

Lord Baden-Powell, Scout Founder, Dies

Lord Baden-Powell, 83, founder of the Boy Scout movement, died yesterday (Wednesday) at Nyeri, his home in Kenya Colony.

He had been reported critically ill in November, but after two weeks was said to be much improved.

Lord Baden-Powell, a lineal descendant of the early American set-ler, John Smith, had resided in Africa since 1937 when he was forced by failing health to abandon his active life in London.

In commenting on the departure of the founder of Scouting, Clifton G. Speer, scout executive of the N. S. district, said, "the Chief Scout of the World, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the man who gave the world its greatest leisure time Character Building Citizenship Training Program for Boys is not dead! His life and his influence over tens of millions of boys all over the world since early in this century will be vital for centuries to come. His journey to another Camp Site places on every Scout and Scouter a responsibility and a challenge to live the Scout Way of Living; to provide the opportunity to all boys and men everywhere to participate actively in this great program. As one who was fortunate to know him personally I accept this blow to our movement as a challenge to see that more boys shall have the blessings of his program."

"Soo Yong" Chinese Actress On Sunday Evening Club Program

Soo Yong, the Chinese girl who played two parts in the play "The Good Earth" comes to the North Shore Sunday Evening club next Sunday evening, January 12th. She is a really great actress of the stage and screen.

Soo Yong is gorgeously costumed in her program of monologues—selections from the Chinese drama and her impersonations of well known stars.

Soo Yong made her Broadway debut with Katharine Cornell in "The Letter," after which she endeared herself to American audiences from coast-to-coast as the distinguished Mistress of Ceremonies for China's greatest actor, Mei Lan-Fang.

When Hollywood beckoned, Miss Yong played with Garbo in the "Painted Veil"; with Gable in "China Seas"; with Shirley Temple in "Stowaway"; and with Wallace Beery, Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Rosalind Russell and other film notables.

She played the lead in MGM's "The Rainbow Pass"; and in "The Good Earth," with dozens of distinguished actresses competing for two of the most exacting character roles, the Ancient One and the Aunt—both went to Soo Yong.

Her program is both Oriental and Occidental.
