MORRIS-LAUTZENHEISER MARRIAGE SATURDAY

On Saturday afternoon Miss Elizabeth Morris became the bride of Mr. Robert Lautzenheiser in a ceremony performed in Trinity Episcopal church by the Rev. Christoph Keller.

The bride's gown was of white mousseline de soie, sprinkled with brilliants and she wore a veil of Brussels lace held by orange blossoms. The latter had been worn by her grandmother, Miss Annie Marcy, at her marriage to Dr. Frank H. Davis. The bride's bouquet was of white roses bordered with blue delphinium. Because the bride had chosen to be married on her paternal grandmother's birthday she wore the latter's engagement ring.

Miss Mary Morris, who served her sister as maid of honor, wore yellow net and carried white daisies. The bridesmaids, the Misses Jane and Ann Morris and Virginia Lautzenheiser, wore dresses of pastel shades of net and carried garden flowers.

The best man was Mr. Julian Crabbe of Dayton, Ohio, and the ushers were Mr. Keith Shay, Mr. Richard Glidden and Mr. Stuart Smith.

The impressive church service was enriched by the singing of the girl choir of which the bride was a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Lautzenheiser left amid the usual shower of rice, the bride adroitly shielding herself with an open umbrella.

Out of town guests included the father and brothers of the groom and their wives and children from Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Davis of Winnetka, and Mrs. John Dorr Bradley of Lake Forest.

The two young people met each other at the University of Washington where both did graduate work. The bride was granted her Bachelor of Science degree from Northwestern university, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Ohio State university where he is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary fraternity.

The bride is a great granddaughter of Dr. N. S. Davis, and on her father's side she is descended from Judge Charles Morris, prominent in the early history of Nova Scotia. Mr. Lautzenheiser is a descendent of a Revolutionary war captain and is also related to the well known Firestone family.

The young couple will make their home in Akron, Ohio, where Mr. Lautzenheiser is associated with the United States Weather Bureau.

Bellows, vice-president and general manager, and were in excess of any July on record. Mr. Bellows also stated that there was a great increase in deliveries of their Super Eight cars last month, the great majority of which were equipped with the new refrigerator cooling device. This new air cooling equipment proved a great boon to users during the recent hot spell.
