Jirah Cole, Edward Crush and John D. Schneider voted unanimously on all questions making it a regular "love feast" remarked one of the trustees.

The first matter of business was the approval of the appropriation for $189,030. Ordinances were approved for the fining of all persons having open and uncovered wells and another for fines for starting grass fires without a written permit from the Fire Chief. The village fathers want it understood that they will give assistance to all who need help in filling cisterns and wells which constitute a danger.

Homer Cazal and his public works committee will act as thistle commissioners for the village. Lights on the main streets are to be turned on for better lighting for the summer months and until after the carnival in September. The Village Attorney Milton O. Olson was instructed to write a letter to the E. A. Meyer Construction Co., notifying them that they must repair sidewalks and curbs which their trucks broke while working on the Waukegan road paving job. Their bond will be returned when all repairs are completed.

Fire Chief Conrad Uchtman was granted the power to purchase a half dozen pairs of boots and rain coats for the firemen.

John Schneider, in reporting on the license committee, stated that the liquor commissioner, C. M. Willman (mayor) had granted only one Class D. License (tavern) and that was to the new one operated by George Sticken Jr. and Harold Peterson. Applications for the other two (Cassius Easton and Richard Kress) had both been rejected but the village was holding their $500 checks. An additional $100 is necessary. The ordinance allows but two taverns and the liquor commissioner has withheld licenses for both. The tavern owners appeals will be heard by the state liquor commission on Friday of this week.

Trustee Cazal reported that Landis Lane was a private road and petitions for grading by property owners on that street could not legally be heard. However, the road grader had helped and owners were paying for the gravel.

The village must hire an engineer for the repairs on Elm St. Bids for oil will be opened at a special meeting on Monday, July 15. Also to be heard at this time will be the question of a hospital on the former C. B. Easton property, now owned by Mrs. Margaret Warner.

John A. Hoffman, local real estate broker representing his clients, made the request for a hospital. He is to furnish the village attorney with the qualifications of those desiring to operate the hospital within the next few days and a report will be given on his findings next Monday evening.

Edward Crush of the police committee stated that fines for the past month were $108, with 14 cases (one dismissed). Special police officers appointed to assist in police duties are Russell Batt, Paul Knigge and Lester Marshall.

The Sylvan Rifle club was granted a temporary permit for small bore shooting, until the range is investigated for 30-30 gauge army rifle shooting. The range is in the clay hole at the brickyard and the police had previously stopped their shooting. Four members of the National Rifle association from Glencoe, Evanston, and Chicago pleaded for the granting of a permit for army rifle shooting. Village officials will investigate their safety devices before granting such a permit.

The board adjourned until Monday evening, July 15.

Young Republicans Stage Convention at Decatur, July 13-14

Young men and young women of Lake county who are interested in the Republican party are afforded the opportunity to participate in a real convention at Decatur, Ill. this Saturday and Sunday, July 13 and 14.

All of the enthusiasm and excitement will be available when the Young Republicans of Illinois adopt their platform and elect their officers for the election year.

In order to make the Young Republican convention more accessible and attractive to young people who hesitate to make their initial political move, the Lake County Federation of Young Republicans has arranged a great automobile caravan which will form in Libertyville at the intersection of Milwaukee Ave. and Route 176, at 9 a.m., Saturday, July 13. There the cars will be decorated with "Wilkie" and "Green" banners and a police escort will guide the parade to the convention headquarters at the Hotel Orlando in Decatur.

The only credentials necessary are that the young man or young woman be roughly between the ages of 18 and 36. Rides are available for those who lack transportation and accommodations for Saturday night at Decatur are extremely reasonable.

An opportunity to join in a party caucus and to participate in the discussions before the platform and other committees await all young people in Lake county.

Any local Young Republican leader will supply the details or one may communicate with Robert McClory, Lake Bluff, Young Republican county chairman.

Worry-Sniping As Precaution Against Imaginary Ailments

Worry-sniping as a precaution against imaginary ailments induced by war jitters on health, was advocated by Dr. Frank W. Blatchford, medical director of the North Shore Health Resort, Winnetka, in a recent radio talk presented over station WJJD in cooperation with the Illinois State Medical society.

"Worry and fear," stated Dr. Blatchford, "are a parachute troop that can descend on the body in the costume of gout, rheumatism, ulcer, or a host of other seemingly organic disorders. Although such ailment masquerades have not yet assumed alarming proportions, they are on the increase in our international life."

Crisis days, he pointed out, are bringing patients in to doctors' offices with psycho-neurosis due to exhaustion, which, in turn, produces a train of imaginary ailments. The condition gives rise to a feeling of extreme fatigue, undue alarm or anxiety, misfiring in many of the body mechanisms, and symptoms that lead to conditions resembling those which accompany stomach ulcers and unbalanced thyroid activities.

"War worriers should occupy their minds with other matters," said Dr. Blatchford. "This may sound like ostrich psychology, but it is good common sense. Emotion without release is dangerous. The fretter, the hand-wringer should busy himself with raising money for the Red Cross or gaining a deeper knowledge of his own government, that he might better exercise his own voice in it. In this way he will not only benefit his health, but might also contribute to improving conditions."

"The most sensible procedure is to live each day as best we can, and when we have done our best—go fishing," said Dr. Blatchford.

He pointed out that a worried state of mind increases the time required for a patient to recover from an illness and aggravates physical ailments. 25 years ago only two per cent of troubles were due to nervous causes. Today it is 15 per cent.

Dr. Blatchford cautioned against worrying too much over the effect of worry, and stated that some people hold the erroneous idea that worry is as dangerous as malignant cancer.

"I have known worriers to worry over 75 or 80 years of life he stated. "Worry won't cause any casualties, but it may produce a number of unnecessary ailments, not serious, perhaps, but certainly annoying. The majority of those who worry about the effect of worry are like the insomnia sufferers who are so afraid they won't sleep in the night that they don't sleep."

Dr. Blatchford divided the "war jitter" cases into three categories. First, there is the type who may have a very real ailment, which he dismisses as the result or the symptom of a distressed mental state. Second, there is the patient who complains that he is depressed, fatigued and below par because his spirits are weighed with war news—When, in reality, it is not the world's sad state which is bothering him, but merely a lack of fresh air and exercise. And third, there is the patient who may come to his physician convinced he has a stomach ulcer, or some other physical ailment, when, in reality, it is a worried state of mind that has produced symptoms simulating an organic disorder.

Election of Ghini Upheld by Court

Vincent Ghini was declared duly elected Republican committeeman of Deerfield precinct 4 by Judge Perry L. Persons last Tuesday when he dismissed a petition by Attorney V. W. Bridle, of Highland Park, challenging the selection of Ghini.

Attorney Bridle alleged in his petition that Ghini had been affiliated with the Democratic party and that his name was spelled Ghini on the ballots last April 9. Attorney B. J. Juron, representing Ghini, contended that neither of Bridle's objections was valid.

Ghini and Bridle were the only Republican candidates for committeeman in the precinct.

Last week Albert Bernardi was added to the Highland police force. He was appointed by Alderman Edwin Cowgill, chairman of the city council police committee, and will work the night shift.

Sunday, July 14, a blind bogey will be played by the men members at Exmoor. One of the largest events of the summer is nearing at the Exmoor links. The traditional "Jamboree" is going to be presented on July 17. This is Exmoor's annual invitation tournament, with over 200 contending for several prizes. Golf officials at that club are now praying for a bit of good weather for that day.

Northmoor Country club recently featured an 18 hole exhibition match between Harry Cooper, Northmoor professional and well known golfer, Claude Harmon, Tommy Armour and Dick Metz. This exhibition was open for members of Northmoor only. Also on Sunday, July 7, the initial round of the annual all-day Presidents' cup was played.

The second round of the Presidents' cup tourney will be played on July 13. An all day blind bogey will be featured by the club on the 13th. E. K. Eichengreen, a member at Northmoor, recently made a hole-in-one at that club. He got an ace on the 170 yard 17th hole, which has a par three.

by the club. The Highland Park Open, an 18 hole event in which any citizen of Highland Park may enter, will be given July 21.

No Fatalities Are Recorded During July 4th Holiday

Highland Park recorded one of the quietest Fourth of July holidays in the history of the city last Thursday, not alone from the absence of noise, but from the lack of serious accidents and injuries. According to the local police records there was only one accident recorded here and that was a car collision the afternoon of the Fourth on the Skokie highway at Prairie ave. The result was slightly bumped fenders, with a traffic tie-up at this intersection of several minutes. Aside from that Highland Park's record was clean. In fact there were no fatalities recorded in the county during the four day holiday.

Systematic patrolling of Skokie Highway may to some degree be responsible for the cutting down of accidents on this road since its installation on July 1. Ever since the state highway police started patrolling this busy highway 24 hours a day, the accidents have been fewer than before.

If the month's results of patrolling prove satisfactory, it may be found advisable for the State to maintain patrols throughout the year, not only on the Skokie, but on other main highways.
