Center Table Tennis Team Plays Tie With Tom Kelly's Team

On Monday night last Tom Kelly and his three stairsteps, namely, Tom Kelly Jr., Jim Kelly and Bob Kelly invaded the Community Center for a match with the local Table Tennis squad. The two teams were battling fiercely with the result a draw when the lights went out sometime after 10 o'clock. Participating for the Community Center team were Howard Bowman, Charles Nixon, H. C. Betts, Bill Mangam and Dick Cole.

An interesting feature of the matches was the fact that Tom Kelly Jr. did not lose a single match during the entire evening of play.

Negotiations are under way for a return match with the Lake Bluff Town and Tennis club to be held at the Community Center next Monday night at 7:30.

Kenneth Bennett II
On Quiz Program

Kenneth C. Bennett, II, 13 year old freshman at Highland Park High school, appeared last evening on the Quiz Kids program at 7 p.m. over WLS and the National Broadcasting company network.

Kenneth, who is a graduate of Ravinia school, where he was an outstanding student, was recommended by Clark G. Wright, superintendent of School District No. 108 to appear in the radio knowledge contest. He recently appeared in a test program and was accepted.

The youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Bennett, 1640 Dean avenue. His mother is Rowena Bennett, who conducts the North Shore Creative Writing Class, edits a magazine and is writer of children's poems and stories.

Milwaukee WPA
Handicraft Display
At Woman's Club

The Art exhibit for this month at the Highland Park Woman's club is a handicraft display from the Milwaukee W.P.A. handicraft project. This project produces originally designed craft articles for use only in tax-supported institutions. Eighty-five percent of the articles are distributed to schools for display to the art classes.

A group of unemployed young designers with previous art training create the designs for all of the articles produced while some 300-3,000 unemployed workers who have had no previous art training execute the designs.

The project was started in 1935 and is considered an important one as it gives these workers an opportunity to associate with articles of taste and discrimination hitherto unknown to them; it puts a value upon creative design by producing only original articles; and it considers design and craftsmanship of equal importance.

This exhibit was collected from the articles so produced and is being loaned all over the country to stimulate interest in creative design and craftsmanship and a better appreciation for well designed articles. Mrs. Clarence J. Bassler, chairman of the Art department of the club, personally went to Milwaukee to secure this outstanding exhibit for the club to enjoy.

Included in the exhibit are black and screen printed textiles, upholstery fabrics, hooked rugs, handwoven textiles, table linens, toys, games, dolls, furniture and pictures. Some of the books for children which are especially bound include songs, the words and music of which are written by first grade children. The printed textiles are extremely interesting from the standpoint of original designs of bold, striking figures executed in South American colors.

Beauty is restful, and in rest is Solace

Here, where the world is quiet, is Peace — earthly and spiritual, and grief is lessened by the natural beauty that is an all-wise Creator's gift to mankind.

Serious thinking concerning the final resting place for yourself and family should be done NOW before compulsion interferes with making a good and wise selection.
