

Naperville College Presents Musical Program In Deerfield

North Central College, Naperville, Ill., will provide the musical talent for the monthly vesper service at the Bethlehem Evangelical church, 815 Rosemary terrace, Deerfield, next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. A male quartet, reputed to be one of the finest musical groups at the college, will appear in a full musical program of sacred and semi-classical numbers. Jean Weber of Edgerton, Ohio, will accompany the group, and Rosemary Heiser of Chicago will read. In all, four states of the union will be represented.

During the past summer two of the members of the quartet traveled 15,000 miles on a concert tour which took them into many of the mid-western states, where they were highly acclaimed for their musical talent.

During the informal fellowship which follows the vesper service supper will be served by a committee of women headed by Mrs. Clifford Morgan. There will be community singing led by the minister. The students from North Central will put on a "College Nite" program during this period and new motion pictures will be shown of life on the campus of North Central College. The entire community is invited to participate in the program. A freewill offering will be received.

be opened until Saturday noon, only, to take care of the last minute rush. Commissioner Swanson stated that his department's two new trucks were now in operation and should materially decrease the truck repair bill with which the city has been constantly plagued in the past.

Oak Terrace P.T.A. Announces Movie For Meeting Mar. 4

The regular monthly meeting of the Oak Terrace P.T.A. will be held March 4 in the auditorium at 8 p.m. A sound motion picture on "Meat and Romance" will be shown. The motion picture is produced by the National Livestock and Meat Board. It is a result of the collaboration between authorities and meat and livestock industries and the North Shore Bureau of Home Economics. It is partly in color. It is very interesting as well as instructive to both men and women. Music and singing will precede the viewing of the picture. Election of officers will be held. Miss Early's 4th grade mothers and Miss Spink's 3rd grade mothers will be hostesses, with Mrs. Paul Pecar, Mrs. Ed Saielli and Mrs. D. Cheli as chairmen.

All members are urged to be present.

Childrens' Dept. — Biographies

February seems to have been singled out as the birthday month of many a famous character: Lincoln, Washington, Longfellow, Lamb, Boone, Dickens, Poe, Edison and others.

It is interesting to notice that many of them liked to read biographies; perhaps they felt that brought them close to life.—A good biography is more than a well-written story of a life, it is a needed inspiration. The fact that one person has met and conquered difficulties is a challenge to everybody.

Some old and new readable biographies in the library:

"Aulaire"—Abraham Lincoln.

"Aulaire"—George Washington.

Two colorful, authentic biographies for younger children.

"Benet"—Enchanting Jenny Lind. Facts and interesting episodes in the life of the Swedish Nightingale.

"Daugherty"—Daniel Boone. A vigorous account of America's number one frontier man.

"Daucher"—Edward MacDowell and his cabin in the woods. A simple story of our country's beloved composer.

"Gray"—Young Walter Scott. How a handicapped boy conquered the world.

"Hall"—Nansen. The story of a great explorer and humanitarian.

"Hawthorne"—Romantic rebel. The life of Nathaniel Hawthorne.

"Judson"—Boatbuilder. A biography of Robert Fulton.

"Keller"—The story of my life. Now a classic in our literature.

"McMurtie"—Wings for words. The story of printing, based on the life of Johann Gutenberg.

"Meadowcraft"—Boys' life of Edison. Imagination and science.

"Nolan"—Gay poet. The engaging, mischievous and lovable Eugene Field.

"Place"—Early American. The tale of Paul Revere, family father, silversmith, bellmaker, soldier, patriot and everything else.

"Proudfit"—Riverboy. A vivid biography of Mark Twain.

"Sandburg"—Abe Lincoln grows up. The prairie years of Lincoln.

Man of Action!

TELEPHONE people are trained to prepare in advance for emergencies. They are ready for action at any point and at any time—with lines and equipment to meet special communication needs as they arise.

To keep telephone service ahead of public need is one of the important jobs of the Illinois Bell organization of more than 25,000 men and women.

That is why telephone facilities have been ready when needed to meet the requirements of the greatest national defense program in our history. Swift and certain communication is vital to the success of this program, and your telephone company is prepared to furnish it.
