"Bittersweet" To Be Shown At Alcyon

What the Wildhack Brothers don't do to the western metropolis of "Torpedo" is nobody's business—until Gene Autry comes to town and makes it his business! From this point on the action in "Melody Ranch" flies thick and fast. Screening at the Alcyon on this Friday and Saturday.

The music of Noel Coward, without doubt some of the most charming ever to reach the screen, finds its perfect interpreters in Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, the incomparable song team united again in the picturization of the Coward operetta, "Bittersweet," which will be presented this coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Outstanding as screen entertainment—don't miss it.

On Wednesday and Thursday you may see a double-feature program at the Alcyon. A new kind of newspaper story, one that hints at the temptations which beset the metropolitan press under the thumb of crooked politics is "Behind The News."

And, anyone who is looking for laughs today (and who isn't?) would do well to see "Always a Bride." The picture, which stars Rosemary Lane and George Reeves, is a frolicsome tale of a lady who finds that she's promised to marry two suitors.
