Present Two One Act Plays Thursday At Redeemer Church

You'll want to see the two one-act plays on February 6, at the Redeemer Lutheran church on Central and McGovern avenue.

One is a delightful comedy called "Little Darling," in which Mary Lou Tjaden, as the "little darling" steals your heart and your laughs as she turns the table on her sister Viola, characterized by Ruth Brandt, who sets out to steal the football hero, Bob Zueske, a boy friend of her sister, Eleanore, played by Myrtle Grossman. Ray Grossman takes the part of the proud father of three daughters. Juniper, the colored maid, is Mable Broege.

The other play is an exciting mystery comedy. It takes place in an old, deserted house to which a boy's club and a girls' club have a key; although neither of them know this. There is a bank robber at large who they think is hiding in this house. Those taking part in the play are: Lois Zaeske, Betty Tjaden, Dot Bonn, Clara Olson, Lois Holly, Dorothy Jefferson, Jean Shuttes, Robert Preuse, Charles Lichtwalt, Richard Hagen and Stanley Johnson. You won't want to miss these plays.

39 Hikers Brave Sunday Elements For Outdoor Fun

Last Sunday's all day snow storm did not prevent 39 hikers from attending their regular outdoor recreation.

Led by Lloyd Faxon of Winnetka, the hike began at the iron bridge about two miles northwest of the Orphans of the Storm home on the Des Plaines river. After a three mile tramp on the trail along the river, the hikers returned through the woods and fields a total of six miles.

Among the Highland Park hikers on this their first hike with the club was Miss Seiferle, a highly cultured native of Switzerland. She is in charge of one of the departments in a large and prominent Chicago factory. The suburbs north of Winnetka, as far as Waukegan, will soon furnish as many hikers as those coming from Winnetka south to Chicago, if the response to the NSHC notices appearing in this paper continue at the present rate. For information about the club call H.P. 1020.
