Administration Comments

By ELMORE M. MURPHY

Meeting in conjunction with the League of Women Voters' Town hall session in the Community House, the city council last Monday evening was on what one may aptly term "dress parade."

The gathering sponsored by the league under the chairmanship of its president, Mrs. Phillip E. Ringer, was arranged with the two-fold purpose of giving the council a chance to report on its stewardship of civic affairs and at the same time allow the citizens of the community an opportunity to interrogate the commissioners on various problems confronting the city at this time.

As Mrs. Ringer so timely remarked in her introductory comments it certainly was a relief to attend and take part in a meeting strictly confined to local affairs at a time when the scene, both national and international, was in such a topsyturvy condition.

Upon his introduction to the audience by the chairman, Mayor Ronan drew a word picture of the more important problems facing his administration and what steps have been taken to date toward their solution.

As head of the Police Department he also outlined the steps of reorganization either already completed or planned in this branch of the city's government.

The keynote of the mayor's remarks centered largely on the lack of funds available in the city's treasury for the many improvements which the community so badly needs.

Commissioner Gourley as head of the department of Public Health and Safety outlined the duties of his office and also gave a short resume on both the completed and contemplated improvements in the water main system under his jurisdiction.

Commissioner Sharp, using the recently printed financial report of the city as a text-book, pointed out in an interesting and lucid manner just where the city stood financially and why many needed improvements would have to be postponed until the community was in a better position to pay for them.

As custodian of the incinerator and generalissimo of issuing water bills, Commissioner Sharp has probably the two most unpopular duties to perform in the city's government.

Concerning the former he stated that all would be forgiven and forgotten just as soon as the new plant is completed. As to the latter, the record speaks for itself. Out of more than 3,000 bills issued only 31 are delinquent at this writing.

In closing his remarks Commissioner Sharp stated that if the citizens of the community wanted the many improvements for which the city is now unable to pay, they will undoubtedly have to vote for an increase in the tax rate from 67 cents to a higher rate on a referendum ballot in the near future.

In reporting on his department Commissioner Swanson called attention to the $10,000 saving effected during the past fiscal year. This saving was made possible, he said, by economies effected both in purchases of material and labor hired. By giving five men steady employment at $140 a month labor costs have been considerably reduced in comparison with the old method of piece-meal employment in which a large number of men were used.

Mrs. B. F. Ramsdell To Discuss Charm of Early Handicraft

"The Charm of Early Pennsylvania Handicraft" by Mrs. Bentley F. Ramsdell will be given on Wednesday, November 6, at 10 a. m. at the Highland Park Woman's club. This is the second in a series of talks on antiques sponsored by the Collectors' group of the club.

Mrs. Ramsdell will cover a wide range of subjects including butter molds, china, wooden dower chests, weaving, painted tin, and the primitive art known as "Fractur." From her unique and valuable collection, Mrs. Ramsdell will bring many items to show her audience. A recent number of the magazine "Antiques" carried a photographic reproduction of a printed bedspread of early Pennsylvania origin, which is owned by Mrs. Ramsdell.

Tickets for the course or for the single lecture are available to the public. Mrs. Wilford C. Shipman is chairman of the Collectors' Study group with Mrs. Theodore L. Osborn as vice-chairman.

Golden Jubilee At High School Thursday, Nov. 7

Next Thursday evening, Nov. 7, at 8 o'clock, hundreds of alumni and former students of Deerfield Shields High school will assemble at the Highland Park High school (formerly Deerfield Shields) in honor of its golden jubilee. A birthday party in commemoration of the school's first half century will begin at 8 p. m.

All buildings in the school will be open for inspection and teachers, old and new, will be in their classrooms. Mr. Sandwick will be host in the English Club Room, the meeting place for alumni.

An exhibit of old photographs, class pins, rings and other trinkets reminiscent of former High school days, will be displayed in the girls' gym.

The local high school first came into existence in 1890. During the years from 1890 to 1900 it was located in the upper story of Brand's paint shop, which building is still standing at the corner of Second street and Central avenue. At that time there were only two teachers, a principal and an assistant. The first principal was Edward Chase.

In the year 1900, Shields hall was erected, which sufficed until 1914 when a group of buildings were built. In 1907 the district was enlarged to take in all of the city of Lake Forest. Previously only the south half, Calvert's crossing being the boundary line, was in the district.

Mr. Richard L. Sandwick, who was doing graduate work at the University of Chicago, was secured in 1903 to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Chase, who resigned to go into real estate. He served as principal until a few years ago when he retired to become superintendent of the district.

It will be deeply interesting to all former graduates to see the progress made along educational lines, and to inspect the new building recently completed by the Vocational Trades department.

Alycon To Screen "The Golden Fleecing"

Machinations of racketeers are turned to hilarious use in the comical adventure of Lew Ayres among a group of the toughest denizens of a big city in "The Golden Fleecing," mirthful romance with Rita Johnson, showing at the Alycon on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Another delightful package of gala entertainment is offered moviegoers in the "Great Walt Disney Festival" on this double-feature program. This novel attraction is all in Technicolor.

Aside from being sheer entertainment on every count, "One Million B. C." is an outstanding screen achievement. Co-starring Lon Chaney, Jr., Carole Landis and Victor Mature, the picture tells a simple story of two prehistoric tribes. On the double-feature program at the Alycon for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. You also see "Comin' 'Round the Mountain," with Bob Burns. Others of note in the cast are Una Merkel, Jerry (Yahod) Colonna and Jack Benny's Don Wilson.

Signor Eusebio Conciardi, famous operatic star, was the special guest of Highwood citizens last night (Wednesday) at a mass meeting held in Labor temple, under the auspices of the local Republican club. The meeting, under the chairmanship of Jack Harmon of Highland Park, was for the purpose of discussing the issues in the current political campaign, and was well attended by both men and women. Signor Conciardi, who in recent years has been the head of his own conservatory in Chicago where he is a popular voice and dramatic coach, was received enthusiastically. His program included both popular and classic numbers.

Skokie Players to Present Fall Play Saturday, Nov. 16

The Skokie Players of Highland Park will present their Fall play on Saturday evening, November 16, in the Elm Place school auditorium. The play chosen is Ayn Rand's three-act comedy-drama, "Night of January 16th."

At the time of the suicide of Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king and financial juggler, revealing the complicated failure of his international financial interests, it was rumored that he had only faked his death, and really had departed to South America to live incognito and in luxury on a fortune that they had established there. This story is the basis of the play.

The subject of the play is a murder trial, and an unusual feature of it is the recruiting of 12 members of the audience to serve as the jury. These members will not be "planted" in the audience, but chosen by lot. Jurors selected will be on a professional basis for they will be paid a refund amounting to the price of their ticket to the show.

The cast has been selected, construction of the setting begun and rehearsals are well under way according to R. G. Marks of Highland Park, who is directing the play.

Strictly speaking, this is a play without a heroine, but Ruthe Gould, president of the Skokie Players, has been chosen for the leading feminine part, that of Karen Andre, defendant in the murder trial; nor has it a hero, the principal male role being that of the prosecuting attorney, which will be taken by Vernon Fox.

"Night of January 16" had a long run in New York and has toured the United States. The late Percy Hammond, dramatic critic on the New York Herald-Tribune wrote of it. "I have the word of no less an expert artist and showman than George M. Cohan that 'Night of January 16th' alternately chilled and fired his blood with the drama's guises and fevers, more than any other masterpiece that has come within his experience."

Italian Women's Club to Hear Noted Social Worker

Notable among women of Italian descent who are playing an important part in social and civic life, is Miss Emma Martini, president of the Italian-American Women's Educational Forum of Chicago.

Because of her many achievements in developing Americanism among her countrymen, Miss Martini has been invited to address the Highwood Italian Women's Prosperity club this (Thursday) evening. She will discuss current events, with particular reference to their economic significance.

In 1936 Miss Martini was a Republican candidate for Commissioner in Cook county.

The meeting is open to the general public and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone. A large attendance is anticipated.

Hope Summers Is Also Scheduled for Wednesday

The usual weekly meeting day of the Highland Park Woman's Club will bow to the great American right of suffrage and its expression in the national election on Tuesday, November 5, by holding the meeting on Wednesday, November 6.

Wednesday will have a full day's calendar at the club! At 10 a. m. there will be one of the major-interest lectures and the second in a series sponsored by the Collectors' Study Group of the club. "The Charm of Early Pennsylvania Handicraft" will be presented by Mrs. Bentley F. Ramsdell. Mrs. Ramsdell, an able lecturer, is also a collector of note and will have several of her own choice pieces on display. Her lecture will include butter molds, china, wooden dower chests, weaving and the primitive art known as "Fractur." This is decoration on paper and was used years ago to embellish bibles, pictures, wedding certificates, and other formal subjects.

At 12 noon luncheon will be served at the club with Mrs. Marshall S. Johnson and her committee in charge.

Hope Summers

Hope Summers, who has many friends in Highland Park and is an actress of talent, will appear before the club at 12:45. Miss Summers is scheduled for a three act playlet which will probably be a shorthand version of "Double Door," in which vehicle she will play the lead at the Guild theatre in Evanston during December. It is said to be a strange, exciting play, little known in this vicinity.

Miss Summers is also well known as head of this group theatre in Evanston. She directed, as well as produced, the first play of this season there, "Petrieved Forest." In addition to recitals and her work at the Guild theatre, Miss Summers (Continued on page 3)

Return From Trip, But Hoard Catch

Dr. B. E. (one shot, Bull Moose) Christenson, Paul "Old Hickory" Olson, Gordon "Iron Man" Leonard and "Dude" Charles Hans, of Chicago, have just returned from a three weeks hunting and fishing trip near Snake Falls, Ont. We say it was a three week's trip, but according to close relatives, the three weeks trip took six month of preparation. In fact when the party left they resembled the early pioneers starting out on a pilgrimage.

Leaving Highland Park, the four huntersmen drove north to Hudson, Ont., where they left their car and then traveled by boat 265 miles, into the northwest wilds of Canada. During their stay they shot four deer, 100 ducks, 2 moose, 16 geese and caught lots of fish. One of the moose was the largest ever shot in that vicinity.

Fifteen hundred feet of moving pictures taken on the trip, will be shown to members of the Lion's club next month, at a venison dinner to be given by Christenson, Olson and Leonard.

(Had a steak been forthcoming as was promised by a member of this party, the above story would not have appeared in THE PRESS. It seems that the hunters are leary of the demands of their friends and prefer to hoard their catch.) "Just a little confidential advice to friends seeking a repast, don't waste your time, it won't do you any good."
