WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

When Sarah Bernhardt dined at Rector's, what did she enthuse over? Not the beruffled dishes for which our imported chefs were imported. But griddle cakes and sausages—"so teepical Americaine"! Because of the sweet, juicy pork used and the special herb seasoning, Rector's sausages were the aristocrats of the pork world. Today a visiting celebrity could get as big a taste thrill from Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links. For these sausages are made of choice pork, expertly seasoned.

FIRESIDE MEAL

The idea is to desert your regular dining place for the most comfortable spot in your house. It may be beside the fireplace or in a sunny alcove. Spread table or tables informally there and serve:

- *Hot Spiced Fruit Cup
- †Spinach Ring with Hominy and Fried Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausages
- Water-cress and Grapefruit Salad with Wilson's Savory Mayonnaisse
- ‡Whipped Cream Angel Food Cake

*To make fruit cup, simmer 1 dozen cloves, 2 sticks cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg in 1 qt. canned fruit juice for five minutes. Strain and serve piping hot.

†SPINACH RING

To 4 cups finely chopped spinach add 1/2 cup Clear Brook Butter, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Press into buttered ring mold. Keep hot. Unmold onto hot platter. Fill center of this Spinach Ring with hot seasoned hominy. On top of the hominy arrange 1 dozen fried Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links.

‡WHIPPED CREAM ANGEL FOOD CAKE

Into 1 cup of cream, stiffly whipped, fold carefully the beaten whites of 3 Clear Brook Eggs. Add 1/2 cup water and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Then add 2 cups of flour which have been sifted three times with 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bake in layers at 350° F. for about 30 minutes. Use lemon filling and icing.

BIG MOMENTS WITH LITTLE SAUSAGES

Fry Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links. Slice into half-inch rounds. Add to cream soups! Broil sausages with cooked sweet potato and peach halves... a juicy, flavory meal-in-one.

HAM HIT OF THE WEEK

Tucked warmly away in the memory of lots of us is the rich smoke flavor that a ham had when it was home-cured in the old smokehouse. Believe it or not, the flavor of Wilson's Certified Tender Extra Mild Smoked Ham is even more delicious and the ham is more tender, juicier and milder. Fry several slices for dinner tonight.

I'll be back come next March (next week).—G. R.
