CIVIC CHORUS GROUP MEET SEPTEMBER NINTH

The coming season of the Highland Park Civic Chorus will be the most important season in the organization's history of effort in behalf of young singers, plans by the Concert committee show.

The idea being developed is of a series of weekly programs to be held in the spring to select the three outstanding local voices which, as finalists, will appear with the chorus in the annual spring concert. Scholarships, which will be awarded by the concert committee, will give the young people a definite goal toward which to work. Any persons interested in appearing in these weekly concerts may call the music director, Mr. Harold Betts, or the music committee chairman, Mrs. John Rink.

First rehearsals for the November concert will be held on Tuesday night, Sept. 9, at the Community Center. Memberships are still open and the membership chairman, Mr. K. C. Bennett, may be contacted for details. The Highland Park Civic chorus attempts to give an opportunity to sing together to those persons who enjoy singing but do not necessarily have outstanding voices. A voice placement test is required in order to maintain balance in the group.
