H. P. Woman's Club Has Painting Done By Prize Winner

Edward K. Williams, noted Hoosier artist, whose painting "Spring" is the property of the Highland Park Woman's Club, was awarded first prize in the 17th annual Hoosier Salon, which opened in the picture galleries at Marshall Fields on January 27. He was awarded $500 for his painting "Valley Road," which is highly typical of Brown county, one of the most picturesque of Indiana's beauty spots, and the scene of the most widely known "art colony" in the middle west.

Mr. Williams and his wife lived for a number of years with their daughter, Mrs. Frank Russo and family in Deerfield.

Many Highland Park homes displayed paintings done by this noted artist.

Emily Taft Douglas To Speak Monday Before Sisterhood

North Shore Congregational Israel Sisterhood will hold a regular monthly meeting on Monday, February 17, at the Temple, Lincoln and Vernon avenues, Glencoe.

The motto for the day might well be "come early and stay late," as there will be Red Cross and hospital sewing from 9:30 a.m. on. Rabbi Charles E. Shulman will interpret current events for those around the lunch table. A business meeting will follow, after which at 2:15 Mrs. Benedict K. Goodman, program chairman, will present Emily Taft Douglas, daughter of Lorado Taft, and wife of Paul Douglas, professor of political science at the University of Chicago and crusading member of the Chicago City Council.

The Home Arts Craft will display and offer for sale handmade articles at this meeting.
