Highland Park Girl Scout Troop 7 of Lincoln school held their first birthday party Tuesday afternoon, March 4, with an entertainment followed by refreshments.

The following were presented second class badges: Mary Adler, Portia Allen, Margery Baker, No-rene Harrison, Ann Bradley, Georgia Ann Glader, Joan St. Gyr, Ruth St. Cyr, Ann Templeton, Grace Van Ornum, Theodora Zaeske, Ann Parsons, Nancy Zipoy, Patsy Barton and Marian Clark. Delores LeGoff was invited into the troop.

A Call to Grown-Ups

Girls can become Girl Scouts only when each unit has proper adult sponsorship — which means there is a definite place in Girl Scouting for grown-ups.

Adults in Girl Scouting

More than 100,000 adults — men and women — are actively engaged in Girl Scout work in this country.

Girl Scout Uniforms

The Girl Scout uniform has changed color three times since the organization was founded on March 12, 1912. The first troops wore dark blue. Later khaki was the approved color. It was not until 1927 that the green uniform now worn by the organization's half million members became the official Girl Scout dress.

Scouts Are Homemakers

Conservative people looked askance at the first Girl Scout troops, fearing a cult of tomboyism. Girl Scout records show, however, that since the movement was founded in 1912, homemaking activities, including cooking, sewing and child care, are the most popular of Girl Scout activities. In 1940, more than 100,000 merit badges for proficiency in homemaking were awarded.

Historic Phone Call

"The call that helped a million girls" was the phone call made March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia, by Mrs. Juliette Low, inviting school girls to the first Girl Scout meeting in the United States.

Growth of Girl Scouting

The first Girl Scout troop in the United States was organized March 12, 1912, and had fewer than 20 members. Today there are more than 633,000 members and an "alumni" group of more than a million.

Men Aid Girl Scouting

The number of men taking an active interest in Girl Scouting is increasing every day. They serve on local councils and meet with troops as hobby experts.

You Can, Too

Mrs. Chester G. Marsh, national arts and crafts adviser for the Girl Scouts, believes that anyone can draw — and can prove it!

Historic Meeting

The first Girl Scout troop met on March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia, home of the founder of the movement in the United States, Juliette Low.

Bannockburn Village Ticket Not Contested

The Village of Bannockburn will have a quiet election with no opposition on April 15. The following ticket has been filed with the village clerk, Thomas Alder:

For Village President — Edward R. Seese.

For Village Clerk — G. M. (Bucky) Harris.

For Trustees four year terms — George Stanwood, Edwin M. White and Laurence V. Meyering.

Hold-over trustees who remain on the board for another two years are Anthony F. Nosek, Albert W. Torbet and Kenneth F. Towler. Harold Norman is the attorney for the board. Retiring trustees are R. W. Farmer, Harry T. Wright and Paul A. Potter.

Deerfield Bowling Academy

Four girl teams from O'Farrell's Recreation in Waukegan will meet four girls teams from the Deerfield Bowling Academy in a match game at the Deerfield Academy at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Sunday evening the alleys will be open to the public for open bowling at 6 p.m.

Three Hurt In Crash On Skokie, Monday

Three persons were slightly injured Monday evening, in a car crash at Skokie Blvd. and Prairie avenue.

A car driven by George W. Beaudoin, 43, of Stephenson, Mich., crashed into the rear of a car driven by Arthur J. Carlson, 48, of 3239 Damen avenue, Chicago, who had stopped for the Prairie avenue traffic signal. Both cars were headed north.

Beaudoin suffered face lacerations;

Mervin L. Wetton, 54, 323 Case street, Higunee, Mich., leg bruises, and Tom Beaton, Jr., 44, Escanaba, Mich., leg bruises.

That blitz rampage of two modern "Carrie Nations." They decided slot-machines and dice were making too many homes unhappy, so they cracked down with hatchet and hammer, and bang! Down went the town's lid. Read why they did it, and how, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

RECIPES

If I had my way, I'd sprinkle a few homemakers among those spending Uncle

Sam's billions, to make sure of extra-economical buying. For few men shop as carefully as their wives. I was impressed by this recently when a group of club women told me they always bought Wilson's Tender Made Ham because it requires but 5 minutes per pound in the oven and so with no wasteful oven shrinkage they get about 25% more ham servings from Tender Made than from ordinary hams.

BROILED TENDER MADE HAM AND ORANGES

Cut oranges in half. Loosen the segments. Flavor with sugar, butter and cinnamon. Butter both sides of an inch-thick Tender Made Ham steak with Clear Brook Butter. Broil, together with orange halves, in a 400° F. oven. Remove oranges when brown. Broil ham 7 minutes on each side. Serve ham on platter surrounded by broiled oranges.

ST. PATRICK'S SUGGESTION

For the "wearin' of the green" serve a cream of spinach soup on March 17.

BREAKFAST THE AMERICAN WAY

Ask a hundred people to recall the most delicious breakfast of their childhood. 77 will say, "Griddle cakes and sausages." For there's something about perfect pork sausages that tugs at your memory like the old swimmin' hole.

And when I say "perfect pork sausages" I mean Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links. They're juicy, tender, perfectly seasoned.

Looking over my recipe files at Wilson's yesterday I came across a favorite recipe, SAUSAGE PUFF.

Fry 1 pound Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links. Dice ½ pound, reserve the rest. Arrange 6 slices of bread (crusts removed) in a greased casserole, sprinkling the diced sausages and some of the sausage fat over each layer. Combine 2 cups warm milk, 5 Clear Brook Eggs (beaten slightly), and ¼ teaspoon salt. Pour this over the bread. Lay remaining sausages on top. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) for 1 hour. Serves 6 to 8 people.

RECTOR RECOMMENDS that spring delicacy, Boned Shoulder of Lamb, roasted. See you next week. G. R.
