League Study Group Meets Next Monday

The regular meeting of the League of Women Voters Study group which is considering "American Foreign Policy in the Making", will be held on Monday, October 23, at 1:30, at the Highland Park Public Library. The chairman of the Department of Foreign Affairs of the League, Mrs. Louis Haller, is directing the work of this very thoughtful group of women.

This particular meeting will study "Nazi Objectives—the World If Germany Wins," a subject which illustrates a major change in world affairs that affects our foreign policy. The members of the group who will handle next Monday's meeting are Mrs. Milton Arenberg, Mrs. James Becker, Miss Claire Benecke, Mrs. Vernon Fox, Mrs. Melville Keim, Mrs. Walter Lillienfeld, Mrs. George Lyman, and Mrs. Lee Supple.

Future meeting of the study group will consider the major changes in America's foreign policy resulting from Germany's threat.

The League of Women Voters has a Publications Chairman, the need for which you will see when you know that the 1940-41 publications list enumerates 150 pamphlets, fliers, and kits prepared by national headquarters for distribution to more than 550 local Leagues engaged in the study and practice of government. The local chairman is Miss Claire Benecke, who will gladly help locate desired information as well as sell pamphlets needed for study.

There are six new publications, of which the most timely is "1940 Foreign Policy Planks and Interpretations," presenting the Republican and Democratic platform planks dealing with national defense, tariff, reciprocal trade and immigration, with excerpts from President Roosevelt's and Wendell Willkie's acceptance speeches.

The "Orientation Course for New League Members" by Constance Roach, National League Organization Secretary, is designed to give new members an understanding of representative democracy, and to show how their membership in the League of Women Voters provides the opportunity to strengthen democratic government.

"A Story of Achievement for the Electorate" reveals the League in a triple capacity: a publishing house; a university for higher learning; a business with 58 branch offices. It recounts the organization's famous pioneer endeavors and amazing legislative successes.

All citizens could profit by reading the "Congressional Guide" by Florence Kirlin, National League Congressional Secretary, a 22-page pamphlet covering the legislative process from the introduction of bills to the Presidential signature.

League members seeking to know what states impose tariffs and who pays for trade walls will find the answers in a comprehensive study kit on "Interstate Trade Barriers," "Our Concern," last of the new series, is a patriotic finance leaflet designed to show the League's concern to fortify free government in the U.S. through persistent, intelligent work on the part of citizens.

New members interested in securing information regarding the less recent, but no less valuable publications, for instance "The Voter's Handbook" would do well to talk with Miss Benecke.

H. P. Willkie Club Offer Services to Aid Local Voters

The Highland Park Willkie club with headquarters at 13 S. St. John's Ave. is very busy working in each precinct to check the voters and see that they are registered.

The work is being carried on by groups of volunteer workers who will go from door to door in the next two weeks assisting people in any way they can before and on election day. A complete checking is desired, and any one wishing information may apply at headquarters of the club or by phoning H.P. 183. All the work done by the Willkie club is voluntary and free of charge. There are no dues or fees, and they maintain an information bureau open to all voters. The club gladly welcomes new members who wish to stop in and sign a membership card. There will be cars available to take voters to the polls on election day, young ladies anxious and willing to stay with the children, etc., that day.

The young man or young woman who stops at your door to question you on the number of people voting from your house, whether they are registered or not, etc., is giving his or her time and energy merely in an effort to get the voters out on November 5. An effort is being made through the Willkie club to acquaint everyone with the rules and regulations of voting, places, and hours to vote and any other questions you may have. For further information stop in at 13 S. St. John's or call the Willkie club at H.P. 183.
