JUNK IS A SCRAPPY BUSINESS, AND ONE WITH A NEW FUTURE

Do you despise junk? Well, don't, advises McDonald White in the Rotarian Magazine. "It is a big business—and, with wars on, a booming one," he says. "In the United States, for example, it is in the billion-dollar class and still growing. Industrial miracles that shame Aladdin's lamp are recreating from the junk pile useful things in an amazing variety. In fact, almost everything one buys nowadays is partly made from waste materials.

"War always booms the junk business. During the 1914-18 affair, scrap iron leaped from $4 to $42 a ton. History seems about to repeat itself, for already the price is climbing. If it continues, high steel prices may slow down construction work and production of both capital and consumer goods for years to come. Or at least until guns, armaments, bayonets, and 'duds' can be converted into plowshares. As mines are exhausted, as wars irretrievably waste nature's largesse, as man by political action cuts off his fellowman from sources of much-needed supply, the junk business will continue to grow. It's a business with a future!"

Virginia Wilson to Appear on Benefit War Relief Program

Two North Shore girls will appear in a recital of songs and dances at the Winnetka Community House on the evening of September 4. The two artists are Virginia Wilson, 354 Roger Williams avenue, Highland Park, and Madge Friedman, 415 Briarhill road, Deerfield. In an effort to raise funds for Allied war relief, they will present a program of songs and of modern dancing, built about American themes.

Miss Wilson, a mezzo-soprano, has appeared widely throughout the east and middle west, having sung before more than 200 college audiences in nine different states. Formerly a student of John C. Wilcox and Rosa Raisa, she is at present working with Vittorio Trevisan. She has appeared in Kimball Hall under the management of Bertha Ott and also sang with the Helen Hayes Dramatic company during its production of "The Merchant of Venice" at the Erlanger Theatre.

Miss Friedman, who has been a member of Martha Graham's professional class and of the Sophie Maslow group, attended Mills college where she studied with Tina Flade and received further training at the Neighborhood Playhouse before joining Martha Graham. She has been particularly concerned with modern dancing and its application to purely American themes, and in such numbers as her "American Lyric" and "Technology" her North Shore audience will be able to see examples of this type of work.

Accompanying Miss Friedman at the piano will be Elizabeth Silber Worth, who has composed the score for Miss Friedman's ballet, "Trilogy." Charles Eiferle will accompany Miss Wilson. Other North Shore people active in the production of the recital are Lois and Betty Rosen of Wilmette, Mary Schoenbrun of Winnetka, Iris Bachman of Glencoe, and Carol Bennett and Kenneth Bennett, Jr., of Highland Park.

Tickets for the recital are now available at the Winnetka Community House, Exmoor Country club in Highland Park, Northmoor Country club in Ravinia, Lake Shore Country club in Glencoe, and at the Highland Park Y.W.C.A. All profits from the recital will be turned over for use in Allied war relief.

Willard Zimmerman Plane Crash Victim Is Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Willard Zimmerman, age 32, of Northbrook, Ill., were held on Saturday afternoon at the Werhane Funeral chapel in Northbrook with Rev. F. G. Piepenbrock of St. Paul's church, Deerfield, officiating. Burial was in Ridge-wood cemetery. Mr. Zimmerman was a passenger in the airplane in which he and Arno Kunath lost their lives near Round Lake on August 14. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Valentine Zimmerman (Gertrude Schicht) and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Yore of Northbrook. Mr. Zimmerman was an employe of the Northbrook Park Bard.

Double Header Card Promised Wrestling Fans Friday Night

Lake county wrestling fans who made the trip all the way out to Peg's Grayslake arena last week only to learn the matches had to be called off because of rain, are promised a real wrestling treat for this week—a double-header wrestling hit which will feature four of the nation's top-flight heavyweight championship contenders.

The great Everett Marshall, blonde tiger man from La Junta, Colorado, and the former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, who's wrestling has earned for him an estimated quarter of a million dollars during the past nine years, wired acceptance from his 1,000 acre Colorado ranch to wrestle one of the sport's cleverest and most dangerous championship contenders, Bert Rubi, Hungarian Olympic wrestling champion. This match will be Marshall's first in Lake county, while Rubi, on the other hand, has been a consistent winner here.

The second feature attraction on the all-star card this Friday night pits Juan Humberto, 230-pound giant Mexican heavyweight wrestling champion, against Lake county's own Jim McMillen, of Antioch. This match has been developing for more than six weeks, ever since Humberto issued a formal challenge to McMillen in the commission offices.

In the supporting bouts, George Dusette, the Boston strongman returns to Lake county for the first time in more than a year to attempt to tame "Bad Boy" Brown, Memphis, Tenn., mauler, in a 30-minute time limit affair. Dusette proved one of the greatest favorites ever to appear in a Lake county ring last year when he scored three sensational victories.

The final match on the card introduces Al Swenski, claimant to the junior heavyweight championship of America, to local fans for the first time. Swenski has everything, say the nation's sports writers, so Lake county folks will have a chance to see for themselves. He meets Al "Whitey" Williams, tattooed roughster from Fox Lake, Ill.

Phil Libby, Food Commentator Offers Homemakers Booklet

Household hints from local housewives are featured in a homemakers' booklet which Phil Libby, well known food consultant and radio food commentator on WCFL will send free to thousands of women throughout the Middle West.

The offer started Monday, August 19, and will last one week. The booklet contains dozens of helpful cookery, household, and sewing hints as well as a number of Phil Libby's favorite recipes.

Typical of the ingenuity packed in this booklet is the following: "A three minute hourglass egg timer is a handy gauge for keeping track of how time is passing for a three minute charge on a long distance call." For five years Phil Libby's radio homemaking program has been a favorite with Midwestern listeners, and despite the fact that he is a male home-broadcaster, his program has outlived all others of that type in Chicago. Libby's program is heard over WCFL, Monday through Friday, at 11:15 a.m. (CST).

Phil Libby edited a recipe column for THE HIGHLAND PARK PRESS for two years previous to entering the broadcasting field.

Booklets may be secured from radio station WCFL in care of Phil Libby, Chicago.
