Same dates as above—$19 and $20, respectively.

Only one-half of the cost of camp is paid for by the parent—the other half is paid for through the Council budget. This low rate can be arranged only because the Council owns the camp and is a non-profit organization.

Under excellent leadership, the daily program is so arranged that each Scout has a chance to do the things he wants to do most. No matter what he has in mind, there are the advantages and staff to help him reach his objective . . . and the eats cannot be made better.
