

Dumaresq Spencer Post To Conduct Defense Registration

The present survey of civilian defense functions in modern warfare being made in England by an American Legion mission is directly connected with the voluntary national defense registration of the nation's 1,078,119 Legionnaires, and thousands of unaffiliated World War veterans, scheduled for February 17 at the Legion Home, 21 N. Sheridan road.

This was the statement here today of Commander George Abernathy of the Dumaresq Spencer Post No. 145 of this city, who has started the machinery rolling for the local registration. He added:

"The American Legion mission overseas is headed by National Commander Milo J. Warner. He is accompanied by Past National Commander Franklin D'Olier and Major General Frank Parker, U.S.A., retired, a member of the Legion's national executive committee.

"The findings of this mission will frame the pattern of future American Legion home defense activities. What this mission will learn overseas will serve to supplement the American Legion's present efforts with additional plans for civilian defense activities."

Commander Abernathy said that the American Legion mission is studying civilian programs in Great Britain, particularly the development of aircraft warning and air raid precautionary services. It will investigate also the emergency services being rendered by members of the British Legion, which is an organization of British World War veterans corresponding to the American Legion.

"The American Legion already in recent months has been called upon to contribute volunteers in a number of major army maneuvers or aircraft warning services. Only last month more than 2,600 Legionnaires served in such capacity in the New York City area.

Activities in the field of aircraft warning will be carried on by the American Legion in close cooperation and coordination with the officials of the national defense establishments. An air raid precautionary service, however, will be primarily an American Legion activity but worked out with the cooperation of all citizens within the community who are not eligible for military service.

Of course, the American Legion will help and is now helping the government in many other ways in preparing the nation for total defense. That is one reason for our voluntary registration of all Legionnaires and veterans. We want to have a complete index of the qualifications of all our members so that we can place this information in readily available manner at the disposal of the Federal, state and local governments.

Local Post Ready

The American Legion in this city will undertake to register all Legionnaires and unaffiliated World War veterans in this community and surrounding area.

"This is a summons for possible important service to God and Country whom we served as young men in 1917-18," Commander Abernathy of the local post said. "I feel certain that every Legionnaire and World War veterans generally will welcome this opportunity of perhaps doing another bit for their country. We do not expect to be called for active military service. Most of us are beyond that age. But there are many home defense duties to be performed.

"I urge every Legionnaire and other interested World War veterans in this community to register on February 17. If you are going to be out of town on that date, fill out your questionnaire before you leave. It is a patriotic duty, and we of the American Legion have never shirked our duty, or lagged in our patriotism. The time has come again when we may be called upon once more to stand for America, and I am sure every Legionnaire in this community is ready."

Appointment of a special committee to handle the voluntary registration of all local Legionnaires and World War veterans generally for possible future national defense service as part of the nationwide American Legion preparedness for any emergency, was announced here today. Miller Schreiner was named as chairman of the special national defense registration committee. Other members of the committee are: Henry Hansen, Paul Webb, Harry Eichler, George Abernathy, Harry Aiston, Bill Acker.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

In the great Parisian restaurants, where, as a guest chef, I studied the culinary secrets that were to make Rector's gastronomically supreme, I learned one "must"—always use the finest ingredients. And so, when in my recipes I suggest MOR, it is because this juicy, tender, spicy, smoked pork-meat (made by the makers of Wilson's Tender Made Ham) has a deliciousness I have truly not found in other canned meats of this type.

HEART SHORTCAKE
For the Valentine shortcake layers, I suggest you use Bakerite, Wilson's new creamy vegetable shortening which gives cakes a very tender texture.
It is easy to cut heart-shaped cake layers with the help of a home-made paper pattern.

A tender juicy cut is pork shoulder. Roast it fat-side-up in an open pan 25 minutes per pound in a 350° F. oven. This is the same juicy, tender shoulder meat Wilson & Co. use to make MOR, the new canned meat product that comes ready to slice and eat, or fry, or bake. The pork shoulder meat in MOR has been cured, cooked, and deliciously spiced. It is made by the makers of Tender Made Ham.

For an easy to fix meal try baked MOR
Place 1 can of MOR in a baking dish. Sprinkle with brown sugar and Clear Brook Butter. Heat in a 350° F. oven for 30 minutes. As accompaniment serve candied sweet potatoes, or (as in illustration) broiled onion slices with asparagus tips.

"MOR" PEP TO YOUR MEALS For breakfast . . .
do as exclusive restaurants do: serve fried MOR with eggs, pancake or French toast.

12 o'clock . . . and no lunch ready?
How about a toasted sandwich of MOR, tomatoes and cheese?

Economy dinner . . .
sliced MOR and potatoes, scalloped together.

TRICK OF THE WEEK, add diced and fried Wilson's Certified Bacon to cooked peas. Delicious flavor!
Till next week, good-bye.—G.R.
