N. U. and Notre Dame Will Meet Saturday

Northwestern and Notre Dame will clash at Dye stadium Saturday (Nov. 15) in the 22nd game of a football rivalry which has few equals for hard fought encounters and brilliant individual performances.

Although the Irish hold a top-heavy edge of 15 victories against four for the Wildcats (two games ended in ties) the games almost without exception have been stubbornly contested affairs. This tradition for producing thrill packed encounters is one reason why the two teams will clash before a capacity crowd of 47,000.

800 Navy Men Will Enjoy Thanksgiving

In line with their national program for volunteer service in the cause of National Defense, Alpha Chi Omega alumnae of the North Shore and Chicago area are busily engaged in campaigning for "a dinner for every man" to provide for about 800 Navy men at Abbott Hall who will be away from home at Thanksgiving. It is the plan of the Alpha Chi Omega alumnae to obtain homes for these boys where they may enjoy a real home-cooked Thanksgiving dinner. Many families whose sons have been called into Service are welcoming this opportunity of entertaining some one else's son who is away from home at this time. Mrs. Porter Heaps and Miss Florence Little, social chairmen of the alumnae, of Evanston, have been contacting various prominent organizations of this area and the response has been more than gratifying. It is hoped that by Thanksgiving Day all 800 boys will be accommodated. Miss Florence Little of Evanston is in charge of the reservations and may be reached at Davis 2316.

City Designated As Defense Area By War Department

Over 800 WPA recreation leaders and workers are being mobilized in Illinois for service under the new $5,000,000 National Defense Recreation Project, recently certified by the War Department and sponsored by the Federal Security Agency, Illinois WPA Administrator Charles P. Casey announced today.

These are the state's contribution to a corps of 5,000 trained workers, being assembled all over the country for special recreation service in military defense areas and adjacent communities. The Illinois WPA personnel will be assigned at first to approximately 20 locations specified as defense areas by the War Department. They are: Alton, Belleville, Champaign, Decatur, E. Alton, E. Moline, E. St. Louis, Glenview, Great Lakes, Herrin, Highland Park, Highwood, Joliet, Moline, Rantoul, Rockford, Rock Island, Savanna, Urbana, Waukegan and Wilmington. As the need increases, other communities may be added to this list on recommendation of the Federal Security Administration and by certification from the War Department.

Organization of this new project is being perfected by J. Lloyd Baird, WPA State Director of Recreation. The WPA recreational leaders will work under the auspices of local committees.

The new project, states Mr. Casey, is distinct from other agencies now operating in recreation for service men, and is also designed to cover community needs.

IT'S difficult to write calmly and critically about Walt Disney's "Dumbo"—in fact, it's practically impossible. This story of the baby elephant with the over-size ears, who's born into a circus and made miserable by the other animals because of those same ears, is completely enchanting. There's Timothy Mouse, successor to Jiminy Cricket; there's the band of black crows, there's the squealing circus engine—and there's the really lovely sequence in which pink elephants dance. Every moment of this hour-long picture is delightful—no two ways about it, you'll have to see "Dumbo."

Jean Phillips, once Jean Harlow's stand-in, had moved from a bit to a co-starring role in just two pictures—she's the first stand-in since Adrienne Ames to become a leading woman, which is bad news for girls who hope to climb to stardom by that route. Her first break came when she was cast in "Among the Living"; that performance earned her the second lead in "The Morning After." Now she's co-starred with Macdonald Carey in "Dr. Broadway." Her resemblance to Ginger Rogers blocked her career when she first went to Hollywood.

Glenda Farrell is happy. She's signed to play the ex-sweetheart of a gangster in "Johnny Eager"; says she's fascinated by the part, and GLENDIA FARRELL also wants to do it because the picture is being directed by Mervyn LeRoy, who gave her her first part in films.

Irving Berlin has written 14 new songs for "Holiday Inn," more than have ever before been turned out in a single picture. Bing Crosby will sing some of them, Fred Astaire will dance to them. The score includes two old Berlin favorites, "Easter Parade" and "Lazy."

Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant will co-star in RKO's production of Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," with an original score by Oscar Straus, the Viennese composer. If you want to see another version of the same story right away, you can go to Metro's "The Chocolate Soldier," with Nelson Eddy and Rise Stevens, of the Metropolitan Opera company. It's Miss Stevens' screen debut, and Metro executives feel sure that the public will take her to their hearts.

Remember the parting of the Red sea in C. B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments"—or the chariot race in "Ben Hur"—or the earthquake in "San Francisco"? Mr. DeMille thinks he's added a memorable sequence to that list—the squid fight in "Reap the Wild Wind." Ray Milland and John Wayne, in diving suits, are exploring the hull of a wrecked vessel in a search for Susan Hayward when they encounter the sea monster. Mr. DeMille donned a diving suit and directed the scenes, in a huge tank. For other scenes in the picture he descended 20 feet into the Pacific, to the ocean floor. Said it was the only way he could get the eerie realism that he required.

Who'd be your choice to portray Will Rogers in Warner Bros. film of his life, made from the book, "Uncle Clem's Boy"? At present Stuart Erwin, Spencer Tracy and Roy Rogers, Republic's Western star, are under consideration. It's said that Mrs. Rogers prefers Tracy, though Erwin's supporters urge that he's a better choice because he resembles the famous comedian and philosopher.

ODDS AND ENDS—Paramount will star Charles Boyer and Veronica Lake in "Hong Kong," a romantic story played against modern, war-torn China. . . . Ginny Simms has just been made an honorary colonel of Southern California district, American Legion. . . . We hear that Tony Martin said he was "ready and willing" to enter the army, even though an appeal from his draft classification had been filed. . . . RKO's "Mexican Spitfire at Sea" brings you not only the team of Lupe Velez and Leon Errol, but Tom Pitts, Elizabeth Risdon, Charles (Buddy) Rogers, Eddie Dunn and Harry Holman as well.
