POETRY

Mrs. Paul M. Dietz of Deerfield road had another poem in the Chicago Tribune's Wake of the News on Saturday.

*Achieve
Fasten your moorings to something,
Do not drift like a man in a trance.
The intricate web of the spider
Did not gain its rare beauty by chance.
See how carefully, slowly, it's woven
Each fiber is part of a plan;
If such can be made by a spider,
Does not God expect more from a man?*

Deerfield Bowling Academy to Open Saturday Evening

John Picchietti, veteran bowler of 23 years, will open a bowling establishment Saturday, July 13, in Deerfield at 704 Waukegan road. The grand opening will be held at 8 p.m. with Mayor C. M. Willman and other dignitaries taking part in the first-night events.

The eight alleys are the first Centennials in this section of the country, made of 39 pieces instead of 42, each 42 inches wide and 63 feet long. Screened lights have been installed to speed delivery down the maple and pine, chocolate veneer and natural color alleys. A microphone is a feature of the new place, which is to be known as the "Deerfield Bowling Academy."

Free instruction is to be given by Picchietti, who first learned the game under the late Angelo Ori in 1910-1911, reputedly the first Italian bowler along the North Shore. Picchietti bowled on the Nick Levandusky Cocktail Bar team, which contended for the national bowling league championship in 1935, went to the Columbus Ohio, Bowling congress in 1936 and has a ribbon for his work on the Holy Name society team which captured state laurels in Chicago in 1936. He bowled at one time for Steve Warner's Uptown tavern also. Picchietti managed the Majestic alleys in Highland Park in 1920-1921.

For the past twenty years he has been in the grocery business in Highland Park, where he was on the Moose championship teams in 1931 and 1932.

Begins New Home In Deerfield But No Water Available

What the village of Deerfield is going to do about a new type of problem confronting a home-builder is bothering C. E. Yous of Chicago, who recently started construction on a new home on Osterman avenue in the village.

Water, Mr. Yous thinks, is one of the prime requisites of a modern home, so one of the first acts he directed was the connecting up of the water main with the house. The buffalo box, or tap, for the main, was easily located, and workers started digging to find the water-main. The water main wasn't there.

Apparently when the contractor got that far on Osterman avenue, he ran out of pipe or just got tired. The taps are there but they're not connected with anything.

The village fathers are perturbed.
