County Republican Leaders Make Final Plans For Campaign

Final campaign plans will be made by Lake County Republican leaders this week to bring out the largest vote ever had in the county's history.

William M. Marks, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, announced that the 95 precinct committeemen will assemble at 6:30 p.m. (Sept. 26) Thursday at Hotel Karcher, Waukegan, while in the afternoon at 2:30 p.m. the Republican women's organization will meet with Mrs. Robert Ticken of Libertyville, also at Hotel Karcher.

Following their huge county-wide picnic at Lake Villa last Sunday, the Lake County Republicans were called to assemble at Hotel Waukegan Friday night by Wesley Carey, Federation Director.

Seven thousand citizens attended the county-wide picnic Sunday where they were greeted by Wayland Brooks, candidate for U. S. senator, and Dwight H. Green, candidate for governor.

Brooks called attention to the New Dealers for their failure to provide adequate defense even though Roosevelt had 60 million dollars to spend. Brooks charged that Roosevelt was either negligent or not equipped to handle the presidency for a third term by his failure to provide defense, especially when he knew that Hitler proclaimed to the world that Germany would re-arm in 1935.

Green attacked the Kelly-Nash-Nudelman machine for increasing the tax burden on Illinois citizens to support 50,000 political payrollers.

Musart Club Meets

The Musart Club will meet next Monday afternoon, Sept. 30, at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Earl D. Fritsch. All members are urged to be present. Mrs. Warren Hints will be hostess.

Reminiscences Of Early Association With Willkie Family streets, while the Willkie family lived at the corner of 19th and A. We saw considerable of the family through this close association. Residing next door to us, as a roomer in our neighbor's home, was James J. Davis, senator from Pennsylvania, and Herman Willkie was police judge. Davis served as secretary of labor under Harding and Coolidge's administrations.

"Our local high school was on 18th street between Main and A streets. On back of the high school was a field where all of us youngsters would gather to play the familiar games of those early days. Naturally the younger youngsters tagged along, and many times Wendell Willkie was allowed to enter into our games. He was just the average boy, who left for school with a shining face in the early morning, only to be covered with dirt a short time later. Yes, he went barefooted in the summer, just as we all did (of course summer started in April in Indiana) and it was necessary to cut costs on footwear.

"The Willkie family lived in a large, square, rather pretentious white house with a big porch across the front; a stolid, solid building without the gingerbread of the 90's. "Inside it seemed just a little barren, for Wendell's father, Herman Willkie, had a prosperous legal business and Mrs. Willkie, a brilliant woman and Indiana's first feminine lawyer, was engrossed in working at his side in the office. An enormous fireplace, which the Willkie's used a lot, contributed cheer to the home.

"Most of the residents of Elwood owned a cow, and being located in the city, the cows had to be pastured on the outskirts. It was an uncommon sight to see the cows led down Anderson street to Duck Creek along which was located the pasture. It was in this pasture that the Willkie's and Pertz kept their cows, and it was in this cow pasture that the reception was held for Mr. Willkie when he gave his acceptance speech a few weeks ago. It is a long time since I have been in Elwood," said Mr. Pertz, "in fact, our family moved from there in 1904, settling in Lafayette, Ind. I remember the Willkie family well, and can recall that they held the esteem of all the residents of that community. Wendell had to struggle for an existence, just as you and I, and I am sure with his background, he should make a good leader. I regret that I was not present when he gave his acceptance speech, but I have sent my congratulations and good wishes to him, and have already had a letter in return thanking me for my interest."

Another Highland Park resident who knew the Willkie family when they lived in Elwood is Edgar Ball, 941 Ridgewood drive. At the present time Mr. Ball is working with the Illinois Republican Finance Committee in Chicago. Mr. Lester Ball, Edgar's brother, who was a former Highland Park resident, now of Evanston, sat on the speakers' platform in Elwood when Mr. Willkie delivered his acceptance speech. Lester Ball was accompanied by his wife, his father-in-law, and sister-in-law who were raised in Elwood. In fact his father-in-law, Mr. Williams, was a personal friend and political enemy of the elder Mr. Willkie.

"Robin Hood" To Be Presented Oct. 11 At High School

the Greenwood of Sherwood Forest, the awesome majesty of the court of King John and the brilliant color and spectacle of a knightly tournament. Frier Tuck, Little John, The Tinker and Robin Hood will practice their merry pranks, all brought to life by Edwin Strawbridge, his supporting company and Martha Picken, narrator, who has outstanding ability in speaking the lines for every character.

Besides "Robin Hood" on October 11, the play, "Run, Peddler Run!" (February 28, 1941) and the John Erskine-Louis Gruenberg opera adaptation of "Jack and the Beanstalk" (April 18, 1941) will constitute this season's Junior Programs series. Mrs. Albert Bushey, Highland Park 646, is general ticket chairman. Mrs. Robert Thompson at Elm Place, Mrs. William Blessing at Ravinia, Mrs. Sidney Parry at Lincoln and Mrs. George Straub at Braeside Schools are in charge of tickets, which are to be sold to children at the same prices as last year. tion the southeast corner of Central and First would be designated as the official stand. To supplement this stand, the west side of St. Johns avenue, north of Central avenue would also be made available for parking the cabs.

Chief Andrews stated that to prevent the cab parking space west of the tracks from becoming a mud hole in wet weather it would be necessary to improve its surface with gravel. In line with this thought the council gave the Department of Streets permission to proceed with this improvement.

The subject of increasing the tax levy to provide much needed funds to expand the police department was brought up for discussion. Corporation Counsel McKenna was instructed to look into the legal aspects of submitting this proposal to the electorate at the general elections to be held in November. It is understood that notice of such an additional levy must be publicly posted forty days before the issue is presented to the public for its decision at the polls.

Corporation Counsel McKenna stated he would have his report ready by Wednesday for action by the council at that time. In order to pass on this subject before the expiration of the forty day deadline, the council voted to adjourn until 5:45 p.m. Wednesday at which time the matter will again be brought up.

After adjournment, Commissioner Sharp put in an eloquent plea for attendance and support of the Highland Park Young Mens club boxing show scheduled for the high school auditorium on October 4th. Your reporter adds his plea to that of Commissioner Sharp for support of this very well worth while enterprise, details of which appear elsewhere in this newspaper.

Additional Deerfield Locals

A building permit was issued this week at the Deerfield Village Hall to William G. Brown of Glen Ellyn for a one and one-half story frame residence to cost $13,800 on Briehill road.

Robert Page Jr. made his second parachute jump at the Curtis airport in Glenview on Sunday. It was an exhibition event.

Miss Dorothy Wessling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wessling, 607 Deerfield road, has enrolled at North Central College at Naperville, Ill. She will be a senior this year and is majoring in the field of Home Economics.

Miss Olive Frantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Frantz, has returned to North Central College at Naperville, where she is taking post-graduate work in addition to her duties as assistant registrar and instructor in typing and shorthand.

Leonard C. Larsens Hosts Saturday At Anniversary Party

Between 35 and 40 friends and neighbors were guests at a unique twentieth anniversary celebration given last Saturday evening at the beautiful new Ravinia home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Larsen, 1902 Flora place. The Larsen yard presented a picturesque scene, illuminated by a bright harvest moon and gaily colored Chinese lanterns. Guests entered enthusiastically into the spirit of the occasion, participating in bridge, old time games and story telling. Climax of the festivities came well after midnight when Len and May (the Larsens), dressed as bride and bridegroom, were the principals of a comedy shotgun wedding.

Refreshments were served at midnight, consisting of many homemade delicacies, reinforced by old-fashioned "roasting ears" and "hot dogs" cooked on an open-air barbecue. Mr. and Mrs. Larsen, as newcomers to Highland Park, have earned wide popularity through their frequent and generous hospitality.

"Pride and Prejudice" At Deerpath Theatre

"The Ramparts We Watch," to be presented at the Deerpath Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, September 25 and 26. Among the characters who succeed in bringing to life this graphic story of America's role in the World War era are Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Gen. John J. Pershing, Herbert Hoover, Kaiser Wilhelm, Newton D. Baker, and young Franklin Roosevelt. Many historic scenes in this first full-length feature picture of The March of Time have never before been seen on U.S. movie screens.

Bounding from one bright comedy situation to another, "Pride and Prejudice," picturization of Jane Austen's romantic novel, starring Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier, will be presented at the Deerpath theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 27, 28 and 29. Miss Garson, remembered for her "Mrs. Chips," again has been given a role ideally suited to her versatile talents as the prejudiced Elizabeth Bennet, while Olivier gives one of his finest performances as the proud Darcy.

"All This, and Heaven Too", the brilliant novel by Rachel Field, which has been one of the best-selling books of the decade, now comes to the screen in all its dramatic essence with Bette Davis and Charles Boyer in the starring roles. The film will be shown at the Deerpath theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 30, October 1, 2 and 3.

Reading and Tea for "Bundles for Britain"

Mrs. Helen O. Roesing will read Jan Struther's "Mrs. Miniver" at the home of Mrs. William D. Webster, 718 Noyes street, Evanston, at 2 p.m. on Thursday, October 3. An admission charge will be collected for the benefit of Great Britain. Tea will follow the program.

HOW IT MAY BE USED

An FHA insured Modernization Loan may be used for many types of improvements to the house and grounds. To repair the roof, or paint the exterior, or lay a driveway. To build a new wing, a porch, or a garage. To refinish walls and floors. To modernize the plumbing, the wiring, or the heating system. To build in cabinets and shelves and closets.
