

34 Births During August Is Record At H. P. Hospital

The old stork has certainly given the Highland Park hospital staff a merry chase during the month of August. "To date, and the month is not over, we have had thirty-four babies born, which is the largest number recorded in any month since I became superintendent of the local hospital in 1931," said Miss Marjorie Ibsen. "In August 1939 we had 31 births recorded, but this month's record promises to surpass any previous figure."

During the past week there were twelve babies born, seven of which were boys and five girls. The births were as follows: Boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Ori, Deerfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Splett, Lincoln avenue, Friday; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Olson, Lake Bluff, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schwalback, Central avenue, Saturday; Mr. and Mrs. John Strong, Deerfield, Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClory, N. Greenbay road, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams, N. Greenbay road, Monday. Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alsbrow, Deerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cole, Mundelein, and Mr. and Mrs. John Conner, Highwood, on Saturday; to Mr. and Mrs. George Dinsmore of Chicago, Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. Albertis Wright of Libertyville, yesterday (Wednesday).

Hiking Club Again Hits Trail, Sunday

"Let us suppose, for example, that it is sometimes good for mind and body to take a walk. Before there were means of mechanical transport, men walked because they could not do anything else; they committed naturally good acts. Today, a man has to choose whether to use his car or walk. It is possible for him, by using the car on an occasion when he ought to walk, commit a morally wrong act, and it is quite probable that he will. It is despair at finding a solution to this problem which is responsible for much of the success of Fascist blood and soil ideology." This is the opinion of the angry English poet, W. H. Auden, who dips his pen in carbolic acid in an attempt to save his generation from the melancholia and exasperation that drove the sensitive Coleridge and Ruskin insane over the sadistic imbecilities of every-day society.

Next Sunday morning, Sept. 1st, at 9 a.m. sharp the North Shore Hiking club, under Izaak Walton league sponsorship, leaves the parking lot at the west end of Oak street in Winnetka to drive to the Elm street, Winnetka, railway station to pick up those hikers who come by train and arriving at 9:16 from Lake Forest and Evanston and towns between. Both men and women of all ages and all creeds are invited to show up in old and comfortable clothes, for these rain or shine, 52 Sunday mornings a year leisurely saunters through woods and along winding streams in beautiful Lake county. Bring your car if you can but come regardless as we always have plenty of them to carry the gang to the point of beginning of the walk. We rest as long and as often as anyone desires as we are not running a race. We return at 1 p.m. or sooner. No ritual and no charge, just show up. Strangers are especially invited. See you Sunday.

Here And There with W. S.

The Department of Tribute: Fifteen years ago a young, energetic man came to our town. His ambition was to establish a drug store and an eating establishment that would be indispensable in the life of our community. We feel that he has fulfilled this desire; for, he is the proprietor of the Highland Park Pharmacy and, too, the highly successful Parkside.

Vernon T. McMahon, an interesting gentleman, has two traits (among others) which we admire. One is his indefatigable willingness to work—Mr. McMahon averages about 60 hours a week! The other is the modesty depicted in his character. I had a difficult time trying to unearth the many successful things Mr. McMahon has accomplished during his eventful life; for, he continually diverted attention from himself and focused it upon his two capable and efficient assistants—Les Delhaye and Roy Delhaye. Mr. McMahon claims that these two men have been essentialities to him.

Mr. Vernon T. McMahon we salute you. May your already successful achievements continue; and, may whatever you have planned for the future be, too, wrapped in success!

The Department of Random Thoughts: Someone ought to do something with Sky Harbor . . . Poor Hollywood—it is running out of new ideas . . . Attractive Miss Marilyn Gooder, we are informed, has no immediate plans for the future . . . Wish Artie Shaw had never disorganized his former band . . . This summer has sped past entirely too fast! . . . Miss Phoebe Brooks did more than an efficient job this summer assisting her friend, Miss Barbara Timm . . . "Out of My Mind," the weekly column of Katherine Brush, is always interesting . . . Rumor has it that Paul (Hack) Haskins is looking forward to his sophomore year at Cornell university . . . The Johnsons, of Miss Isabella Johnson fame, are away, we are informed. Many of the lads on the shore are depressed about this departure . . . Mary's Cupboard, a delightful spot where tasty food is always enjoyed, seems to be gaining popularity rapidly. It is located on Greenbay road, one block south of the street on which New Trier High school rests itself. Try this nice eating shop sometime . . . Our High school football team is going to miss John Heath this year . . . Tom Simpson, looking sturdier than we have ever seen him, says he is making a diligent effort to "get in shape" for wrestling at Northwestern . . . How many positions does Walter Stunkel hold . . . Two beauty queens in about 1945—Miss Barbara Blessing and Miss Jessie Hadley . . . George Aubrey is developing into quite a powerful lad. Wonder if George is still planning on matriculating at Yale? . . . Dan Davis and Gordy Ball would like to sell their good looking convertibles to the highest bidder . . . Do hope the night air does not bother Miss Rosemary Burghart's throat too much! . . . New automobiles will be out soon. They tell me that the new Ford line steals the show! . . . Understand Miss Ann Miller has another suitor, a Mr. Bill Murray—co-captain of Washington and Lee's crack track team . . . Chris Keller (son of Reverend Keller) and his pretty bride are getting along wonderfully in the good old Southland . . . Jim Snobble is having lots of fun up in Wisconsin this ought-to-be-warmer summer . . . "We Stand Here" (an article by two lads prominent in the student bodies of Harvard and Yale) appearing in this month's Atlantic, tells where the college man stands on the foreign situation . . . The picturesque speech and patter department of the new Reader's Digest is interesting reading. Take this word picture, for instance, drawn by C. U. Ellis: "Yachts at anchor, curtsying gently" . . . "Salesmen are the ambassadors of Commerce" . . . Hasn't this been a different summer? . . . One of our harsher critics said, "why do you always write nice things about people?" We felt flattered at this anti-complimentary interrogation, but replied in this terse statement: Remember that there is always good in people, too. Why not observe these traits. Everyone has their good points!

The Most Beautiful Thought of the Week Department: "Defeat should never be a source of discouragement, but rather a fresh stimulus." Mr. South expresses optimism and realistic idealism, here. Again, let us keep our chins up and fight for what we know is right.

—Whitt N. Schultz

A society woman's 8-day tour in a trance. She received one shock when she woke up in the hospital and was handed her husband's divorce papers, and still another when the judge said young wives shouldn't let themselves get into trances. Read about this strange marital upset in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.
