Among Highland Park residents who have visited Barrington's "House of The Year," sponsored by the Barrington Lions club, are: Mrs. J. H. Briggs, Ruth S. Hardacre, Solveig Thompson, Esther Croft and E. E. West.
Over 5,000 visitors, representing almost every community in north-eastern Illinois, as well as 18 other states, have inspected the house in the few weeks it has been open. The home, located in beautiful Jewel Park in one of the most desirable spots in suburban Chicago, will be given away on Dec. 23, 1940.
The Barrington Lions club has invested $12,000 in its six-room model home. The residence is of early American style built in Autumn tint brick. The kitchen is fully equipped with cabinets and linoleum covered counters. The carpeting and window treatments are furnished with the house. The heating system is forced warm air type with gas-fired unit, and hot running water is furnished by an automatic Rex water heater.

Warning Tickets Being Issued For Overtime Parking

Warning tickets are being issued motorists for parking violations in the business district by the Highland Park police department, according to Chief Rex Andrews of the local force. This is being done to eliminate overtime parking, and to build up a better relationship between business men and the public at large.
"We must take some measures to insure adequate parking facilities in our business district, and it is not our aim to be unreasonable in the matter. These warning tickets are for the purpose of seeking the cooperation of the public without drastic enforcement measures."
"For some time we have been concentrating on speeders, in an effort to decrease accidents in this community, and many citizens have called expressing their appreciation for our efforts in this matter," said the chief.

Improve Safety And Appearance Of Skokie Are Objectives

Improvement of the appearance of the Skokie boulevard and greater safety to motorists and pedestrians while using it are objectives of the North Shore Property Owners Association which has started a study of conditions on the highway.
Cooperation of nearly 100 civic and other associations on the North Shore is being sought by the property owners group in behalf of the residential welfare of the entire area.
"The Skokie Boulevard, with its Federal Route 41 and its excellent location and construction, is now one of the most useful and busiest highways in the entire State of Illinois," Marion T. Martin of Lake Forest, president of the association, pointed out. "For the good of everyone concerned, we believe all local county and state officials should receive the fullest cooperation from the public in promoting the utmost possible safety on the Skokie, and we believe that it would be a major tragedy if unnecessary commercialization were allowed to ruin the character of the boulevard and its immediate surroundings. Uniformity as to structure heights, set-back distance of advertising and other signs, and like regulations should be and can be enforced."
The North Shore Property Owners Association recently joined with other bodies and individuals in opposing the granting of permission to operate an amusement park just west of the Skokie at Happ road outside of Wilmette.

Infant Welfare to Meet Next Monday With Senior Board

The October meeting of the Highland Park Ravinia Center of the Infant Welfare society will be held on Monday, the 28th, at the home of Mrs. C. W. Schaaf, 200 Ravine drive. This meeting will be an important one for it is to be a joint meeting of the regular group and the Senior Board.
Interest in the work of the Infant Welfare Society has been growing steadily, and in order to make it possible for more women to join the local center, it was decided two years ago that all members who had been active for five years or longer would form a Service Board and hold their meetings separately, thus making the organization much larger but not unwieldy. Each group sews for children, the regular center alone turning out 1,300 garments last year, sends workers to the station clinic which is located on North Halsted street in Chicago helps at the local Thrift Shop and gives volunteer workers for the Community Chest drive.
Because of their identical aims these two groups try to have a joint meeting each year and for the meeting at Mrs. Schaaf's, Mrs. Edwin Hadley and Mrs. Bernard Newman are bringing as a special guest Miss Hall of the Infant Welfare Nursery school who will give a talk on the work of that branch of the organization.

His talk was very timely, and offered excellent possibilities for the thinking merchant who was anxious to preserve his business.
